reason still unexplained the operator there neglected to do so.
In the meantime the eastbound train had received its orders and started to meet the westbound train at Beaver.

Both trains were running at the usual speed, the deep snow and high wind making it necessary to exercise exceptional care. Suddenly both headlights flashed out from the darkness and was recalled for the first time that something was wrong.

According to the story of Fireman J. H. Smith of the westbound train Engineer Walter Coslett opened the emergency brake and the train was checked for an instant, but the slippery rails and the momentum of the heavy train carried it on.

From the studies and reports of the trainmen who survived and who were in the forward part of the train the impact was scarcely noticeable, but the crushing, grinding noise that followed warned them that something had been struck.

Fireman Smith was the only one of the engine crew to escape. The baggage car of No. 2 broke in two and the three coaches squeezed together. The baggage and mail cars and coach of No. 16 buckled, but none of the cars were telescoped, as was first reported.

Debris Takes Fire.
Hardly had the trainmen and passengers reached a realization that all was not right when to their horror a sheet of fire ran through the cars on both sides of the engine, and in a twinkling the crackling sound of breaking timbers started them to action.

Communication was opened with the Pueblo office of the railroad from Portland, Ore., and a relief train with physicians was dispatched to the wreck at once. As quickly as possible the injured were placed in the sleepers and the engine of the relief train started back to Pueblo with them and also the passengers of the

United Mine Workers' Credentials Committee Sees Pittsburgh Man as Delegate.

REMOVED FROM DISTRICT PRESIDENCY
Action of Executive Board Approved and Question of Expulsion from Organization Deferred.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 16.—The special national convention of the United Mine Workers of America this afternoon endorsed the action of the executive board in sustaining the findings of President John Mitchell in the matter of ousting Patrick Dolan and Ulrich Bellingham from the presidency and vice presidency of District No. 5, West Pennsylvania. As far as the national organization is concerned this is the final decision.

Only the plea of President Mitchell and Secretary W. B. Wilson prevented the expulsion of Dolan from the organization. Dolan and his supporters claim something of a victory in defeat for the fact that he was seated a delegate in the convention, as was the Vice President Bellingham. The action was followed immediately upon the partial report of the credentials committee, which had included the names of Bellingham and Dolan as delegates.

President H. C. Perry of Illinois district jumped to his feet as the secretary of the credentials committee ceased reading. "No one here," he said, "is in a position to understand that report seats Patrick Dolan as a delegate in this convention," he asked.

"That is the effect of the committee's report," President Mitchell replied. "Then I move to accept the report except insofar as Mr. Dolan and Mr. Bellingham's names are concerned, and that they be seated as delegates in this convention." Secretary Wilson asked if, under this motion, if carried, Dolan's case would come up for separate consideration by the convention and was told that it would. A motion to accept the report as read prevailed.

Wilson and Mitchell Protest.
Delegate James J. Hiskell then moved that Dolan be declared out until Monday after the convention. Secretary Wilson earnestly opposed this motion. "You are establishing a false precedent if you take this action," said Secretary Wilson. "You are placing him in the position of a martyr, and he could go before the people and claim you violated the laws of this organization. You can no more afford to violate the laws than he can. Seat him as a delegate and deal with him afterward for his previous action."

President Mitchell said: "No one man in this convention has greater cause for resentment against Patrick Dolan than I. No one man in this convention has been grossly more wronged by him than I have. But I hope I am big enough to forget personal wrongs when the laws of the United Mine Workers of America are called into question."

President Mitchell then recited the provision of the constitution for the election of delegates. "I ask with Secretary Wilson," he went on, "that you will make a mistake if you refuse to seat Mr. Dolan. I have no desire to sustain his action in the convention, but whether he does justice to me or not, I will do justice to him. I want to appeal to you in the name of your laws and your constitution."

Delegate Walker of Illinois inquired whether it would be violation of the laws of the organization to hang Dolan. After the laughter had subsided President Mitchell suggested that this statement might be differently construed when read in cold blood. "I don't care how it is construed," he replied.

deport to the penitentiary, where they will be kept for the present.
Among the many rumors circulated Thursday evening regarding the whereabouts of some of Sheriff McDonald's prisoners, it was reported he sent some to the New York Life building, while another rumor, given out by one of the city detectives, was that not one of the prisoners was removed from the county jail and that the "committee" was just bluffing when it went through the county jail in search of persons to hang on the upper end of a rope.

The last portion of the series of rumors as to where the prisoners spent Thursday night states they were in the criminal court room of the courthouse. "This is straight," remarked one of the members of the local detective force. If that is so the culprits must have spent a highly delectable evening listening to the reverberating notes and howls of the mob, which, for all the prisoners could tell, really might have been there for business. So far as the noise went it was demoralizing enough to have scared the life out of an army of prisoners.

INQUEST TO BE HELD ON MONDAY
Hitch Between Coroner and Dr. Condon Over Autopsy.
The inquest over the remains of Edward Flury will be held until Monday afternoon. Some change in the plans as originally formed by Coroner Bralley were brought about after a clash between Dr. A. P. Condon, who attended the dead conductor during his illness. Immediately after the death of Flury, Dr. Condon held an autopsy over the remains at St. Joseph's hospital. This was done without official consent or notification. The autopsy of Dr. Condon is unofficial, and it appears, is not sufficient, but it is now impossible after the mutilation which has been done, to hold another. Mr. Bralley was rather vexed with the action of Dr. Condon and in regard to the matter last night.

Dr. Condon was asked regarding the controversy last night and said: "I was asked by the family to hold the autopsy, as I had attended the man for a week. I went along and so immediately after death had ensued, but I did not know there was anything wrong about my doing so. I expect to testify before the coroner's jury Monday as to the result of my post-mortem."

Coroner Bralley empaneled a jury late yesterday afternoon and it was taken to view the remains of Edward Flury, to meet again at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. "CAP" MOSTYN ACTS AS CAPPER Gets in Crowd and is First to Accept Sheriff's Terms.
After it was all over there was no disputing the fact that the alleged lynching was a mob and an opera house affair. One official remarked: "If someone had snapped his finger the crowd would have posed for a photograph."

When the plank which broke through the door of the jail was received by those waiting inside a bulky individual with more intoxicants than sense came with the plank. The whole thing was so sudden for him that he was at a loss as to what to say when he got inside with the battering ram. Several of the jail attendants grasped the situation and ushered the corpulent delegate down the stairway which led to the cell. The man is known as a rouser at Twenty-first and Cuming streets, but for his part he has no objection to being taken to any rate the self-appointed leader was kept in the cellar dim of the county jail until daylight, when he said he would go home and be a good boy forever more.

Acting Chief of Police Mostyn showed his fine hand during the critical moment, if there was any critical moment. "Cap" Mostyn has had sundry experiences with mobs. He can size up a mob and feel its pulse better than any physician. Sheriff McDonald went over to the south wall of the county jail and said: "Follow citizens! You are organized, and the best thing for you to do is to appoint a committee to go through the jail." Acting Chief Mostyn, who had in the meantime worked his way into the crowd, assumed the role of Vox Populi and shouted, "That's fair!"

At first a number of citizens, soldiers and sailors looked at Captain Mostyn as though they had never before seen him, but they took up his suggestion and seemed pacified. Sheriff McDonald attempted to hit a lynchman and only hit his hand in the attempt. Patrolman Shields was struck over the head with a chunk of congealed snow. He will live.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Justice Gould of the district supreme court today overruled the demurrer to the indictment against Representative Binger Hermann of Oregon, former commissioner of the general land office, charging him with destroying public records. Mr. Worthington, counsel for Representative Hermann, asked that that matter be deferred until Monday, saying that they might appeal to the court of appeals for a special appeal, and if they did not do that they might file a motion for a bill of particulars. Further action was deferred until Monday.
