Y. W. C. A. CAMPAIGN STARTS

Canvass for Hundred and Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars for Building Begun.

PRAYER PRECEDES ALL PREPARATION

First Woman's Association in United States Attempting to Raise Specified Amount for Building Within Given Time.

With courage and determination, based upon the faith that women alone know, Thursday morning 150 women began the canvass for $25,000, which shall give to Omaha a Young Women's Christian association building adequate to its demands.

It was a text of assurance that Mrs. W. F. Hartford, president of the association, gave to the women. The campaign that the women will wage will not be based upon sentiment, but it will be rather a business proposition that will be presented to the business men and other citizens, in the interest of the 16,000 wage earning women and the Christian womanhood of the city.

Fifty Business Men. These business men have given their endorsement to the work of the Young Women's Christian Association.

Toric Lenses. Our Toric Lenses, manufactured by our patented machinery, are conceded by oculists and wearers to be the most perfect lenses ever produced.

NO MONEY IN CITY FUND

Reason Given by Water Company for Not Putting in Hydrants. The defense concluded its testimony Thursday morning in the case of the Omaha Water Company against the City of Omaha in the suit for hydrant rentals in the United States circuit court. The only witnesses examined Thursday morning were Secretary Koenig of the water company, who was recalled for a brief re-examination, and Circuit Court Clerk Thummal, to identify certain records of the circuit court relative to former proceedings between the water company and the city.

The general contention of the water company was that the order for placing additional hydrants was ignored because there was no money in the city water fund to pay for them and that the city had no legal right to order additional hydrants for that reason. The court held that this was immaterial if the city was acting within its legal rights and Thummal showed that the city had no legal right to order additional hydrants.

VERDICT AFTER MANY YEARS

Judgment Awarded to Youth of Nineteen for Accident When Five Years Old. Rudolph Gruber, a young man of 19, was given judgment by consent of parties in county court Thursday against the Chicago & Northwestern railway for $600 for the loss of both legs fourteen years ago when he was but 5 years old. He was in the railroad yards at Inman, Holt county, April 1, 1892, when he started to street under a car. The train began to move and both of his legs were cut off near the knees. His parents afterward deserted him and he was left in the care of friends. His mother has since died and he does not know where his father is. The suit was brought through Charles E. Black as next friend.

Farrar, who resigned to become superintendent of the county hospital.

GOSSIP OF THE POLITICIANS

City Attorney Breen Denounces Secret Meetings of Political Candidates.

ADVOCATES BIG PUBLIC GATHERING

Although He is Endorsed by Fontanelles, Who Hold Star-Chamber Sessions, He Says They Are Bad.

City Attorney Breen has relieved his mind on the subject of secret political meetings and pow-wows arranged for the special interest of candidates or sets of candidates. Talking out loud Thursday, he said:

"This campaign is the damndest thing I ever saw. Politics seems to have run to cliques and little bunches and to secret meetings in cellars and garrets. We have organizations with every conceivable title and about every object on earth trying to take a hand in the campaign. I have no use for this sort of thing and don't care who knows it."

"When a man gets out and becomes a candidate for a party nomination, he ought to be permitted to talk to the members of that party. I like to meet my fellow-men irrespective of division within party lines. I have always thought I was welcome to go anywhere to what was called a republican meeting and insist I am still entitled to view politics in that way. I feel a candidate for office should assume the great mass of men are striving to elect good men to office and men who will discharge the duties of the office for the good of his constituents and not for the benefit of any political club or clique. Neither has any right to own him or influence his actions more than another."

"There seems to be in this campaign as never before a sort of closing off opportunity for men who want to get before the people and be heard, and to shut them off by organizing on side issues and cliques together. I believe the meetings should be thrown open to everybody, except perhaps, club meetings in executive sessions. That may be permissible possibly under certain conditions. What I most particularly dislike is the holding of voters where they invite only such candidates as the leaders of the affair desire present. I think a large building downtown, the Auditorium or another, should be rented and all candidates for mayor asked to present themselves and address the people on their policies and course of action in city affairs and let the people see and size them up man for man."

The fact that Mr. Breen is a member of the Fontanelle club, that organization's endorsement for city attorney gives his remarks a peculiar pliancy. The keynotes of the Fontanelle arch has been secrecy and secret sessions with voters. He protests, however, that he has not been requested by the Fontanelle management to refrain from attending Broatch and Hennings meetings as well as Benson meetings.

W. H. Hoffman the only picturesque candidate developed on the present campaign, responded in his Twelfth ward again Wednesday night and addressed a meeting of the Sixth and Twelfth ward Colored Republican club at Thirtieth and Spaulding streets. Mr. Hoffman reiterated his partiality for Broatch, but uttered a new dictum in declaring that if Broatch were not nominated he would support Jim Dahlman for mayor. References made to Tom Donnell met with resistance and a member of the club called Hoffman sharply to account and requested him to confine himself to the issues of the present campaign. City Clerk Elsbourn and W. E. Stockham, both candidates for the clerkship nomination, entertained the assembly. A debate on the question whether a candidate for city clerk should have a platform or not. Elsbourn had the affirmative and Stockham the negative. The club, having already endorsed Sam Greenleaf for the job, did not attempt to decide who was right. Pete Loch and other candidates had a talk at the club, also.

Persistent rumors continue to float about in political circles that the Civic Federation and Fontanelle club elements have practically decided to run an independent candidate for mayor if Broatch should by accident be nominated. The Dodge primary law says in so many words that the names of no candidate not nominated by primaries in the manner prescribed can go on the ballot.

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg of Denver, Colo., Bearer of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sends Thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1628 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Col., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham: For five years I was troubled with a tumor, which kept growing and causing intense agony and great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my household duties and I was often unable to get to bed. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope. I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief, but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size."

"The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I was well again. I am so thankful for my recovery that I feel you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful periods, weakness, displacement or ulceration of the female organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember that there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female ills. Mrs. Pinkham writes all sick women to write her for advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease has been advising sick women free of charge. She has delivered thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass. Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

official election ballots, but Assistant City Attorney Herdman and other lawyers have given opinions that this inhibition is valueless. Herdman contends that under the general election law a citizen has a right to get on the ballot as an independent candidate by presenting a petition signed by a required number of voters. He is equally emphatic in saying that no candidate who submits his name at the primaries can take advantage of this plan if he is defeated. Under the Dodge law a candidate who submits his name at the primaries must pledge himself to abide by the result, and this every candidate has done over his signature.

The friends of Dan Butler have failed in the effort to induce Alvin E. Patton to withdraw from the contest for the democratic city clerkship nomination. Mr. Patton authorizes the statement that he will continue to be an active candidate for the place, having filed in good faith and having no intention of withdrawing.

Albert Spigle, who withdrew his filing for the same place, has written a letter to The Bee, denying absolutely that he pulled out in favor of Dan Butler and declaring that his sole reason was because of a physical condition disabling him from taking an active part in the campaign and in view of a ruling made by the city clerk. What ruling he refers to, he does not explain, says, however, that he does not propose to be made a stepping stone for a person entirely unknown to him.

Evidently concluding that if he expected to be nominated he would have to do more for his candidacy than through the efforts of "Bill" Saunders, manager of the Fontanelle club campaign, Mr. Spigle, C. J. Andersen, an endorser on the slate, held an organization meeting for his special benefit in the Eighth ward Wednesday, in Wolff's hall at Twenty-second and Cumming streets, and cards announcing the object were issued as invitations to a select number. Mr. Andersen has included something of a curiosity on his campaign cards. He says in red ink: "This is one plank of my platform—gas at $1 per 1,000 cubic feet or less." How much less gas than 1,000 cubic feet Mr. Andersen proposes to have sold for it he does not specify. Observers have pointed out the alleged mistake, and say that gas might be inflated to as high as $2 per thousand in Mr. Andersen's favor.

And now Jim Dahlman comes out as a "ladies' man." In the announcement of a joint meeting of Polish societies in his interest in Polish hall on the night of St. Patrick's day, Manager George Rogers says:

"You are requested to bring your friends, especially ladies, as James C. Dahlman will be present."

Authentic advice have it that Mr. Dahlman has on his hands an insurrection of the Irish, who accuse him of having confused them, the Polish and the significance of St. Patrick's day. They are said to be planning a raid on the Poles if proper amends are not made, ladies or no ladies.

A SPIGLE IS FOUND DEAD

Omaha Man Dies from Asphyxiation at Home Supposed to Be Accidental.

A Spigle of 64 South Eleventh street was found dead from asphyxiation in the toilet room of his home Thursday morning. Evidently the man had been dead several hours before Mr. Levy, a roomer at the Spigle house, opened the door and saw the lifeless form of Spigle on the floor. Spigle's coat was found hanging over a gas jet, and it was supposed that he had called, and he made an examination of the case. While the members of the Spigle family were satisfied the man came to his death in an accidental manner, an agent of one of the insurance companies in which Spigle carried insurance told the coroner he believed he would demand an inquest before passing on the payment of the insurance, as he did not feel altogether assured the case was an accidental one. The coroner stated he believed an inquest would be held Friday.

It was the wish of the Spigle family that no inquest be held. Dr. H. H. Robinson was summoned as soon as Spigle was found. The doctor expressed the opinion the death of Spigle was an accident.

Spigle was 46 years of age and had resided in Omaha twenty years. He is survived by a deaf and dumb wife and two sons and three daughters. One son, Frank, lives at Chicago, while the daughter is Mrs. D. S. Finkenstien of this city. Julius, Eva and Nannie live at home. Spigle was a member of Omaha Hebrew camp of the Modern Woodmen of America, in which he carried insurance. He also had $1,000 life insurance in the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company and $1,000 accident insurance in the same company.

The funeral arrangements have not been made. Spigle returned home at 11:30 Wednesday night, after the members of his family had all retired. It was noticed only morning that he had not occupied his bed during the night.

WIFE HIT HIM WITH BIBLE

One of Charges Made by Husband in His Petition for Divorce.

Judge Kennedy Thursday morning granted a divorce to Henry Wyman from Alice Maud Mary Wyman. Several distinct charges of cruelty were made in the petition and supported by depositions from New York, where the defendant still lives. Mr. Wyman alleged that his wife frequently assaulted him with once a week, and that she had threatened to shoot him and also hit him over the head with the family Bible. These acts were testified to in depositions from Mr. Wyman's relatives. One of the deponents explained Mrs. Wyman weighed 200 pounds, while the plaintiff never weighed more than 125.

Alice Butterfield has applied for a divorce from Charles D. Butterfield, to whom she was married September 18, 1900, in Osceola, Ia. She says the defendant told her within thirty days after the wedding that he had made a mistake in marrying her and after that continually reminded her of it. He also refused to associate with her friends and for days at a time would not speak to her. She wants her maiden name, Alice Birkhimer, restored to her.

Edda Karcher asks for a divorce from Albert G. on the grounds of desertion. They were married in Omaha November 15, 1900.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

George W. Ryan of the firm of Mahoney & Ryan, accompanied by his wife, will leave Saturday for a three months' trip through Europe. Charles L. Nichols of Chicago, son of the late Dr. Nichols, was in Omaha Wednesday by his way home from Pawnee City, where he had been attending the funeral of a mother. Major A. G. Hull, superintendent of the Battle Mountain Sanitarium at Hot Springs, S. D., is in the city, conferring with Captain Nichols relative to the equipment of the sanitarium. The city has issued a permit to Parlin George for Mattie to erect a brick and brick warehouse to cost $123,000, and which is already under construction on Leavenworth street, extending from Tenth to Eleventh.

Colorado Climate and Doctors Fail to Cure

An eloquent and convincing testimonial from Mr. S. L. Davidson of Denver, Colo., father of the little group of handsome, sturdy children whose pictures we publish.

Mr. Davidson and his family were under the care of the best doctors in the East and spent much time and money in futile attempts to regain their health. They finally came to Colorado, thinking the climate would be beneficial, but were again disappointed.

Finally Duffy's Malt Whiskey was tried, and proved successful after everything else had failed. It is necessary to read Mr. Davidson's letter and study the picture to appreciate his gratitude for what Duffy's has done for himself and his family. He says:

"I want you to know that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has done all the vital work, good than ten years' medical attendance. We were under the care of the best doctors in the East, spent many times and money endeavoring to secure some respectable degree of health. Finally we came to Colorado, at which time the climate would do us some good. In this we were disappointed, and I was on the verge of returning East when my attention was attracted to Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Personally I had not used liquor in any form for some time, but I bought a bottle of your whiskey, when used as a medicine, I determined to give up doctors and take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey exclusively. From our experience I may state that your Malt Whiskey will bring health to any man, woman or child, who is in need of it. It is a promoter of good health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong. Seven thousand doctors prescribe it, and 2,000 hospitals use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey exclusively. Beware of dangerous imitations and substitutes. They are positively harmful and are sold for profit only by unscrupulous dealers. Look for the trade-mark, the 'Old Chemist,' on the label, and be certain the seal is unbroken. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y. Dealer's advice and medical booklet free. BEFORE THE PEOPLE'S BAR

Stage Manager Crawford Draws Curtain on Good Open Scene.

TOM LEE MISTAKEN FOR BIG BEAR

Several Bad Actors Are Before the Footlights for First Time in This Part of Season.

After the recent turmoil in criminal circles and the distribution of political calling cards bearing the photographs and Bertillon measurements of those who want to serve their fellow creatures in the city hall, the people's bar resumed its morning medley of musings and mournings Thursday morning. Stage Manager Crawford arrived for a pair of stiffs for a little smile as broad as "Judge" Cooley's majority platform, while Prompter Franklin Murphy was in his box with a new green tie in his pocket. He will wear the tie next Saturday day.

The morning service was opened with a short prayer from Court Sergeant Whelan, who prayed for a 50-cent gas, fifty street car rides for a dollar, a municipal workhouse, a new uniform for himself and for 20,000 people in Omaha in 1906. He also prayed for a pair of stiffs for a little orphan boy who lives in North Omaha.

While all that was going on Attorney Ritchie, who defended P. Crowe and who had a client in the police court Thursday morning, looked out upon the earth which was covered with a deep blanket of snow. He approved by the command of a little shawl drawn tightly over her head and a basket swinging from her left arm. The basket was covered with a newspaper to protect its contents from the elements. Ritchie was conjuring up in his mind the details of the little drama being enacted before his eyes. The girl was taking a basket of provisions to an old woman who was hungry. The girl was lost to physical sight when she started the long climb of the stairway which led to the humble apartments of the old woman. But pulling aside the veil of mortal vision Ritchie followed the girl with the basket up the eighteen steps of the stairway, he saw her open the door and greet the old woman.

"I have something real nice for you, granny," said the girl, as she threw back her shawl, shook the snow off and then opened her basket, which revealed a lot of nice things to eat. The old woman managed to raise herself up on her pallet of sorrow and suffering before the girl could get to her. The girl propped the woman up with a pillow, spread out on a table the good things she had brought, and then prepared a cup of tea for the old woman. As the girl looked liked the old woman's daughter, who had been killed by wolves years ago in Sarpy county, the old woman cried, the tears falling into her cup as she drank the tea.

George Morris, Percy Truelove and Ed Logan comprised the first sketch team to entertain the people's bar habits. Sergeant Sigwart and Detective J. T. Dunn, who picked up the trio Wednesday night, raised their right arms and swore to tell the truth concerning the prisoners. Detective Dunn declared that Morris was found as a safe robber and an all-round "bad actor." It was explained that the defect in Morris' left eye had been caused by a premature explosion of a safe Morris was tampering with years ago. Morris was sentenced to thirty days by the police judge. Truelove, who was the man who ran from Sixteenth and Farnam streets to Eleventh and Nicholas streets last year and then jumped into a boulder where two women were curing their hair, was sentenced to ten days. Logan was given ten days. Logan was said to have occupied a chair in Odia's hall for some time.

After taking a course in creme de mint and other liquid cups of cosmopolitan creations Frank Donnelly's kite broke away from him in Ramcat alley during the early hours of Thursday morning. When found by a patrolman directions and dates were all alike in Donnelly's. He could not even tell his name at the city jail. The man's face appeared to have been beaten and his pockets were turned inside out, suggesting foul treatment, but when the morning hours brought reason to Donnelly's

SALE OF CIGARS INCREASES

Due to Prosperity and Passage of Law Against Use of Cigarettes.

The number of cigars manufactured in Omaha shows a large increase for last year over the previous year, and this is accounted for in two ways, first by the prosperity of the people, who can better afford to smoke cigars, and by the law which has shut off the sale of cigarettes. According to the manufacturers and dealers, the sale of all cigars has increased just as fast as the sale of home made cigars, and is taken as a good reflex of the prosperous condition of the state.

The following is a comparative statement of the tobacco used and the cigars manufactured in the collection district of Nebraska during the calendar years 1904 and 1905. It shows an increase of 1,700,000 cigars for the year 1905. The tobacco used in 1904 was 491,025 pounds and the cigars made 25,877,804, and in 1905 528,597 pounds were used and 27,318,576 cigars made.
