Asks for Reargument of One Point in Woodmen of the World Tax Case.

SHERIFF POWER TO SUE FOR HIS FEES

Prominent Democrats Think They See

LINCOLN, Feb. 6 .- (Special.)-The supreme court has asked for a reargument on one of the points raised in the case wherein the State Board of Equalization is seeking by mandamus to compel the county clerk to include the reserve fund of the Woodmen of the World and the Woodmen Circle in the assessment of the societies. The point to be argued is whether the state had a right to appeal from the order of the county board or whether it should have asked for a writ of mandamus. It is merely a question of procedure. The commission which listened to the arguments in the case filed its opinion with the court today and then the court asked for the argument on this one point. While It cannot be said with accuracy what the opinion will be, lawyers believe that the commission has decided that fraternal securities must be assessed and taxed. They say that if the commission has decided in favor of the order the court would not have asked for the hearing on the mode of procedure. However, telling a decision in advance is only guesswork on the part of the lawyers. The arguments probably will Sheriffs to Sue for Fees. Suit will be filed in the Lancaster county district court within a few days to test the fight of the auditor to reduce the bill of sheriffs for boarding state prisoners. The plaintiffs will be John Power, ex-sheriff, and John McDonald, present sheriff of Douglas county. Auditor Searle had adopted the rule of paying to the sheriffs an amount of money for caring for state prisoners equal to that paid by the various counties for county prisoners. Acting under that rule he refused to pay to Mr. Power the 75 cents formerly paid and offered to settle the obligation for 50 cents a day for each prisoner. McDonald is interested in the case because it would mean a reduction in his bill against the state from 75 cents to 30 cents a day. The men are represented by Ed. P.

Smith and H. C. Brome. According to Mr. Smith the state has paid 75 cents a day for boarding prisoners since 1865 and that is the law at this time, he claims. The attorney general, under whose advice Auditor Searle is acting, claims this law is not constitutional and that the auditor should pay the sheriffs the amount of money allowed him by each county for caring for county prisoners. After the case is passed upon by the district court it will be appealed.

Proposes Digest of Bills. County Attorney Stanley of Hamilton county, a member of the republican state committee, has a plan he thinks will materially facilitate the work of the next legislature should it be adopted, and he believes further that his plan would result in the members of the legislature more thoroughly understanding the bills upon which they are called upon to vote.

I would suggest," he said, "that a com mittee of five or nine members be appointed tions. to draft an abstract of every bill introduced and have it on the desks of the members the following morning before it is to be disup for discussion or passage few of the by that amount. He has months. The warrant cancellation tomorit he will, or vote against it if the other says to do that.

"Now, if the committee should be apeinted every member of the legislature would know just what a bill was when he came to look at it, and he would not have to spend a great deal of time reading it in fact, where the bill is unusually long the legislator who is not interested personally by reason of the interests of the people of his district will not read the bill
