Health-National Guard Election.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Jan. 19 .- (Special.) -- The agricultural meetings came to an end this afternoon and most of the farmers and others in attendance have gone to their homes. All have been well attended and it is estimated that fully 2,000 visitors were in Lincoin during the meetings. Considerable discussion was heard about changing the date of some of the meetings so that different ones would not occur on the same day and at the same hour. While nothing was done in the matter, there is a disposition to string out the meetings over a longer period so that all of the farmers in attendance can attend all of them. As it is now the various associations are all in session at the same time and thereby those Who come to Lincoln are denied the pleasure and profit of attending a large number of the meetings.

The Corn Improvers elected the follow ing officers this morning: William Ernst of Johnson county, president; F. W. Chase of Pawnee, vice president; T. L. Lyon of Lincoln, secretary; W. H. Wallace of Lincoln, treasurer; Fred Echtencamp of Arlington, Joseph Hall of Tecumseh, W. W. Wilson of Chester, I. D. Evans of Kenesaw and D. D. Ream of Broken Bow, board of Breeders Elect Officers.

At the business meeting of the American Breeders' association this afternoon the following officers were elected for the coming year: James Wilson of Washington, D. C., president; L. H. Kerrick of Blooming ton, Ill., vice president; W. M. Hays of Washington, secretary; H. H. Morry, assistant secretary; Oscar Erf of Manhattan. Kan., treasurer; Charles Willis Ward of Queens, N. Y., and N. E. Hansen of Brockings, S. D., chairman and secretary, respectively, of the plant section; A. B. Grout Winchester, Ill., and E. A. Burnett of Lincoln, chairman and secretary, respect ively, of the animal section.

The future of the association was dis cussed prior to adjournment, and it was de cided to form a society world-wide, in which specialists of America and Europe will have membership. With that end is view thirty-five permanent committees were appointed for effort in every line of breeding and the stock raising industry.

'We are building for the future," declared Assistant Secretary of Agriculture W. M. Hayes of Washington, in announcing the plans. "Centuries after we are dead committees will continue just that long. We want the farmers to breed from the department at Washington wants the co- science. operation of the committees."

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, or other female weakness. These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result. The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegat Bentrice. BEATRICE, Neb., Jan. 19.-(Special.)-The Nebraska State Firemen's convention losed last night with a banquet at the Paddock hotel, which was attended by about 350 firemen, including the city officials and members of the press. George P. Marvin, editor of the Beatrice Daily Sun, was toastmaster for the evening, and toasts were responded to by many in the party. It was the most largely attended and elaborate function of the kind held in this city in years.

At the business session yesterday forenoon resolutions on the death of H. L. Spalding of Norfolk, former president of the association, were read and adopted. Charles Chain, national vice president, was called and delivered a brief address on the National Firemen's association. He spoke of the endeavors of the association, one of which was to secure federal legislation to levy a 2 per cent tax upon insurance companies uniformly throughout the whole ountry. He also said that a standard thread on hose couplings and hydrants was needed so as to enable a hose company going to another town in response to call for aid to couple their hose with that of the town called to. He urged the presence of a large delegation from Nebraska at the national convention at Roanoke, Va. L. W. Hague, chairman of the legislative ommittee, then read his report. He gave brief review of the Morley bill, introduced in congress at the last session, which provides for the collection of the insur-
