Seasonable Weather More Than Offsets the Effect of Labor Troubles.

DEMAND FOR WINTER CLOTHING ACTIVE

Steel Mills Unable to Keep Pace With Call for Many Products and the Prices Advance for Immediate Delivery.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—R. G. Dun & Co's. weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

Seasonable weather more than offset the effect on business conditions of increased strife between labor and capital. Low temperature and snow brought out the backward demand for heavy weight wearing apparel and rubber goods, restoring the one larging trade factor, and the other departments of jobbing and manufacturing contine vigorously engaged in preparing for the future except where a few strikes produced healtation. Thus far these struggles have not affected any large percentage of the wage earners, while in other industries the higher scales effective January 1 have added to the purchasing power of many thousands of workers. Rallway blockades cause complaint in several important centers, yet carnings for December were R.2 per cent larger than in 1904. Foreign commerce relations at this port for the last week showed an increase of $3,223,053 over the exports a year ago, while imports decreased $97,47—a trifing loss after the sensational gain of the previous week. Annual reports are surpassing expectations in most cases, and actilements are made with desirable promptness.

Several advances in quotations of sicel shapes testify to the pressure that is felt in some directions of the iron and sicel industry, and it is especially gratifying to note that there is no evidence of speculative influence in the gains of one or two dollars per ton for sheet, plates and wire products. Inquiries in these departments have merely surpassed the supply available for prempt delivery.

Conditions show distinct improvement in the textile industries, business increasing as stock-taking is concluded, although buyers are still somewhat scarce in the primary markets for cotton. The raw material situation is thought a supporting influence. Irregularity has appeared in the hide market, branded hides being sold far ahead, while country hides are steady in the face of larger offerings, but some concessions are noted in packer variaties.

Failures this week n NEW YORK, Jan. 12.-R. G. Dun & Co's. weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

was made here tonight when the old foot ball rules committee, which for many years past has dictated the form the sport should take, voted to amalgamate with the new committee appointed by the so-called reform conference recently held in this city 5.5 at the invitation of the New York university and attended by the representatives of sixty colleges and universities throughout the country. The old and new committees met at separate hotels tonight, but soon after assembling committees were appointed to confer with each other. An agreement was reached and when the consolidation was perfected it was decided that Walter Camp of Yale should edit the new rules. Mr. Camp was a member of the old committee. L. C. E. Dennis of Cornell was elected chairman of the newly formed joint committee, and J. A. Babbitt of Haverford was chosen secretary, it having been agreed that the chairman should come from the old committee and the secretary from the new. Mr. Babbitt resigned in favor of W. T. Reid, jr., of Harvard, who was then unanimously chosen secretary.

Harvard Leaves Old Committee. A feature of the separate conferences was the appearance of Mr. Reid at a meeting of the new committee, Harvard having formally withdrawn from the old committee. Mr. Reid, in the joint organisation. therefore represents the new committee. The old committee was composed of representatives of Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Harvard, Cornell, Chicago and Annapolis, The joint committee is now made up as follows: L. C. E. This would leave the ends weak, but at the same time would make it possible for many plays through the center and more of a game with considerable running.

and outfought Rice, who, however, was game and gave a good exhibition. HERRERA WINS EASY VICTORY

Young Corbett Goes Down and Out In Fifth Round.

LOS ANGELES, Cal. Jan. 12—Aurelio Herrera of Bakersfield, Cal., knocked out Young Corbett in the fifth round tonight at the Pacific Athletic club pavillon. Herrera's victory was an easy one. Corbett's exhibition was disappointing. He lacked the vim and dash that had won so many battles for him, and his once forceful blows failed to inflict any damage on the well-conditioned body of his opponent.

In the fourth round Corbett showed a brief burst of his old-time form, twice forcing Herrera against the ropes and landing with both hands.

Early in the fifth round Herrera succeeded in countering solidly with his right on Corbett's jaw, and the Denver boy staggered. Quick as a flash the Californian was upon him and with a series of rights and lefts sent him to the floor. Corbett got up immediately, but again went down from a right swing that caught him on the side of the head. He struggled to his feet at the count of six and tried to clinch. Herrera pushed him against the ropes and setting himself, swung a vicious right flush to the Jaw. Corbett fell upon his face and lay in that position until he was counted out. The final odds in betting was 10 to 9, with Herrera favorite.

Dusty Miller is among the new ones listed by Mike Kelley for his Minneapolis team this year. What do you think of that? Ralph Glaze, the young Dartmout college pitcher, who has signed with the Bostor American for next season, will be given a American for next season, with ce given a thorough trying out as an all-round player with the hope of making him in the outfield. Robert Ganley, formerly with Des Moines and last season with Pittsburg, has written to Barney Dreyfuss that he will sign a contract with the Pittsburg team for next season. Ganley wrote from Omaha, where he has been visiting.

Out-of-town papers regard the declaring of a dividend by the Washington club an unusual incident in base ball. It may seem that way, but in the future the share-holders propose that it shall be the rule rather than the exception. Dividends are earned by producing good base ball.

Whether basket ball can be classed as a sport or whether it should take place with croquet and roller skating is a mooted question, but at any rate the game furnishes considerable exercise for the players. The city league is now going in good shape and regular games are played.

The foot ball rules committees come together today in the east and a great deal of wind will be exchanged, but yet some good may result. If the old committee will only amalgamate with the new from the "68" at least some new rules could be made which would make 'he game acceptable to all these colleges. The changes demanded are simply for a more rigid enforcement of the rules and for a more open game.

The latest philosophy of the critics who demanded are simply to a more forecement of the rules and for a more open game.

The latest philosophy of the critics who sit in the stand at bail games is that southpaw pitchers are deplorably erratic. Rube Waddell is held up as the prize instance of this kind; yet in the list are placed men in other positions: Jesse Burkett, Mike Donlin, Fred Tenney and Pat Dougherty. The critics says, too, that the commonly famous "iwisted" ones of the diamond, the fellows who are as tough as thorns, are nearly all left-handed hitters and throwors. To fortify their philosophy the critics insist there is a physical reason, based on the amatomy of the human system, and that only right-handed people are purely normal. Left-handed effort, they say, strains the internal mechanism to that extent that it shows in the outward action, mentally and physically. As yet the left handers are to have the floor.
