BIG REAL ESTATE DEALS

Property Bought at Seventeenth and Cum- ing for Large Bakery.

FAIRMONT CREAMERY SECURES A SITE

Bakery Will Build and Occupy Two- Story Brick Covering Hun- dred and Thirty-Two Feet Square.

Otto Wagner, who now conducts a retail bakery at Seventeenth and Leavenworth streets, has announced he will build a large bakery next fall at Seventeenth and Cum- ing streets and will do a wholesale busi- ness. Mr. Wagner has bought from Benja- min R. Folsom property 132 feet square at the northwest corner of Seventeenth and Cum- ing streets. The sale was made Thurs- day through the Byron Reed company. Mr. Wagner will send his son east this spring to work several months in some of the largest bakeries of the country, and the young man will superintend the drawing of plans when he returns. A two-story brick, costing about $15,000, will be erected in the fall, construction being with a view to en- larging as the business grows. Mr. Wagn- er began operating a bakery in Omaha twenty years ago.

The Fairmont Creamery company of Fair- mont, Neb., also has secured a site and will build. Omaha Dairy sold to the creamery people through the Byron Reed company the 68,132-foot lot at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Jones streets. E. J. Hainer of Aurora, one of the directors of the com- pany, was in Omaha Thursday and said a three-story creamery building would be built this spring. The offices of the com- pany will be moved here from Fairmont.

Site Hard to Get.
The Byron Reed company had to do a lot of hustling to get a site for the creamery company on account of the great demand for property with trackage. First a 46-foot lot on Farnam street between Eighth and Ninth streets was considered, but before the deal could be closed A. J. Beaton had bought the property, paying $6,000. Mr. Reed went after another lot then, and by calling to Germany, found it was not for sale. Inquiring after a third lot he learned that another real estate man has just sent a check to buy an option on it. It finally turned out that he did not get the option, as the owner had advanced the price a few days before. The site which the creamery bought at last was purchased by Mr. Dietz a month ago for $7,000, the sale giving him a profit of $1,700.

Another sale was made Thursday by the Byron Reed company to I. A. Medlar of a house which the company is building at Thirty-fourth and Harney streets. The consideration was $6,500. A lot of building is being done in this neighborhood. The Byron Reed company is building five two-story frame houses, W. J. Burgess one, R. W. Falmage one and the Reichenberg brothers are erecting two rows of brick flats. All this is in a strip of ground two blocks square.

FINE FOR SELLING TO CHILD

Penalty Imposed on Saloon Keeper Who Lets Little Girl Have Beer.

M. J. McMahon, saloon keeper at Twelfth and Cass streets, pleaded guilty in police court Friday morning to the charge of having sold beer to Mary McKinley, a 9-year-old girl living at Thirteenth and Cass streets. McMahon was fined $5 and costs by Police Judge Crawford. The complaint against McMahon was sworn to by Asst. Probation Officer Rathburn and the conviction secured was the first one of the kind since the establishment of the local juvenile court and to be carried through by the officers of that institution.

THREE DEMOCRATS IN RACE

Ed P. Smith Determined to Stick and Funkhouser Comes Out.

LATTER INDUCED BY DAHLMAN'S ENTRANCE

Man Who Helped Manage Benson's Former Campaign Will Now Oppose Republican Bolter for Mayor.

Three democratic majority candidates are thus far announced—Ed P. Smith, J. C. Dahlmann, M. F. Funkhouser—and tameness has evaporated from the democratic ma- jority situation like a drop of gasoline under a summer sun.

With James C. Dahlmann practically an avowed candidate, Ed P. Smith has issued a statement declaring he will be in the contest to the last ditch, and to make matters still more interesting Millard Fill- more Funkhouser has published it to the world that he too is a candidate for mayor in every sense that it is possible for him to manufacture.

The declaration by certain local demo- crats that Smith would lay down and quit if formidable opposition developed, proved they did not know their man. The meeting of the faction at the Paxton hotel and the trotting out of Dahlmann has served merely to stiffen Smith's determination to run for mayor.

Smith Makes Statement.

"I have determined to remain a candi- date for the democratic majority nomina- tion, regardless of all opposition within my own party. When I made the speech at the Jacksonian club banquet I was not fully decided on this point, and when I stated that if a considerable opposition was evident I did not care to go into the contest; I spoke the way I felt at the time. Since I have received so many ex- pressions pledging support that I have made up my mind to remain a candidate and to make the hardest kind of a cam- paign I know how. I have a great stack of letters containing congratulations on my position on local issues; I have had many personal calls and received a still larger number of telephone messages of the same import. These expressions have come from both republicans and democrats. Some ad- herents of the latter party whom I least expected to be with me have gone to the trouble of assuring me positively otherwise. I find that some who do not agree with my positions on the liquor traffic are with me because they favor other parts of the platform. I am in the race to stay until elected or eliminated at the primary or at the polls."

Funkhouser Comes Out.

M. F. Funkhouser called up leading dem- ocrats Thursday and told them he wished it distinctly understood that he was a democratic majority candidate. This announcement caused considerable surprise, as Mr. Funkhouser last June was an ardent Benson man, a member of the bolting republicans' campaign committee in fact, and it was not supposed he would enter the list for democratic favor against this republican candidate. Mr. Funkhouser said, however, that as long as Smith was the only demo- cratic candidate he was willing to stay out, but when Dahlmann was entered he felt as though he ought to come in, too.

No end of cold water is being thrown over the Dahlmann boom by the other fac- tion of democrats. His record as a secre- tary of the State Board of Transportation during the fusion regime was trotted out and it was harked about that Dahlmann was understood to be a pretty good friend of the railroads at that time.

Again the report was circulated that the large corporate interests were the real forces behind the Dahlmann movement. As one democrat put it, "You may be sure the bunch that sprung the Dahlmann proposition is corporation to the core."

And in the shuffle all hopes of democratic unity in the municipal campaign have gone a-glimmering. It is to be the same old fight in the same old way.

UNIT STILL SEEKS AN OFFICE

Wants Fontanelle Endorsement for City Clerk Nomination.

Charles Unitt, perpetual and unsuccess- ful candidate for a clerkship of some kind or other, has come out for the Fontanelle endorsement for city clerk. Sam K. Greenleaf, thought he had it all his own way for a time, but since Unitt blossomed Greenleaf has had to do some hustling.

Another weather beaten reacher, John N. Westberg, has been making faces at the comptroller endorsement and has at last produced a belief that he might pos- sibly swing the deal, although a week or two ago it was all fixed for John W. Feed.

The Fontanelles will try to endorse from major down through the councilmanic list Saturday night. The executive com- mittee had not recovered from the major- ity excitement at the last meeting suffi- ciently to present a report to the gov- ernors on the other offices.

It still looks as though John P. Green will have a walkaway with the Fonta- nelles for the city attorneyship endorse- ment.

DOCTORS FOR MEN

We are living in an age of special- ization, an age when success can only be attained by the concentration of every thought upon the unwavering pursuit of a single object. We are precisely such specialists. This accounts for the difference between success and failure in the treatment and cure of diseases of men. The physician who tries to explore and conquer the whole field of medicine and surgery becomes proficient in no particular branch. We have confined ourselves entirely to a single class of diseases and the some- what complicated and the some- what intricate that ensue, and mastered them. We do not scatter our faculties, but concentrate them on one particu- lar specialty. We have made a life study of diseases and weaknesses pecu- liar to men, spending thousands of dollars in researches, evolving a spe- cial system of treatment that is a quick, safe and certain cure for skin, nervous, blood and private diseases. If you are drifting in a sea of sick- ness and disease toward the rocks and shoals of chronic invalidism, you should stop drifting and consult the eminent specialists connected with the STATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE at once, before it is too late.

Honest doctors of recognized ability do not resort to such methods.
