Remembering the complaints made by the candidates below city attorney of shabby treatment at the Creighton hall meeting the councilmanic slate was called upon to describe itself first and Mr. Benson last. Mr. Benson said:

Mr. Benson last. Mr. Benson said: I have been thinking what a magnificent city we would have if all the men in the city were equal in character to those here tonight. If Omaha were populated by men like these and no one of lesser character ever thisbited the city and the news should so out on the wires tonight and be known all over the country. I think the value of every piece of property here would be doubled by tomorrow noon. The value of the property would need no policement ex-cept to direct people the way. You would need no police court nor eriminal division of the district court with its array of jurors and winesses. At an enthusiastic meeting of the Fifth Ward Equal Rights club last evening in McKenna's hall, Sixteenth and Locust streets, the ticket circulated yesterday, giving the impression that Broatch was recelving the endorsement of the Equal Rights league members, was severely denounced as a political trick of the lowest character. A number of candidates endorsed by the league openly repudiated the

At the Fontanelle feed Monday something of a discussion was participated in as to whether or not it is thought necessary to provide a feast to draw citizens to the Fontanelle meetings. Chairman Brome spoke of the 50-cent dinner as a great success, but S. A. Searle wanted down-town meetings held in halls without the provender accompaniment on the three Sat-

If You Want a Splendid Office Now Is the Opportunity

We have a large corner office, with vault, in connection with a smaller room, located on the fifth floor, facing south and east. It is no exaggeration to say that from any standpoint it is the best office in the city of Omaha. Opportunities to secure an office like this are rare. It is not once in two years, that an office like this in

In the final analysis I think the whole platform business may be resolved into the simple declaration of "Be just and fear not." No platform ever written can completely cover or meet the experiences of a mun in public office. Flat-form or no platform, the man in office will find that the best he can do is to meet each separate problem as it rises, faith-fully, justly, honestly and with sincerity.
