CITY WILL TRY TO COLLECT

Assessments Against Improved Property to Be Relevied.

TECHNICALITY MAY NOW BE AVOIDED

Board of Equalization Meets Early in Month, with Big List of Taxes Before it for Adjustment.

At the February meeting of the City Board of Equalization, which will convene on the first Monday of the month, proposed special improvement tex levies aggregating $195,000 will be considered. This will be the largest amount of special tax levies ever before a single board of equalization seasion. While a great deal of the total is due to the paving activity last year, yet a large proportion is the result of a systematic effort by city authorities to reassess old levies declared invalid by the courts.

The matter of making reassessments of this kind wherever permitted by law and admitted by court decisions knocking out the former taxes for various reasons, mostly technical, has been a much promised innovation at the city hall, but only. recently has the legal department really

Hundreds of thousands of dollars of special sewer and paving taxes have been resisted by property owners on purely technical grounds. With taxes of this kind made uncollectable nothing remained for the city to do but to issue bonds to cover the debt created or make relevies, if the latter are possible. In some districts the reassessments cannot be enade, but the legal department has given notice that wherever it is possible the program will
