Gold Wave Predictions and Crep Complaints Come.

WHEAT ADVANCES PRACTICALLY CENT

Corn and Oats Show Unusual Strength for Saturday-Material Increase in Wheat Visible Supply Expected Monday.

OMAHA, Feb. 3, 1996. Colder weather tonight and tomorrow night, complaint from Kansas and Nebraska respecting the winter wheat crop and the prospects of a material decrease in the visible supply for the week gave the wheat market a strong tone and disconnected shorts. Minneapolis market was fully as strong as the Chicago market and an over-sold condition is presumed to exist fully as strong as the Chicago market and an over-soid condition is presumed to exist there. The buildish features in the domestic situation offset the large Australian supments and easier continental cables. Sentiment underwent considerable change. Flour stocks the first of the month were $6.00 barries less than for the corresponding period a year ago and about the same as on the first of January. Clearances were quite liberal at half a million.

Corn was firm throughout the session with a continuation of purchases of May against sales of July, the May selling 1-16c higher. The strength in provisions and purchases by packing interests had something to do with the strength in corn. It is quite possible that the visible supply will show considerable decrease on Monday.

Outs were very firm, advancing moderately on a light trade.

will show considerable decrease on Monday. Oats were very firm, advancing moderately on a light trade. The strength elsewhere on the floor had considerable influence in inducing shorts to cover. There was little of interest in the news.

Bradstreet's clearances show the Pacific coast shipped 670,000 bushels wheat and 57,400 bushels wheat and 57,400 bushels wheat and 26,000 burrels flour. The seaboard reported export sales yesterday of 24,000 bushels corn and 100,000 bushels oats.

A large Chicago grain dealer who has been traveling in Iowa and Nebruska predicts a larger corn movement in those states if roads improve.

World's shipments for Monday are estimated by Broomhall at 11,200,000 bushels, against 10,120,000 bushels last week and 9,032,000 bushels a year ago.

Australian whoat shipments were 2,372,000 bushels, against 1,700,000 bushels last week and 268,000 bushels last year.

Petri of St. Louis says reports of damage to the crop do not come from one point or to one firm, but are getting general. A Chicago trader says: "The east probably will be in the market for oats again soon, particularly if the market here holds firm. The recent sudden increase in the supply of cars east piled up a lot of oats at junction points through that section. These have now disappeared, but new buying has been checked by the weakness shown in the western markets. the western markets.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing | BUTTER-dairy, 18621c CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—The first specific reports of damage to fall sown wheat which have been received here caused unusual activity and strength in the wheat market today. At the close wheat for May delivery was up %c. Corn was up %6%c. Oats showed a gain of %c. Provisions were 7%6 today. At the close wheat for May delivery was up %c. Corn was up %6%c. Oats showed a gain of %c. Provisions were 7½% 22%c higher.

Strength in the market developed toward the end of the first hour. At the immediate opening the market was somewhat weak and initial quotations on Mây were a shade to %6%c lower at 8½%35½c. Factors contributing to the easier tone were liberal shipments from Australia and mild weather in the winter wheat belt in the United States. As the session advanced trading increased in volume, shorts, commission houses and cash interests buying freely. The selling was chiefly by longs. Responding to the increased demand prices advanced steadily. Late in the day a report was received from Kansas City to the effect that the crop in Eurton county, kansas, had been damaged 20 per cent by the unseasonable weather in the last month. Other reports of damage came from Missourl and southern Illinois. An official forecast of much colder weather tomorrow and a report of a bliggard in North Dakota which might temporarily check the movement of grain caused increased anxiety among the shorts. The market closed strong with prices at the highest point of the day. Final quotations on May were at 55%6864c. Clearances of wheat and four were equal to 500,000 by. Primary receipts were 427,000 by. against 381,000 by. a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 120 cars against 3% cars and tweek and 23 cars a year ago.

Despite heavy primary receipts, the corn market was firm for the sreater part of the day in sympathy with wheat. Shorts were active buyers and the selling was mainly by longs. The market closed firm, with day in sympathy with wheat. Shorts were active buyers and the selling was mainly by longs. The market closed firm, with prices at the highest point of the day. May opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 44,0448c, sold up to 44 a and closed at the top figure. Local receipts were 32 cars, with 18 cars of contract grade.

Outs had a strong undertone, based principally on the condition of the wheat murket. Barly in the day trading was quiet, but later a good demand developed. May opened unchanged at 304,030 c, fold up to 30 ac and closed at 304,030 c. Local receipts were 164 cars.

Trading in provisions was exceedingly active and the market showed unusual strength. A 56 c avance in the price of live hogs was the chief cause of the strong hogs was the chief cause of the strong market, but in addition to packers, commission houses were active buyers. At the close May pork was up 33½c at $14.57½. Land was up 7½c at $7.77½. NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Market Develops Acute Weakness and General Level of Values is Lower.

LARGE SELLING ORDERS FROM THE WEST

Prospect of an Extensive Strike Among Coal Operators Arouses Auxiety of the Spec-

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The speculative position in the imarket developed acute weakness again today and prices yielded easily through the list. Deep inroads speculative favorites. The nominal motive of the selling was the danger of a strike of coal miners which is brought to the attention of speculators by the rupture of negotiations for a settlement between the miners and operators at indianapolis. Apprehension over the outcome was fed by private advices from western sources. Accompanied by large selling orders from the western speculative element. The taking of steps toward a strike in the New York building trade increased the influence of the consideration given to the labor outlook.

The sensitiveness of the market to these developments in view of the public reports of the progress making towards therm was proof of the vuinerable position of the speculation due to the satisfaction of the demand for stocks from the short interests following the sharp reaction of the early part of the week. The wenk bank return also was unforeseen and an element in the weakness of the stock market, alerests following the sharp reaction of the arly part of the week. The weak bank eturn also was unforescen and an element in the weakness of the stock market, although the bank return was not just that was expected. The $1,129,690 decrease though the bank return was not just what was expected. The $1,129,600 decrease in cash was much less than expected, but the expansion of the loan item by $15,251,300 in the face of the large liquidation supposed to have taken place in the stock market was a disappointment. The net result was to decrease the surplus reserve item by $4,05,225.

The yielding of foreign exchange rates and a rise in sterling exchange at Paris carried conditions away from the gold export point. The adoption of a measure by the French deputies authorizing an increase in the note circulation of the Bank of France was a bearing on the outlook for the movement of gold. The Bank of France has refrained from offering inducements for securing gold in the recent past owing to the fact that the authorized limit of its note circulation had been reached, leaving it no advantage from an increase of gold holdings. There were some railies from the lowest prices of the day, but the closing tone was unsteady and showed some important losses for the day.

Stockers and feeders have also been very stockers and receirs have also been very good sellers all the week and have been in excellent demand for this season of the rear. Prices during the first half of the week were very strong, but, as is any to be the case with this kind of cattle, es-pecially when receipts are running well un with the demand, the market eased off somewhat toward the latter part of the

STOCKERS AND PEEDERS.

HOGS. There was a fair run of hogs tore for a Saturday, although the receipts were by, no means large, still they were tomewhat in excess of previous Saturdays of recent date. Under the influence of ensomewhat in excess of previous Saturdays of recent date. Under the influence of encouraging reports from all selling points, coupled with a good local demand, the market opened about to higher. The early sales were on the basis of $5.524 for good hogs. This price secured the bulk of the receipts, with some of the better hogs selling as high as $5.52 and on up to $5.574 for choice loads. The early market was quite active at the advance noted above and the high bulk of the receipts changed hands in rood season. Some of the heaviest buyers, however, were still following bear tactics, so that after the more urgent orders were filled the market became less brisk and the feeling a little easier.

The course of values this week has been almost ateadily upward. The week started out with values a shade higher, with a slight reaction on Tuesday, followed by a good stiff advance on Wednesday and a slight reaction the day after and the big advance on Friday. The further advance today places the market at a noint that is 1714c higher than the close of last week and the highest of any day so far this year.

SHEEP—As usual on the last day of the week, there was comparatively little doing on the sheep market, not enough in fact to call it a market. This has been a week week, there was comparatively little doing on the sheep market, not enough in fact to call it a market. This has been a week of extremely light sheep receipts, the total being less than half what it was for the previous week and a little more than half the receipts of a year ago. This light run has been due entirely to the efforts of commission men and newspapers to keep down the receipts at this point on account of the limited demand. Had all other markets followed the same poiccy prices for the week would unquestionably have been maintained, but in spite of the fact that the eastern mutton market was badly demoralized shipments of sheep and lambs were encouraged at some points, with the result that those markets broke and carried down with them the markets at other points. The decline for the week at South Omnaha amounts to 16925c, some kinds showing more loss than others. In spite of this seemingly heavy loss prices at this somining heavy loss prices at this spoint have ranged higher comparatively than at any other simply because the receipts being light here the market has been in a good, healthy condition.

Sheepmen do not anticipate any improvement in the market so long as the demand for mutton is so light in the large castern consuming centers. Cold westner would have a tendency to stimulate the demand for mutton and might be followed by a radical improvement in the sheep and lamb market. This means that the market just have at present is largely under the influence of seen there is no other apparent reason for the seen there is no other apparent reason for the seen there is no other apparent reason for the seen there is no other apparent reason for the seen there is no other apparent reason for the seen there is no other apparent reason for the present weakness in values.
