J. M. Guild, secretary of the South Omaha Live Stock exchange, states that a large delegation is getting ready to attend the Denver fat stock show, which is to be held n that city January 29 to February 1. From present indications South Omaha will be well represented. All the railroads have advertised half rates, Mr. Guild has secured headquarters for the delegation at the Albany hotel. Beside the stock show there are to be, three or four important conventions of live stock men in the city as the same time. There will be the annual convention of the American Stock Growers association, the National Live Stock assolation, the National Wool Growers' association and the Colorado Cattle and Horse Growers' association. These conventions will be on January 20 and 31 and Febru ary: L. W. D. Guilford, assistant general manager of the Denver fat stock show, was in the yards a few days ago in the interests of the coming event and he declared the show was going to be the biggest thing of the kind that ever happened in the west. Its success is already assured from the large number of entries made. Mr. Gullford says it will be a revelation to those who still think Denver is too far west to raise fat stock. Henry Gebhard. president of the Colorado Packing company of Denver, is also in the city. reports that the weather in Colorado has been very favorable to all kinds of stock, and tirat it all has wintered in the finest condition so far. This will make the exhibits at the show so much the better. Mr. Gulld expects to make a thorough canvass of the exchange this week and list all who wish to become part of the South Omana delegation. Quite a number have already expressed their destrmination to go. Horsethief Nabbed.

The South Omaha police made an im portant arrest yesterday when they took up William Danielson for horse stealing. On Tuesday night Dunielson and his partner, a man by the name of Basile LaGue. stole a fine team of horses from a farmer by the name of Thomas Merryweather, who lives on the edge of the county, just this side of Valley. As soon as they got possession they headed for South Oamha, intending to dispose of the horses as soon as they could. They reached here and before noon had put the horses up for sale They were willing to take almost any offer. The bay horse of the team they sold for $35 and the black for $45. It happened that a farmer who came into town from the west side of the county knew the porses to belong to his neighbor, Mr. Merryweather, and he gave the warning to the police. Soon after this the intelligence came from Valley to be on the lookout for the team and to take up the offenders. Chief Briggs and Captain Turnquist took the case in hand and soon succeeded in capturing Danielson. In the chief's office he made a full confession of the theft, which was taken in short hand by a stenographer. At first he denied that he had a partner, saying that he had done the whole thing, himself. However, he kept slipping in his talk until the officers compelled him to name the man who had helped him. After a time he did this and gave a good description of him. After his confessi the chief took him before a notary and oath and swore to the statement. police, are in hopes that they will take the partner in the crime before the

After some words she declared she would have revenge on him by taking her own life, and with that ran into the street and took some of the acid in her mouth. Not knowing what fatal results might follow Mr. Fleagle called the police and the doctor. Mrs. Fleagle now says that she was only trying to frighten

There has been some trouble between the men before and one or the other has been under arrest on other occasions. This morning Coleburg swore to a complaint of assault and battery, declaring that Norman was responsible for a couple of conspicuous black eyes which Coleburg exhibited to the court, and Norman was arrested. He swears that in this case he is not responsible at all, not having met Coleburg lately nor had an opportunity of handing him such a compliment. The barbers where Norman works all say that he had not been out of the house all day until arrested. Coleburg, however, is just as positive. It is thought that Coleburg got beaten during the night by someone else and is trying to put the blame on Nor-

HAND IN BINDER AND PRINTER FIGHT

Two Bills on Railroad Passes. Prohibiting Them and Another Making Their Issuance Mandatory.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 10,-(Special Telegram.)-The hand of the railroad lobby was made clear today in the proceedings of the at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. legislature, J. W. Blythe, general counsel of the Burlington, arrived last night and marshalled his forces. Well known railroad lobbyists of various lines were in consultation with him and today it became plain that in the plan to organize the thirtyfirst general assembly the first efforts were to be made on the state printer and binder Before the session was three days old the harmony talk was killed off and the fight was on. Dowell of Polk, a Cummins man, sizing up its complexion asked to be relleved and Dunham was named. It was proposed to have this committee report a bill extending the terms of the present nembers. This report will be made next Wednesday just before the joint caucus, thus killing off English's and Chassell's scheme to be elected for a full term now. It is further alleged that a plan to increase the elections committee to which was referred the primary election law, so that the majority of the committee would favor the law, was about to succeed until Blythe arrived in town and the game is now blocked.

Two Bills on Passes. In the senate today Hughes introduced an anti-pass bill and in the house Hanna introduced a pass bill. The Hughes bill prohibits corporations from giving passes or franks of any kind to public officials of any nature and prohibits alike asking for passes, fixing the penalty at not less than one year nor more than five years imprisonment and a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $1,000. The Hanna bill compells the railroads to give passes to all state officials, members of the legislature, congressmen and judges. The Hanna bill is taken as a joke in some quarters, but Representative Hanna professes that it is offered in good faith and claims it is legaliging what is already being done. There is a strong belief that an anti-pass bill of some kind will be enacted at this session and will not receive any opposition from the railroads. Some railroad members have expressed their determination to vote for it. Senator Dan Turner of Adams county is working on a bill and will introduce it in a

Woman's Trials.

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a wonfan's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous. In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the hearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and de-proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debilitating, estarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the 'Favorite Prescription' is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plant English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what the is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.
