When the market opened only fitten cars were a sight, and while later trans increased to a manner homewhat, the point was the summer homewhat, the point was the summer for a Saturday in a field while. Under the influence of the cost demand, the light receipts and favorable reports from other selling points the homeket showed a sharp advance. SHEEP—No fresh receipts were reported today, there being nothing of any consequence in the barn. There is not very much to be said regarding the sheep trade in addition to what has already been published in these columns. Good to choice heavy wethers and ewes have been in active demand all the week, and the few arriving have met with ready saie at fully steady prices. In fact, prices on this kind of stuff have been strong as compared with all other market points, ewes especially selling very well. Medium grades of both sheep and lambs, and even good kinds of light, have not been in such active demand and show some little decline for the week. These kinds are, in fact, selling at the low point of the season so far.

fact, selling at the low point of the season so far.

The lamb market has not been entirely to the liking of sellers in that the demand has been lighter than usual at this point. Packers have not had use for the isual number, and under the influence of the slack demand the trade has been inclined to drag, giving values a lower tendency. The best lambs are not so much off as are the common to medium kinds, but all grades have been slow sals.

As has been noted from time to time, the eastern mutton market has not been as good as might be desired, and the beginning of Lent has reduced the consuming demand still further. This fact has had no little influence on the market for both sheep and lambs during the current week.
