

DEADLOCK IN FONTANELLES

Benson Leads in Balloting for Mayor, but is Voted Short of Majority.

SIXTEEN EFFORTS TO SELECT CANDIDATE

Efforts of the Benoitites to Stymie the Organization Fail and Indications Bear Out Predictions of a Split in the Club.

Hours of balloting, caucusing, consultation and conference last night left the board of government of the Fontanelle club still divided as to who should have the endorsement of the club for the republican nomination for mayor.

The Benoitites went into the conference last night well organized and determined. They stuck by their candidate from start to finish with no show of weakening, and professed to feel confident that time adjustment was taken that victory would ultimately be theirs.

Neither of these votes is decisive, and the powers that be in the club will spend another week in setting up the pins and fling things, as on next Saturday night another effort will be made to name a candidate for the club.

How They Line Up. Tom Blackburn, Harry Brome and Harry Burnett have been the chief engineers of the Benson boom, but have met with much opposition in the Fontanelle councils.

Indications of a Split. It was predicted last week the effort to endorse a candidate for mayor would lead to a split in the club, and the developments seem to justify that prediction.

Much friction was engendered at the meeting last night. Telephone calls and messages were sent after the meeting, and every effort was made to muster up enough votes to make one or the other of the candidates, but without success.

What Sulphur Does For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cathartic, and it was the only medicine that was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur.

In recent years, research and experiment have proven that the best cure for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafer.

They are small, chocolate-coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur were often worse than the disease, and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcium Wafer is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidotes for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins, while experimenting with sulphur remedies, soon found that the sulphur from Calcium was superior to any other form. He says: "I have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

HARRIMAN'S TRIP A GREAT FEAT

Analysis of the Railroad Run Recently Made Shows Its Wonderful Character.

Although E. H. Harriman had given it out that no attempt was to be made in his trip across the continent, the record on land or sea, still the continuous trip was the fastest that was ever accomplished over the route.

The party consisted of Mr. Harriman and daughters and Miss Alice Roosevelt, and Mr. Harriman gave imperative instructions that the safety and comfort of his guests were to be the first consideration throughout the journey.

In spite of the way that the engines were held back, the time from Yokohama to New York, thirteen and three-quarters days, is considered a remarkable achievement. The good ship Siberia beat all records for an ocean voyage between Yokohama and San Francisco, maintaining for a distance of 4,863 miles an average of 18.12 knots per hour, arriving approximately four days and twelve hours ahead of the regular schedule.

The special train consisted of six cars, composite car, baggage and dynamo car and four private compartment cars, including Mr. Harriman's car Arden. The rail journey of 3,293 miles was made in seventy-three hours and twelve minutes, the route being the Southern Pacific to Ogden, the Union Pacific from Ogden to Omaha, the Northern Pacific from Omaha to Chicago, the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern from Chicago to Buffalo and the Erie from Buffalo to Jersey City.

An average speed of 23.7 miles an hour was maintained for the entire trip of 7,733 miles, including all stops. When the extent of the ocean voyage is considered the trip across the bay, the crossing of both the Sierra and Rocky mountains, a journey over five large systems of railroads, requiring the use of thirty different locomotives, such a performance to be pulled off without a hitch of any kind, speaks wonders for the organization of the system.

CHAS. NORRIS DRINKS POISON Was Thrown Into Despondent Mood by Arrest of Wife for Fighting at a Dance.

Charles Norris, up stairs of 1748 St. Mary's avenue, attempted his life Saturday afternoon by drinking chloroform after brooding several days over the humiliation of the arrest of his wife, Sadie Norris, at a dance at Creighton hall last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Norris and her mother rent rooms at the number mentioned. Norris was yardmaster at a South Omaha cooper shop for two years, quitting his position a week ago. Last Thursday Mrs. Norris attended a dance at Creighton hall, where she met Miss Amy Canfield, who lived at the Norris apartments and who, according to the Norris woman's story, told the roomers stories about Mrs. Norris.

When the latter was referred to the alleged slander, which was resented by Miss Canfield with a slap. Officer Woodruff, who was on duty at the dance, put the women out of the hall, and then the women renewed the trouble on the street, both being arrested by the officer for disturbing the peace by fighting.

Mrs. Norris furnished a cash bond of $20, while Miss Canfield gave $12 for her appearance, but both bonds were forfeited in court Saturday morning as the parties did not appear for trial.

Mrs. Norris said Saturday afternoon that she was agreed with her husband to drink Saturday morning.

About 3 p. m. Saturday Norris asked to kiss his wife good bye, after which he went into the bath room and held the door when Mrs. Norris and her mother tried to enter. When they did enter the man had swallowed an ounce of chloroform, which he dashed the empty bottle against the bath tub.

BURGARS STILL IN BUSINESS Several Residences in the North Portion of the City Are Visited.

Burgars secured booty of greater value during their Saturday night depredations than any other night netted them since they became active a week ago. The house-breakings have all been in neighborhoods which are not, as a rule, thoroughly policed, and the houses chosen in each case have been temporarily vacant, the occupants being out for the evening or a longer period.

The greatest loser Saturday night was Henry W. Clark, who lives at 239 Wirt street. While the family was absent, burglars broke in and thoroughly ransacked the house, taking several articles of jewelry, the total value of which probably amounts to $50. Officer Rinn went to the house as soon as the robbery was reported and secured a list of the goods stolen, but could not find any trace of the men.

Another victim was C. D. Van Court, 1902 W. 12th street, whose home was broken into while no one was at home. Evidence of the intrusion were discovered as soon as the family returned, and it was found that a sealbox cap was missing. C. N. Wherry, 2419 Spencer street, found that thieves had been in the house, when he returned with his family, and investigation disclosed the absence of $6 in cash and a woman's gold watch.

In none of these instances could anyone be found who had seen any suspicious characters lurking about, but it is believed from the methods employed that the same parties have been in and out of the houses during the week had a hand in Saturday night's work. All of these burglaries were committed between the hours of 7 and 11 o'clock.

DR. MINOR MORRIS TALKS

Lays Cause of Trouble for Himself and Wife on Congressman Hull.

SAYS REMOVAL W. S. INSPIRED BY RELATIVE

Does Not Ask Reinstatement, but Desires to Disprove Charges Made Against Him by Brother-in-Law.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—"This White House outrage is a burning shame and a national disgrace," Dr. Minor Morris, husband of Mrs. Morris, was forcibly removed from the executive offices Thursday last and taken to the house of detention.

Mrs. Morris arrived here early today and found his wife still confined to her bed, suffering from nervous shock, but much improved. He was indignant at the way in which his statements as to what he proposed to do.

Mrs. Morris' condition was such that she was permitted to receive newspaper men in her room, where she and Dr. Morris discussed with them the story of her estrangement from Mrs. Morris and her brother, Representative Hull, and which has led to much personal bitterness, crimination and recrimination.

According to Dr. Morris, he was removed from the surgeon general's office on charges filed by Representative Hull at a time when Mrs. Morris was in the hospital at Pueblo, Colo., to get at certain facts pertaining to the will which she alleged, had not been made to appear in the case.

Wanted an Investigation. It was these charges, Dr. Morris said, that Mrs. Morris desired the president to have investigated. Her husband's efforts to have the then secretary of war, Root, and other officials of the War department take action, in view of their refusal to act, Dr. Morris said, the president was the only person left to whom she appeal.

Desired, he added, was a vindication of the charges filed by his brother-in-law rather than a reinstatement. Acting on the advice of friends, it is probable that Dr. Morris will address a letter to the president, urging him to investigate not only the charges against Hull, but also certain officers of the War department who are alleged to have permitted themselves to be improperly influenced in his case.

"I do not desire a reinstatement to my position," he said, "but I do desire these charges looked into. They are unjust and false." "According to my present determination I feel that so far as the treatment of Mrs. Morris is concerned I will take no action, believing that the sympathetic letters and telegrams which have been received from friends and strangers from all parts of the country, as well as the attitude of many newspapers on the subject, have accomplished more than could be done if a protest were to be made to the president."

Reply by Mr. Hull. Representative J. A. T. Hull of Iowa, whose sister, Mrs. Minor Morris, was elected from the White House on Thursday, made a statement today concerning his troubles with Mrs. Morris. At the time Mrs. Morris was removed from the White House she was endeavoring to see President Roosevelt that she might have her husband reinstated as a clerk in the War department, and in interviews she and her husband have charged that Mr. Hull was responsible for Dr. Morris' removal.

The deplorable events of the past two days seem to render it necessary for me to make a statement. In the beginning I deplore the death of the brother-in-law of the public for the members of my family prominently connected with the affair. I cannot believe the public specially interested in the domestic difficulties of anyone and ground for the removal of making any statement whatever. I certainly would not say or do anything which would unnecessarily reflect on my sister and ask those who may read what I have to say to cast the mantle of charity over all of us.

The trouble began when my sister and father and has been continuous since. It is charged that I violated the provisions of his will. This I do not believe. I will do the will, and I understand it is further charged that I violated the provisions of his will. These are very serious charges, and if true I would not be entitled to even associate with decent people, and I will take the matter up in the order in which it has come into my mind.

My father left me executor of the estate without bonds. He gave me envelopes purporting to be, and I received, two envelopes, one of which was a check for $10,000, the first paper was placed in my hands. On the death of my father, I received the same to the probate judge at Pueblo, Colo. Both the will and the check were deposited both were properly filed. My sister employed an attorney to look after her interests, but I did not. I did not look after the estate, and not hearing from him wrote to the probate judge direct.

The statement of the probate judge, from Horton Pope, the judge, saying the codicil was found in a separate envelope and had been overlooked. It also includes a sworn statement from the deputy clerk of Pueblo county, Colorado, which shows that Mr. Hull was not the executor, but as executor. The statement continues:

Even this did not stop the controversy. My brother, M. A. Hull, and his wife, Mrs. M. A. Hull, were all over two years. It was understood by all of the children that whatever father left should go to my brother, but my brother, M. A. Hull, contributed an equal amount for my father's support, but I did not get credit for this, and only mention it as an explanation of the charge filed. He presented his claim for $15,000, and I was supported during the time he cared for father. Afterwards he claimed the amount of $19 per week. The court allowed the full amount, after it was contested for two years by my brother, M. A. Hull, and used no effort whatever to influence the court, except the bare statement of the probate judge.

After reproducing the court's findings the statement concludes: On family matters I cannot enter into any controversy with others. There are things which come into the lives of families which cause profound sorrow and regret, and the mantle of charity and silence can only make them endurable. I again bespeak the courtesy and consideration of the great public in considering the actions of my sister in this most regrettable affair.

Says Hull Avoids Facts. Dr. Morris today gave out the following: "The statement of Mr. Hull to the public does not do justice to the facts. He definitely avoids them. The present issue is the outrage perpetrated on Mrs. Morris at the White House. The facts can be taken up at the proper time."

In Praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Very few medicines have received so much praise and so many expressions of gratitude as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Grateful parents everywhere testify to its merits. It is a certain cure for croup and will prevent the attack if given at the first appearance of the disease. It is especially adapted to children, as it is pleasant to take and contains nothing injurious. Mr. E. A. Humphreys, a well known resident and clerk in the store of Mr. E. Lock of Alice, Cape Colony, South Africa, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to ward off croup and cold in my family. I found it to be very satisfactory and gives me pleasure to recommend it."

CHICAGO WOMAN IS KILLED Boarder at Gentry Home Said to Have Been Guilty of the Crime.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Mrs. A. W. Gentry, aged 26 years, wife of the president of the United Trading and Supply company, was murdered today for some unknown reason by a man whom the police declare is F. J. Constantine, a boarder in the Gentry home.

Mrs. Gentry died before she could make a statement and Constantine fled or his coat and building without either his hat or his coat and is now being sought by the police. At the time of the murder Mrs. Gentry and Constantine were alone in the apartments at 322 La Salle avenue, where the Gentry family lived.

It is learned later in the day that Constantine is the son of a wealthy man living in New York City. It is reported also that he is a member of the firm of John Constantine & Son, whose place of business is situated in Harlem. The man was young and from the clothing and letters found in his room by the police it is evident that he had ample money. There was evidence that he had been stopping at the most expensive hotels in Pittsburgh, Boston and other eastern cities. So far as known he had no employment, but was living on money sent to him from New York.

The police have sent out the following description of Frank Constantine, who is wanted for the murder of Mrs. Gentry: "Twenty years old; height, five feet seven inches; weight, 135 pounds; of stocky build; dark complexion; full face; prominent nose; wore diamond stickpin in necktie."

"They are not getting the promised men and complaint about having been misled by the Typothetae is general. The eight-hour day will be established."

OLD SORES SAP THE VITALITY AND UNDERMINE THE HEALTH

Old Sores that refuse to heal are a constant menace to health. They sap the vitality and undermine the constitution by draining the system of its very life fluids, and those afflicted with one of these ulcers grow despondent and almost desperate as one treatment after another fails. They patiently apply salves, washes, plasters, etc., but in spite of all these the sores refuse to heal and eat deeper into the surrounding flesh, destroying the tissues and growing to be a festering, inflamed and angry mass. The source of the trouble is in the blood. This vital fluid is filled with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the sore or ulcer, making it impossible for the place to heal. It will not do to depend on external applications for a cure, because they do not reach the real cause, and valuable time is lost experimenting with such treatment; the most they can do is keep the ulcer clean. Any sore that will not heal is dangerous, for the reason that it may have the deadly germs of Cancer behind it. A cure can be brought about only through a remedy that can change the quality of the blood, and this is what S. S. S. does. It goes to the very bottom of the trouble, drives out the poisons and germs with which it is filled, and purifies and builds up the entire circulation. By the use of S. S. S. the sore is supplied with new, rich blood which corrects the trouble, heals naturally and permanently. S. S. S. also reinvigorates the entire system, and where the constitution has been depleted or broken down it quickly builds it up and restores perfect health. Write for our special book on sores and ulcers, and any medical advice you are in need of; no charge for either.
