VEDADA, Cuba, Feb. 18 .- To the Editor of The Bee: You ask for my impression of the island of Cuba. In a word, the possibilitles are great, much greater than I had anticipated when here before the war. I saw at that time that war was inevitable. but now since that question is settled and our government has cleaned them up and given them a start, everything is changed and ws see great improvements everywhere, particularly out in the suburb of Vedado, where a large American colony has sprung up with fine buildings, parks and boulevards. The sea wall is several miles in length and will eventually reach out to this suburb. The wall is some five miles long and gives the place a substantial and metropolitan appearance ...

The Prado, over a mile long through the center of the city of Havana and over 300 feet in width, has been extended to the sea opposite old Moro Castle. Work with Prisoners. When Mr. Colin Campbell, the secretary of the church army, was asked recently he what considered to be the most successful branch of the work of the army he unhesitatingly replied that he did not know any department that gave more promising results that that which interested itself in the care of the wives and families of men undergoing varying terms of imprisonment. Mr. Campbell has a special permit from the home secretary which enables him to visit the prisons and convict establishments all over the country and he finds that almost the first request that a prisoner makes on these visits is that the Church Army should look after his wife. That is a request that the Church Army has never in a single instance failed to regard, and so pressing fort was made to secure the passage of did the work become that about four years ago it was found necessary to form a prisoners' wives department, and this is now being directed from the army's labor home.
