SUPPOSED TO BE MEXICAN Counterfelt Coins Show More Silver Than the Legal Dollar in

Circulation. A counterfeit silver dollar of which mention was recently made in The Bee was assayed by the local United States assayer Monday and the coin was found to be 921 per cent fine of pure silver. The legal coins are but 900 per cent fine. The counterfeit dollar had therefore 21 per cent more pure stiver in it than the genuine coins. An interesting feature has developed in relation to these counterfeit, though genuine silver coins, in that they are supposed to be made over from the Mexican silver dol-The stamp on the Mexican coins being effaced by some peculiar process known only to the counterfeiter, and the United States stamp substituted.
