ROYAL ARCANUM'S PRESIDENT Supreme Regent Wiggins Visits the Omaha Brethren and Talks of the Order.

OLD LAW TAKES PRECEDENCE

Federal Statute of 1834, Munger Says Regulates Selling Liquor to Indians.

NOT SUPERCEDED BY BREWER LEGISLATION

Question Raised by Attorney Sloan for Redmen Indicted on Charge of Introducing Whisky on the Reservation.

Judge Munger of the federal court handed down a decision Friday morning which is in effect that the introduction of liquor on an Indian reservation is in violation of the United States law of 1834, which prohibits the sale of liquor to Indians and also prohibits the introduction of liquor by anyone, be he Indian or white man, on an Indian reservation, and that the Brewer decision in the Heff case does not apply to the case at bar.

The question was raised by Attorney Thomas L. Sloan, who is acting as attorney for several Indians now under indictment on the charge of introducing liquor on the Indian reservation, in the case of Fishtail Lincoln, an Omaha Indian, who was arraigned for trial on this charge in the United States district court before Judge Munger Friday morning. Fishtail Lincoln's son, Jim Lincoln, was found guilty of a like charge by the jury Thursday evening, but has not yet been sentenced.

Sloan Moves to Diamias.

In the Fishtail Lincoln case, Mr. Sloan moved a dismissal of the case for want of jurisdiction under the decision of Justice Brewer in the Heff case, wherein it was held that an Indian who held an allotment of land leased to become a ward of the government, was therefore regarded as a citizen and the sale of liquor to him was exactly as if liquor had been sold to any other citizen, and was not a case for United States interference under the law, but was only amenable to the state laws regarding the sale of liquor to citizens or Indians. The law prohibiting the sale of liquor to Indians, known as the law of 1834, comprises two important paragraphs. One of these paragraphs specifically prohibits the sale of liquor to an Indian who is a ward of the government, and the other specifically prohibits the introduction of intoxicating, spirituous, malt or vinous liquors onto any Indian reservation by any person whatsoever.

That Brewer Decision.

Mr. Sloan's contention in brief is that the Brewer decision applies to the whole law and that an Indian holding an allotment is permitted under that decision to take liquor onto a reservation. And that consequently the United States has no jurisdiction, and consequently cannot move a dismissal of the case of that ground. Judge Munger overruled the motion.

Mr. Sloan thereupon announced he would appeal the case of Jim Lincoln, who already is convicted, to the United States supreme court and ask for the release of Jim Lincoln on a writ of habeas corpus in order to test the matter for all time.

It is probable the action of the supreme court may not be determined until about sixty days. In the meanwhile the government will proceed with the trials of the Indian cases, all of which are practically on the same ground. Three or four of the Indians already have entered pleas of guilty to taking liquor onto the reservation, but none have thus far been sentenced.

O. K. SCOFFIELD SELLS OUT

Douglas Street Women's Furnisher Succumbed by Orkin Bros., Sioux City.

CONCERN WILL RETAIN OLD QUARTERS

Two of Purchasers Will Conduct Business, One of Them Coming to Omaha to Make His Permanent Residence.

O. K. Scofield, for many years a dealer in women's cloaks, furs and suits at 139 Douglas street, has disposed of his establishment to the Orkin Brothers of Sioux City, who will continue to conduct the business at the old Douglas street stand in connection with their Sioux City house. The concern will be operated under the name of Scofield's Suit and Cloak House. The purchasers are J. B. P. H. M. E. and J. L. Orkin.

The Omaha house will be conducted by the brothers, J. B. and J. L. Orkin, while P. H. and M. E. Orkin will continue in charge of the Sioux City house. J. B. Orkin will spend most of his time in New York, with headquarters at 117 Broadway, buying for the two stores. J. L. Orkin will have personal supervision of the Omaha store and will become a permanent resident here.

The Orkin brothers already have taken possession of the Scofield establishment and will operate it under the name of a new business policy will be carried out by the old establishment and only the best and highest class of merchandise will be offered to the public. The concern, it is announced, will be conducted upon a most liberal and progressive basis.

The Orkin brothers are young men of a high progressive spirit, and it is their purpose to make the Omaha house one of the very best of its kind in the country. Mr. Orkin is very much pleased with the location of the establishment, in the center of the retail business district of Omaha. The fact that the Orkin brothers are both wholesale and retail dealers will enable them to sell at the lowest possible figures commensurate with good business policy. The establishment will be much enlarged and improved and a new fresh stock will be immediately installed.

Mr. Scofield has not yet indicated what business he will engage in for the future, but he may conclude to take a brief rest

PARK BOARD NOT SURPRISED

Commissioners Rather Anticipated Suit to Prevent City from Appraising Bluff Tract.

Members of the park board are not exactly surprised at the filing of a suit to prevent the city from appraising land for the bluff tract boulevard and the issuance of an injunction forbidding any steps in the matter. Originally the commissioners thought a strip 100 feet wide at the top of the bluff would be sufficient, running from about Pinkney to Locust street and overlooking Cut-off lake and the Missouri river valley. Later these plans were expanded to take in all the land on top of the bluff as far west as Fourteenth avenue. For the 100-foot strip the principal owners, W. E. Foppleston, Judge A. Woolworth and others, would donate the land, it was understood. It appears the owners were quite willing to do this, but seriously object to the appropriation of the property clear back to Fourteenth avenue. With the boulevard, it is easy to see, the room left for lots would become very valuable for residence sites. Rather than have the entire tract appropriated the suit has been started. It is not improbable the park commission may recede from its intention, although no action has been taken to this effect.

OPEN BIDS FOR MEDICINE

Proposals for Drugs and Prescriptions Will Be Received by County Board.

At their annual meeting to be held Saturday morning the county commissioners will receive and open bids for furnishing drugs and prescriptions to the County hospital and the indigent poor. The first set of bids was rejected because the bidders could not agree as to a proper division of the contract.

The commissioners desire to cut the expense for these items, which has heretofore been, as they consider it, altogether too high. Rumors of graft in connection with the furnishing of drugs under the old contract went to the extent of an attempt being made by one man, but on this the commissioners have as yet taken no action.

Bids also will be opened for furnishing cement, sewer pipe, sand and brick.

PURSE SNATCHER IS BUSY

Two Women Robbed by Same Man During the Late Evening Hours.

A purse snatcher, choosing members of the weaker sex as his victims, was successful in plying his trade in two instances late last night, although the prompt arrival of officers nearly resulted in his capture. The first victim was Mrs. Shanshan, who lives at the Emergency hospital. As she was passing Tenth and Jackson streets the fellow suddenly appeared, grabbed her purse containing $4 from her hand, and then hastily fled. At 11 o'clock the same man snatched a handbag of Mrs. Louise

Commercial College Entertains

The twenty-first annual entertainment of the Omaha Commercial college was given in the college auditorium, the Lerie theater, last night. Music and recitations formed a large portion of the program while a debate, "Resolved, That Secularism is Detrimental to Christianity" was held by Roy Abelt and J. C. Freed for the affirmative and negative, respectively. Students of the college, their friends and relatives, were present in large numbers.

SEVERE COLDS

and pneumonia are always ushered in by a sudden chill. The next step is marked by a gradually rising fever. The next by sore throat, hoarseness, running nose, headache, cough, painful breathing and expectoration. Then you are at the critical turn. It calls for action, also care in selecting the remedy to take, because delay and experimenting mean death by pneumonia or weakened lungs.

The right remedy, the best remedy, the safest remedy, the surest cure is without doubt the famous, world-renowned DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

Its many cures are truly remarkable, but they are all due to the super-excellent formula by which it is made. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup soothes, heals and cures like no other remedy can or does.

Have You a Friend? Then tell him about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Tell him how it cured your hard cough. Tell him why you always keep it on hand. Tell him to ask his doctor about it. Doctors know it. They use it a great deal for all forms of throat and lung troubles. We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines.

Rod and Gun Club Meeting. The Omaha Rod and Gun club held a meeting at the Merchants hotel last night, the purpose of the evening being to talk over plans for the coming season, principal among the topics being the selection of a site for a new building. The building committee was instructed, through the directors, to confer with Messrs. Crighton and Grimm regarding a site within the Courtland Beach grounds, and should nothing suitable be procured there, to cast around for other locations. The regular annual meeting will be held next Friday evening at 8 o'clock to be held, at which new officers will be elected.
