J. J. BROWN BLOCK. H—M805 8

IF YOUR backbone was as long as your wishbone you would stop wishing you had a farm and would get up enough nerve to buy the following:
160 acres situated in the Willow valley, Antelope county, Nebraska. Large new nine-room house, good outbuildings, fair barn, fine well of splendid water, large grove around house and barns, small bearing orchard, lots of small fruit, 25 acres pasture of blue grass, red top and wild grass; has running water, 15 acres of meadow, 10 acres alfalfa, fenced hog tight; balance under cultivation; soil is clay and heavy black sand loam with clay subsoil, just rolling enough to make fine farm land, school house on one corner, 6½ miles from town, 1½ miles from church; 50 bushels of corn to the acre the past season.
Owner's wife's health has failed and must leave the farm; will be sold to the first comer for $8,400.
Neighbors are neither "Canucks," "coons" nor "greasers"; they are American citizens, and that is worth considering.
I also have 320 acres of fine grazing and hay land for sale at $1,000 cash. Do you want something good? If so, how about the above? "You'll have to hurry." J. C. Jenkins, Neligh, Neb. H—M821 9 offers the best opportunities for investment to farmers, stockmen and capitalists. From $3 to $8 buys as good farm land as there is in Iowa or Nebraska and you can till the soil practically every month of the year. We also have fine propositions in Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

The Texas "Panhandle"
