DEMOCRATS CHEERING UP

Four Hundred of Them Attend Banquet at Lincoln Hotel.

CONFERENCE HELD BEFORE THE FEAST

Dr. Greene of the Lincoln Asylum for the Insane Likely to Be Called to Take Charge of National Asylum at Washington.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, March 6 .- (Special Telegram.) -Under the name of democrats over 400 persons gathered around the banquet table at the Lincoln hotel tonight at a love feast in a mighty effort to resuscitate the old party and get it in shape for another go against the buzzsaw. In the crowd were Bryan and anti-Bryan democrats and the last of the populists, George W. Berge, the anti-pass candidate for governor in 1904.

The crowd began to reach Lincoln early In the day and by night it had reached considerable proportions and was sufficiently enthusiastic to attract attention. Omaha sent down at least a dozen of the faithful, including James Dahlman, who is an as pirant for the democratic nomination for mayor, and Dan Custer, the old warhorswho admitted the party had gone to th how-wows and who tried to get a special train home before the speaking.

Before the banquet began members of the state committee met and discussed the bes way to secure an organization and the best way to get the remnants of the party in fighting shape. While no formal action was taken except to allow the executive committee to call the state convention when it got ready for it, it was the senti ment of the majority that the convention should be called some time in July or August. The question of holding a primary and of endorsing a candidate for senator was not discussed.

Receptive Candidates for Governor. On the list of speakers were several prospective candidates for governor, P. E. Mc-Killip, A. C. Shallenberger, W. H. Thompson and G. W. Berge. None of these made formal announcement, of course, but each left no doubt in the minds of the crowd that be would be willing to make the sacrifice should the nomination be offered him. It was late when P. L. Hall of Lincoln. the toastmaster, took charge of affairs and called on the speakers. From a democratic standpoint these were ideal. Even the populists could not object. It was the same old talk. All the speeches seemed to run out the same funnel. The speakers were opposed to existing conditions; they objected to corporation rule; they objected to railroads dominating politics of the nation or state; they predicted failure on the part of President Roosevelt in his fight for the government regulation of railroads; they favored a 2-cent railroad rate; they favored a direct primary for the nomination of officers. Gives Bryan All the Credit.

H. H. Hanks devoted the time allotted to him in preaching of Bryan and he made the statement all the things which are being done by Roosevelt, and Folk, and LaFollette and the things being said by these men and others of their kind, were the things for which Mr. Bryan and the democratic party had been working for years. In fact credit for all things good democratic party.

Governor Thomas of Colorado, J. B. Weaver of Iowa and Mr. Shallenberger confined themselves almost exclusively to autional affairs. The speakers and their subjects were as follows:

subjects were as foilows:

"Is Victory Worth While?" Hon. P. E. 25-Killip, Humphrey! "The Nebraska Democrat." Hon. H. H. Hanks, Nebraska City; "Foundation Stones," Hon. A. C. Shallenterger, Alma; "The Issue in Nebraska," Hon. G. W. Fierge, Lincoln; "Equality Before the Law," Hon. W. H. Thompson, Grand Island; "Moral Strength of Democracy," Hon. G. M. Hitchcock, Omaha; "Jefferson or Machiveili," Hon. J. B. Weaver, Iowa; "The Consumer," Hon. C. A. Thomas, Colorado.

Greene May Go to Washington.

Superintendent James L. Greene of the Lincoln insane hospital will in all probability be appointed superintendent of the national insane hospital at Washington. Dr. Greene this a rning received a telegram from Senator Burkett to come to Washington for a conference with the president regarding the place.

About a year ago Dr. Greene was an applicant for this position and was seriously considered by the president, but the place went to another. Now it is reported a new superintendent is to be appointed and President Roosevelt has asked Senator Burkett to have Dr. Greene call upon him. Dr. Greene secured a leave of absence from Governor Mickey this morning and left for Washington.

For some time it has been rumored that $29 an acre and was bought by F. G. Burn-Dr. Greene wanted to be governor and ham. Fred Beckman bought the south would resign his place in order to make a half of the northeast quarter of section 32,
