FIFTEEN YEARS FOR BUCKLEY

Penitentiary Sentence Promptly Imposed on One of Two Captives.

HENRY CLEWS, Estimate of the Priceless Value of Such a Discovery.

In the January "Cosmopolitan" Mr. Henry Clews, the famous financier, is quoted as saying that "Tuberculosis and catarrhal diseases are responsible for the suffering and death of a large minority of the population of this country."

HENRY CLEWS.

There is no question that Mr. Clews is right. That Tuberculosis and Catarrhal diseases are responsible for nearly 50 per cent of the sickness and suffering and early death of the people of this country is equally well known to all who study statistics.

In fact, it would be safe to go farther and state that a large majority of the population of this country is suffering from some form of these terrible scourges.

And that Catarrh is generally the forerunner of Consumption and kindred diseases is equally well known to all who study statistics.

HE AND BERRY CAUGHT AT LOUISVILLE

"It Was Whisky Done It," Pleads Buckley to Judge Sutton in Extension of His Crime.

James J. Buckley and John Berry, two of the four prisoners who escaped from the county jail Thursday night, were arrested at Louisville Monday and after they had made two desperate attempts to escape from jail they were brought to Omaha in shackles by Deputy Sheriff Haze and Sheriff McDonald, who had been convicted of holding up an Albright saloon, was hustled over to Judge Sutton's court room as soon as they arrived and sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary after making a plea of clemency.

The fact the men were finally delivered over to the Omaha officers may be attributed to good luck or poor judgment on the part of the prisoners. They were first arrested at Louisville Monday morning for being drunk, but after being held until early afternoon were released. They were rearrested after Marshal Johnson had discovered they had tried to break out of the jail and it was after their second arrest the Louisville official began to think he had captured big game.

At 1 o'clock Tuesday morning Berry made an attempt to escape and was stopped only by the bullets from the gun of an assistant in the jail. He requested Marshal Johnson to let him go to a closet and the marshal let him out of the cell. Berry watched his chance and dealt the marshal a blow on the side of the jaw that fell him to the floor. The marshal drew his gun, but it caught in his pocket and the cylinder of the frame was lost. A young man he had assisting him in the jail came to his rescue and fired three shots after Berry, who was making a run for liberty. One of the shots went within a few inches of Berry's head and he surrendered.

Omaha Officers Get Word. The Omaha authorities were notified of the arrest about midnight Monday night and from the description it was decided the men were Buckley and Berry and the two men from here were sent to Louisville on a freight train.

They were first arrested by Marshal Johnson. They were in a saloon and had been drinking heavily. He locked them up, but let them go about 2 o'clock. After they had gone he found they had almost succeeded in prying loose the iron frame of the jail window. The two men took a train for Plattsmouth, but as the train passed the gravel pit under the bridge, they slipped and jumped off. They went back to the saloon they were arrested in at the morning and Johnson nabbed them again. They were kept all night and then turned over to the sheriff's assistants and brought back to Omaha on a Burlington train, reaching Omaha about 11 o'clock.

Reporters were not allowed to talk to them, but they made a short statement to Captain Haze on the way back to the city. They said after the escape they went to Sheely, where they bought some liquor. They then went to South Omaha, bought some more liquor, and spent the night there. As they were in their statements they stopped talking. It was rumored they had given a tip as to the whereabouts of O'Brien, but this was denied by Captain Haze. At the jail Berry was given his blue suit again and Buckley was held in the office until Judge Sutton was ready for him.

Buckley Denies Guilt. Attorney George W. H. Sullivan for Judge Sutton for Buckley and made a motion for a new trial, which was promptly overruled by Judge Sutton. When the judge asked Buckley if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced upon him, the prisoner stood up in front of the judge's bench and made a long plea. He denied having anything to do with the holdup and said the story of Healy, the victim, was a "pack of lies." While he was talking he shifted about uneasily, standing first on one foot and then on another, keeping his head down nearly all the time.

It was whiskey that done it, Judge," he said at the close of his plea. "I can't keep from drinking and when I drink I can't tell what I am doing."

Mr. Cooper told the court Buckley belonged to a good family in the east and had a mother and a sister living who were highly respectable people. As Buckley is 52 years old he urged leniency.

"I have made a careful inquiry as to your past life," said Judge Sutton in announcing the sentence, "and I have been informed that you are one of the most dangerous criminals ever tried in this state. I may have been misinformed, but I have been told you have been confined in a number of penitentiaries in different states and that you hold life of very little value. If everyone were like you this country would be a howling wilderness of crime."

Judge Sutton asked Buckley about the jail delivery and the latter denied the charge.

had received any help from the outside. He said the only tool or weapon they had was a case knife. They had no revolvers, he said, and he did not hear any shots fired after they had escaped. He was the second one out he said.

Sheriff McDonald took no chances with him. He was securely handcuffed and guarded by Deputy Sheriff Haze and Jailer Stryker on the way to and from the jail and in the court room was watched by these two and Sheriff McDonald.

Sheriff McDonald is anxious to get rid of him and will take him to the penitentiary early Wednesday morning. County Attorney Slauchough does not know yet when he will be able to try Berry, who is alleged to be an accomplice of Mike Enright in a South Omaha saloon holdup. Enright was acquitted.

Sheriff McDonald has never had much doubt about recapturing Buckley as he is a heavy drinker and seems unable to leave liquor alone. His personal appearance is such he could be picked out of a crowd by anyone who had seen him. He would be taken by an experienced officer as a criminal at first sight.

The Louisville marshal stands to get $100, as Sheriff McDonald offered a reward of $50 for the capture of each fugitive.

County Attorney Slauchough has begun garnishment proceedings against James J. Buckley to recover the costs in the criminal case. Buckley gave $50 to Ex-Sheriff Power to keep for him when he was arrested and this money has been attached by the county. The costs of the case amount to $135.

Twice Arrested at Louisville. LOUISVILLE, Neb., March 6.—(Special Telegram.)—Two strangers appeared in town yesterday morning and in a short time became intoxicated. They were placed in jail by City Marshal Johnson, but about 2 p. m. the marshal released them with the understanding that they leave town. They went a short distance from town, when they changed their minds and returned. They were not discovered by the marshal until after supper, when he again placed them in jail and ordered them to be held. About 4 o'clock this morning the sheriff and the jailer from Omaha came to town, having been notified last evening by the marshal, and went to the jail, where the prisoners were identified by the jailer as John Berry and J. J. Buckley, two of the four prisoners who broke out of the jail here five days ago. Sheriff McDonald and the jailer took the prisoners to Omaha on the Burlington, which left at 8:35.

BANKS WILL NOT PAY THE TAX

Local Financiers Say They Cannot Afford to Meet Woodmen's Obligations.

THINK ORDER OUGHT TO AWAIT DECISION. Waites and Drake Say Payment of Tax on Reserve Fund Would Be More Than Fair Interest on Deposits.

It was whispered around Tuesday morning that Sovereign Commander Root of the Woodmen of the World was awaiting an offer on the part of the Omaha banks, which hold that organization's reserve fund as deposit to pay a share of the taxes which will be assessed on the fund in April. If the banks would make such an offer, it was said, the Woodmen would agree to do nothing this spring with regard to moving the headquarters, but would await the action of the supreme court. In spite of Mr. Root's statement that he had advanced information to the effect that the decision of the court would be adverse to the Woodmen, the bankers say it is absurd that anything could have been worked out from the supreme court commission, and that Mr. Root's information cannot be reliable.

Mr. Root numbered among the inducements held out to his order from Fort Worth and Dallas, Tex., assurances of the national banks that no tax would be levied on the reserve fund.

Although the banks will suffer from the withdrawal of the Woodmen to another state, it is likely Mr. Root will be disappointed if he expects advances from the bankers. They agree they cannot afford to pay the taxes on the reserve this year.

Bankers Cannot See It That Way. "If the taxes are to be $75,000 as Mr. Root expects," said Luther Drake, president of the Merchants National bank, "that would be a heavy load on the shoulders of the banks which carry the Woodmen's money. It would be of great interest on the deposits. The banks cannot afford to do it. If the decision should be adverse, then our money would be gone and we would have no deposits. On the other hand, I think the organization can't afford to await the final action of the supreme court. The move to another state would cost money and the sacrifice on real estate the Woodmen probably would be compelled to make would cause a loss of more. If the decision releases them of taxes they will be glad to stay, and they will be saved the expense of moving."

Commercial Club May Act. President Judson of the Commercial club, after conferring with some of the bankers and other business men, said a meeting might be called Wednesday of men representing Omaha's commercial interests as a final effort to evolve some plan for keeping the Woodmen here.

Whatever may be the decision of the committee Wednesday with regard to moving, it is known the order has been making arrangements preparatory to a removal if it should prove necessary. The real estate agents of the organization have been especially active in looking up prospective purchasers for property owned by the order, and they are said to have secured bids on part of it.

Members of Council. Some members of the executive council of the Woodmen of the World, which will hold a meeting in Omaha Wednesday to decide upon matters in connection with the proposed movement of the headquarters to Dallas and Fort Worth, Tex., already present are W. A. Fraser of Dallas, Tex.; C. C. Farmer of Mt. Carroll, Ill.; and J. E. Fitzgerald of Kansas City. The members of the executive council are: Sovereign Commander Joseph Culien Root, Omaha, Neb.; Sovereign Adviser W. A. Fraser, Dallas, Tex.; Sovereign Clerk John Thomas Yates, Omaha, Neb.; Sovereign Banker Morris Sheppard, Texas, Ark.; Sovereign Escort H. F. Simral, Columbus, Miss.; Sovereign Watchman Colonel B. W. Jewell, Omaha, Neb.; Sovereign Sentry De E. Bradshaw, Little Rock, Ark.; Sovereign manager—N. B. Maxey, chairman, Muskogee, I. T.; C. C. Farmer, Mt. Carroll, Ill.; C. K. Erwin, Milwaukee, Wis.; J. E. Fitzgerald, Kansas City, Mo.; P. W. Lewis, Kingston, N. C.; L. Q. Maxwell, Cleveland, O.; T. E. Patterson, Chattanooga, Tenn.

This taxation matter has been in the hands of the state board, and I understand Mr. Mortensen has been most active against us," said Commander Root, Tuesday, "for the last two or three years. The governor's name appears on the suit, but I do not think he has been pushing the matter."

When asked what his preference for a new location was, C. C. Farmer of Mt. Carroll, Ill., replied: "Mt. Carroll, of course."

J. A. Todd of Fort Worth, Tex., is in the city to present the arguments in favor of that city for the location of the Woodmen headquarters there.

The representative of the Commercial club of Fort Worth, he replied he represented the whole city, the business men and even the children, all of whom were clamoring for the location.

"The four national banks of Fort Worth have offered to guarantee the order against taxation," said Mr. Todd, "and I am here to present the claims of the city for the headquarters. We of Texas think that because of our $8,000 members in that state we are entitled to have the headquarters."

SISTER AND BROTHER CURED of Lung Disease and Deafness.

For several years I have been sick and unable to bear from lung disease. Had one hemorrhage after another. Had one coughing and spitting blood. My lungs were always inflamed. I could not eat and nothing tasted good. Lost flesh and became so weak that even walking was painful. A neighbor of mine brought me out. I went to Dr. Branaman, who had had experience with his hearing. His ears and the whole side of his head would swell up, and the pain was so bad that it would extend into his brain, and for hours he would be out of his head, rattling and screaming with the terrible suffering. Now his hearing is restored and he is perfectly happy. My sister, who had been deaf for several years, is now perfectly cured. My brother and I have to thank Dr. Branaman and his treatment for our present happiness and health. We both recommend him and his treatment to all who suffer.

MISS AUGUSTA A. BRANAMAN, 254 Eighth St., North Denver. Mrs. R. D. Hutchinson, 609 N. 15th St. says: "I had catarrh and deafness for years. Noise in my head, my kidney, stomach and lungs pained me. I tried many good doctors without relief. I was discouraged. Dr. Branaman cured me in a short time. I am now enjoying the best of health." Mrs. Lizette Rutledge, 2514 N. 15th St. says: "I had asthma so bad I could not walk upstairs. I would cough, cough and gasp for breath day and night. I had told me asthma could not be cured. Dr. Branaman cured me. I am now free from all the above symptoms and feel fine."
