The democratic candidates are Emmet Tinley and George Schoedsack for members of the board and George S. Davis for treasurer. At the annual meeting of the Council Bluffs Rowing association to be held tonight in the ball room of the Grand hotel the directors will recommend the adoption of an amendment to the bylaws changing the system of electing directors. Heretofore the board of nine directors has been elected anew each year, but it is now proposed to amend the bylaws to provide:

The annual meeting of the members shall be held on the second Monday in March of each year, and at the regular meeting of members to be held March 12, 1965, nine directors shall be elected, three of whom shall serve two years and three of whom shall serve two years and three of whom shall serve one year. Senate Judiciary Committee Promptly Strangles All Bills on Subject.

PARDON HEARINGS COMMENCE THURSDAY

Amendments Made by Senate Committee to the Child Labor Bill Not Satisfactory to Promoters of the Measure.

(From a Staff Correspondent)

DES MOINES, Ia., March 11 .- (Special.)-According to all appearances there is no hope of any legislation at this session of the legislature looking towards reform of the divorce laws. The judiciary committee of the senate has some bills in its possession but the authors have given up all hope of their being reported out and a bill introduced by Senator Taylor was promptly reported for indefinite postponement. Senator Gillilland of Mills and Senator Jones of Mahaska introduced bills providing that divorced persons cannot remarry inside of a year unless they remarry the person divorced from. These bills are still in the hands of the judiciary committee. Senator Taylor two years ago introduced a bill providing that the decree of divorce shall be held up for a year. When it became evident that the committee would not report on Gillilland's or Jones' bill he introduced it again this year. He holds that Gillilland's bill will not prevent a divorced person from going outside the state to get married, while under his bill they could not get married in any state without being liable to the charge of bigamy, for the reason that they are not legally divorced till the decree is signed. Some are claiming that the judiciary committee, being composed of lawyers, is an explanation for the failure to get reform legislation. Senstor Taylor had his bill this year referred to the committee on suppression of intemperance in the hope of getting it reported to the floor, but the committee on suppression of intemperance, seeing nothing in the bill on the liquor question, asked that it be referred to the judiciary committee. which promptly reported it for indefinite Hearings on Pardons.

Pardon hearings, which are always deferred till late in the session of the legislature, will this year commence next Thursday. There will be hearings by the committees each afternoon at 4 o'clock till they are all concluded. There has been some nonsense written to some of the papers of the state, but all statements that this or that person was liable to be pardoned has been purely guesswork. The last two cases to be heard will be those of Busse and Smith, who are under sentence to be hanged April 20. In the case of Louis Busse, E. A. Dawson of Waverly will appear before the committee. He made a strong plea to the supreme court to save the life of Busse and it is reasonably expected will cause considerable discussion in the committee on the merits of his client's case. Smith comes from Buxton and so far there is no intimation that anyone will appear for him before the committee. In the case of George Weems of Polk county there is said to have been discovered a considerable amount of new evidence and his friends are relying on this to get his pardon, asserting there is now sufficient proof for a reasonable doubt as to his guilt. Ormand McPherson of Louisa county has had his case presented to the legislature before. Alexander Storms of Des Moines county was convicted of killing two women who were found dead in a room in Burlington a week after they were killed. He was the fast person seen with

Wednesday, according to action of both houses, there will be an excursion to visit the state university at Iowa City.

Prof. C. F. Curtis of the state college of agriculture at Ames has discovered that a large number of farmers of Iowa are being systematically swindled by the purchase of stuff sold for the purpose of inoculating clover and alfalfa seed so as to grow the bacteria that is supposed to take nitrogen from the atr and put it into the soil. Circulars were sent to Prof. Curtis that are being sent out by these firms. He investigated and discovered that the material sold is worthless, and that the firm was using parts of information in the agricultural year book to booster up its claims to sell the material.
