Whether Mr. trouble last winter Bryan or Mr. Hearst will be the nominee I do not know, neither would I predict who will head the ticket, but I will say that it will not be a Parker."

Thus did Mayor Dunne of Chicago express himself to a reporter for The Bee tions. at the Burlington station here this after-Mr. Dunne was passing through Lincoln to Chicago from Denver, where he had been to deliver an address to the Municipal Owenship league and to the Women's club of that city. His train stopped here forty minutes and during that time Mr. Dunne called at the Commonen office and paid his respects to Richard L. Metcalfe

"The idea of municipal and government ownership is sweeping over the country like a tidal wave," said Mr. Dunne, "and every day there are new converts to the idea. I am glad to say that it is not confined to members of the democratic party. but to all parties and it will sweep the next president into the White House. It to come, for the people have become tired of the public utilities being owned by private corporations.

"Just think of it, with the exception of Honduras, Costa Rica and one other little country and the United States, every country in the world owns its telegraph lines. Isn't that fine company for this country to be in? We will not be in that class long, however, for the people are awakening and will own their own public utilities before many years. It will be an issue in the presidential campaign as sure as anything.

"As to candidates, I am of course, not s sure. Mr. Bryan has lost none of his following, though he has gained many supporters. The sentiment for him is deepseated. Mr. Hearst is stronger today than he ever was. The people have come to realize that he is a man who does things and gets results. I consider him a formidable candidate for the presidency." stroyed more than one-half of the largest

For the Human Body in Health and Discase.

The mention of sulphur will recall to dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective than a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur

In recent year, research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for nedicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small chocolate-coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses overy spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur were often worse than the disease, and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcium Wafers is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidotes for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins, while experimenting with sulphur remedies, soon found that the sulphur from Calcium was superior to any other form. He says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation or malaria, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcium Wafers. In patients suffering from boils and pimples and even deep-seated carbuncles, I have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcium Wafers is a proprietary article, and sold by druggists, and for that reason tabooed by many physi-clans, yet I know of nothing so safe and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and especially in all forms of skin disease, as this remedy.'

At any rate people who are tired of pills, cuthartics and so-called blood "purifiers" will find in Stuart's Calcium Wafers a far safer, more palatable and effective preparahouses, size 31x112 feet each, were utterly and entirely destroyed. These nine buildings stood side by side along and the track of the railroad, making a total length of nearly 300 feet and a width of 112 feet by about forty feet high, and were well constructed at a cost of from $50,000 to $75,000. Except the two new ones, almost completed, to the west, the remainder were about half-full of ice and this to some degree impeded the progress of the fire, although not very much. For more than two hours the firemen worked with large streams of water playing on the buildings before their work began to tell, so hungry and feroclous were the flames, particularly in the new buildings. It was seen that they were hopelessly gone and the effort was to save the other two sections of the immense ice houses immediately to the east of those burning and separated from them by about seventy feet. All telegraphic connections to the west of here, except the Postal lines, were destroyed by the fire, but the force many of us the early days when our moth- got out extra wires and surrounded the ers and grandmothers gave us our daily burning buildings and so made new connections.

The capacity of the houses burned was estimated at 32,000 tons of ice and their destruction is complete, although control of the fire was gained. The ice houses to the east, in two separate divisions, were saved and the fire was prohibited from their regions.

The wind was mild, but was turned into a tremendous current near the flames, which were carried out onto the strip of prairie near, which was also set ablaze. This was checked by citizens before much damage resulted.

The melting ice and the water poured onto the fire by the firemen made almost small river of water as it coursed down the depression of the earth along the railroad tracks.

Fully 2,000 people witnessed the fire. Word was received here from Union Pacific headquarters in Omaha that already the heads of the road were making arrangements to ship in new lumber and rebuild the entire lost buildings, as it is impossible for the company to get along without them at this point. The loss will cripple the traffic as to icing cars until the new ones can be completed. One hundred and fifty men are thrown out of employment.

Norfolk Asks for More.

NORFOLK, Neb., Jan. 13.-(Special.)-Norfolk wants two terms of federal court each year, instead of one term, as has been provided in the bill introduced in the senate by Senator Burkett, splitting the state into two federal districts. Norfolk has a magnificent $160,000 federal court house and Norfolk is the center of a large tract of country in northern Nebraska. On this account it is considered to be to the interests of both the city and the northern portion of the state to hold two terms of court here each year instead of one. Letters have been written to Senator Burkett this week in regard to the matter, urging him to provide for two sessions here.

while he was showing her a tray of such articles. The circumstances of the woman' arrest brought to light as clever a piece of amateur detective work as has been chronicled in this city for some time. The woman gave her name at the city jall as Miss Lizzie Barr and her address at Atchison, Kan., from whence she said she came to Omaha Friday evening. Apparently she is a stranger here. The puriolned jewels were valued at $100 and were recovered.

Mr. Combs' story of the affair is: suspected the woman when she entered the store. The first thing she asked was hind in his rent. He told Silverstein he Where do you think I could buy a good would get work again as soon as he could pair of diamond ear drops?' I suggested she might find what she wanted at our place. I then got out a tray and began showing them to her. The way she fumand locked the articles up, so that when the bled the drops kept me busy watching her.

"She then asked me to say what the diamond ear drops she wore might be worth. She asked me to bend over the counter and take a close look at them, which I did, noticing her meanwhile slip a pair in her muff. I did not say anything to arouse her suspicion, but kept on showing her the goods. Then she said she thought there was nothing on the tray she cared for.

"You are sure there is nothing you want?" I asked. She said she was sure, and then intimated she would look at some unset diamonds. I called a clerk and asked for a lot of unset diamonds, at the same time giving the clerk the signal to send for a policeman. I took the woman into the front part of the store and was showing her the diamonds when Officer Brady came along. The woman immediately grew nervous and asked what might be wrong. She took a piece of gum out of her mouth and made an attempt to stick the car drops to the under part of the chair seat, but failed, the drops falling to the floor, where they were found."

Miss Barr became hysterical when the officer took her into custody. She told of her baby at home and wanted to embrace Mr. Combs in her evident anguish. She protested her innocence and said she did not take the drops. At the city jail she told Captain Dunn she came to Omaha Friday evening from Atchison. The police believe the is a professional thief.
