Police Hourd Sets February 5 for ttearing Charges.

They may decide trday.

The hourd room of the Fire and Police Commissioners was crowded at the meeting of the board last night, in anticipation of the trial of saloon keepers for violating the Sunday closing law. But disappointment was the lot of the visitors, for no coner did the matter come up than it was decided to postpone the hearings until a later date, Elmer E. Thomas, represent-ing the Civic federation, said that, while he was ready to proceed immediately, he would rather wait until after his cases are through the police court, where they are due January 20. The members of the board seemed to favor postponement, and Mr. Thomas suggested January 29, the last meeting of the board in January. But it was argued that routine business is always heavy the last of each month, whereupon the first meeting in February, which falls on the 5th, was decided on to hear the cases against the saloon men. A communication to the board from Assistant Probation Officer G. R. Rathbun was read in which the officer reported on the matter of liquor being sold to minors. sald that, following instructions, he had watched the saloon of M. J. McMahon, 1201 Cass street, and on the afternoon of a certain day saw a 2-year-old girl enter the place with a pail and emerge with it of beer. He said that he then took before the board when called for. The matter was referred to the chief.

communication was read from the Oniaha Women's Christian Temperance union dealing with the matter of better conditions for women prisoners at the city all. It was asked that a night matron he provided and certain sanitary and other improvements made. The secretary was instructed to write a reply stating that the improvements suggested are under way, and that the matter of a night matron will be taken up.

The board then proceeded to the opening of blds for supplies of fuel, stationery, atc., for the year, These laid over until the next meeting, when the contracts will be awarded.

Newcastle-on-Tyne voted for two seats today; but the returns were not declared tonight. These seats at the last election gave unionist majorities, but it is predicted that the vote will be close and that both are likely to be turned over to the liberals. The announcement this afternoon of the re-election of Sir George Doughty, unionist, from Great Grainsby, proved a welcome "pick-me-up" to the unionists. A number of unopposed returns were made this morning, the most notable being Sir

The declaration of the results of the pollings are received everywhere with enthusiasm. There are cheers and counter cheers, but no serious disorders.
