GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Bulge.

From the Inter Ocean: "Cash oats are selling higher than futures, and commission houses are advising their country customers who have the cash stuff to sell it now and buy May, July or September, if they wish to stay long, it costs nothing to carry the futures, and if there is going to be any advance from a possible delay in seeding or a reduced acreage or crop damage futures will advance. The position in corn futures is the reverse of oats. Cash is selling at a wide discount under futures. The country has been selling its winter shelled corn as rapidly as possible, and has lost heavily the past two weeks, owing to the decline in prices and the failure of the corn to grade No. 3 or better."

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Lifeless. LEADERS MOVE IN BOTH DIRECTIONS

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—There were conspicuous movements in a rew individual market was inert and lifeless. The fact that the few stocks which moved widely moved in opposite directions and seemed to hold the general level practically suspended.

Union Pacific continued to advance and was less affected by the later reaction than other stocks. Rumors in circulation to for an intended distribution of a scrip dividend to dispose of a new preferred stock issue, although they met with discrete enial from official sources, had an influence on the demand also for the stocks in the Wabash group, led by Wabash preferred. These movements had some sympathetic effect on the general list under the continued liquidation in Consolidated Gas which began to disturb previous cated Gas which began to disturb previous as sentiment. This stock feil an extreme nine points under persistent offerings, induced by the fixther continued liquidation in Consolidated Gas which began to disturb previous cated Gas which the continued liquidation in Consolidate but owing to the wrecks which delayed the arrival of some of the stock intended for yesterday's market, there were more cattle in the yards this morning than usual on a Saturday. They sold steady to a little lower than yeaterday.

The receipts continue large at this point, the total for the week amounting to 21.72. as a gainst 18.587 last week, 18.232 a week ago, and 18.23 for the corresponding week of a year ago.

The market has been well supplied with beef steers all the week and prices have beef steers all the week and prices have interests. During the first wo the selling little weakness was noted, but that selling the first two days of the market to be able to call it as steady, but the consuming demand has been very satisfactory, and all packers have accordingly been free buyers.

The market on cows and helfers has followed very closely that on steers. During the first two days a little weakness was noted, but that was mostly made up the days of the market on cows and helfers proton on Friday's close as the close of the present week it is not supplied the first two days a little weakness was noted, but that was mostly made up the days of the proton on Friday's close as the close of the present week it is not supplied the first two days a little weakness was not market on good cows and helfers has followed very closely that on steers. During the first two days a little weakness was not market on good cows and helfers has followed that the close of last week the market on good cows and helfers have a good as at the close of the present week it is not supplied the first two days a little weakness was not market on good cows and helfers have been also as the close of the present week the market of the stock. The fact is the week stock. The fact is the week stock. The fact is the market has been quoted steady or strong every day this week, with the result that prices are now a little higher if anything than one week ago.

HOGS—There was a fair average Saturdays run of hogs here this morning, 119 cars being reported in Shippers opened the market by paying prices that done. When buyers and sellers finally got together it was on the basis of a shade higher prices. Later reports from Chicago indicating an easier market up there gave the bears still further encouragement and the market doned off a little easier than it opened. The bulk of all the hogs finally sold at $6.0266.07%, as against $5.0246.05 yesterday. The top today, $5.15, was the same as yesterday.

While the hog market has fluctuated back and forth to some extent this week, there has been an upward tendency all the time, and at the close of the week values are on an average 1246 higher than they were one week ago. One year ago today the average price at which all the hogs sold on this market was only $4.74, two years ago $5.32 and three years ago $6.32. Only twice since the yards at South Omaha were opened have hogs sold as high during the month of February as they are now selling. In 1998 they sold considerably better than $6.00, and in February, 1893, the average price one day reached as high as $3.10.
