CLOSE HIGHER AFTER STRONG RALLY

Wheat was higher today. At the open-ting those were still selling who sold yes-terday. The market did not take the wheat very well until the decline reached yes-terday's low point, where it steadled. Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—An unexpected large decrease in the world's visible supply of wheat was the chief factor contributing to a strong close today in the local wheat market. Pinal quotations on the May option were up to %60%c. Corn was up is 60%c. Cats were practically unchanged and provisions were 71%20%c lower.

During the first half of the session the wheat market was weak on reports of a decline at Liverpool, due to free offerings of Argentina wheat. Opening quotations of the local board were off vec for May at centina wheat. Opening quotations local board were off 1/2c for May at of the local board were off %c for May at ST&c. Prominent commission houses which were heavy sellers yesterday soid again to-day and pit traders joined in the movement. This forced the price of May down to 85%c before the noon hour. Jentiment then suddenly changed and for the remainder of the session a firm feeling prevailed. An exceptionally good demand was reported for cash wheat at all outside valled. An exceptionally good demand was reported for cash wheat at all outside markets and many inquiries were received from exporters. Bradstreet's weekly report on the world's available supply of wheat showed a decrease of 1,800,600 bushels, which was much larger than generally anticipated. This forced many shorts to cover freely and there was active buying both for the purpose of covering and by commission houses during the last hour. Offerings were readily absorbed and prices made a sharp raily. The May option rose to 875,6 and the market closed firm with May at 875,49875c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 705,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 620,000 bushels against 470,000 bushels one year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 52 cars against 855 cars last week and 272 cars one year ago.

The siump in wheat caused a slightly

The slump in wheat caused a slightly casier tone in the corn market carly in the day, but later a firmer feeling depend on fair demand from commission the day, but later a firmer feeling de-veloped on fair demand from commission houses, the strength of wheat and reports of weather favorable for the movement of the crop. The market closed firm with prices at the highest point of the day. May opened a shade higher at 44%c, sold off to 44%c44%c and then advanced to 44%c which was the closing quotation. Local receipts were 353 cars with 65 cars of contract grade.

Cats were easier early in the day in sympathy with other grains, but as the session advanced there was an improved denand from commission houses and the market became steadier. The close was firm. May opened $c lower at 32%, sold between 22023%c and 32%c and closed at 32% 32%c. Local receipts were 214 cars.

Provisions were subjected to a general selling pressure today and the market was weak. A decline of loc in the price of live longs brought out a large amount of offerings from the packers. At the close May pork was down 26c at $13.25%, Lard was off loc at $1.65. Ribs were 7%c lower at $5.57 erige. NEW YORK STOCKS AND BUNDS

Movement of Prices from Start to Finish is Conjused and Irregular.

SENSATIONAL RISE IN SOUTHERN IRON Rumor of the Absorption of the M., K. & T. by the Burlington Used with Effect to Advance Values.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The movement of prices in today's market was confused and freegular from start to finish and little remained of the gains at the end of the day. The pursuit of the movement to take profits was continued and many of the most prominent stocks in the recent movement was continued and many of the most prominent stocks in the recent movement was the resumption of buyins of some shares which were subjected to the profit taking in the early part of the day. There was little news to accompany the various movements and the explanations for them dealt more with techineal market conditions than with anything bearing on changes in actual values. While the December movement of prices carried the majority of shares to record levels there was a group of important securities which did not rise at any time within measurable distance of previous high records. These have been the favorites in the new speculative advances of yesterday and today. Pennsylvania and its allied railroads are notable examples, the present price level reading far below the maximum touched in former.

been the favorites in the new speculative advances of yesterday and today. Pennsylvania and its allied ralironds are notable examples, the present price level reading far below the maximum touched in former speculative campaigns. The recent movement of Atchison is given the same explanation, although the stock was inclined to rest today. In the United States Steel stocks a tendency was manifest to alternate from one to the other, yesterday's rise in the common giving place to steady realizing today, while the preferred was pushed upwards, with strong sentimental effect on the whole market.

The southern iron stocks made sensitional advances and rumors were revived upward widely and easily and old stories of coming extra disbursements and of new allegiances played a part in the movement. The rumor of absorption of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas by the Burlington and of the Kansas City Southern by St. Paul were used with effect. St. Paul itself was among the stocks which derived advantage from the previous failure to share in the advancing tendency. There were other wide movements, but the character of the factors which moved them was similar to that in the cases named. Meantime there was free realizing in Union Pacific, Reading, the Coppers and some other stocks. While the market thus continued to show a degree of mixed strength its action conveyed an imprension of more effect in sustaining off of the volume of activity added to this effect. The failure of a larger outside demand to appear was a disappointment to large holders of stocks. This was attributed to the almost universal belief that holiday holdings hang over the market, which were carried persistently through the December money stringency, but on which holders are waiting to take profits on any opportunity.

The money market showed some further relaxation, but the continued firmness of the factories of CATTLE. Receipts or cattle this morning were the largest of any day since December 18, close to 200 cars being reported in the yards. While there were some good loads in sight, there were pienty of the other kind.

Large receipts of beef steers and unfavorable advices from other seiling points caused inyers to take to the bear side of the deal and the market opened slow and dull. Opening bids were invariably lower and it was hard work to get them raised. Where buyers just happened to take a fancy to a certain lot of cattle they would offer steady prices, but on others they would bid fully loc lower. The market might be summed up as slow to Do lower.

The market on cows and heifers was in they would not rully lot lower. The market was summed up as slow to lot lower.

The market on cows and heifers was in just about the same shape as the steer market, the tendency being on the side of easier prices. There was a very fair demand, but there were so many cattle from which buyers could make selections that they were in no hurry to fill orders, in consequence the movement was slow, and it was late before sellers were able to dispose of all their holdings. Weak to lot lower would cover the state of the market as regards values.

Among the receipts was quite a sprinkling of stockers and feeders. The demand for desirable kinds of both stock cattle and feeders seemed to be quite brisk and the holders of such had very little dincuity in realizing steady prices. The common and undesirable kinds were rather duil.

Representative sales:

BEEF STEERS.

HOGS Receipts of large were the largest today that they have been so far this month is cars being reported on sale. The market was not to the liking of the selling interests, conditions all being against them. In addition to the large receipts, which constituted a good hear argument, reports from other selling points indicated lower markets everywhere. Moreover, the provision market was lower. With everything against them sellers were forced to take off to from vesterday's prices, but the movement was show at the decline and it was much later than usual before a clearance was effected. Even at the decline, however, prices were very good, as will be noted from the sales below.
