EASTER DIAMONDS

Buy them now—the expensiveness of Diamonds and the usual necessity of paying "ALL CASH DOWN" has often prevented the giving of Diamonds as EASTER OFFERINGS. Since I have commenced selling Diamonds on EASY PAYMENTS, and giving generous credit, this idea is a thing of the past. Now furnishes no reason why you should put off buying a Diamond or watch any longer. You are welcome to credit, whether you are a moderate salaried employe or a wealthy employer. With five or ten dollars as a first payment, you can give your wife, mother, sister or sweetheart a beautiful Diamond, that will last forever—enhance in value and continually bring pleasant thoughts of the giver's generosity.

LACK OF CASH

Out-of-Town Patrons

may obtain, through correspondence, a satisfactory idea of my comprehensive stock of Diamonds, Watches, Silverware, Cut Glass and Rich Jewelry. I will gladly send selections on approval—such requests should mention the usual business references, as well as desirable amounts of expenditure.

SOCIETY GOES A-SLEIGHING

Winty Week Gives New Division to Omaha Folks.

MANY MERRY PARTIES OUT EACH NIGHT

Little Else to Take Up the Time and the Evenings Are Spent on Boulevard in Bob Sleds and Cutters.

As Usual.

There was no charitable institution. But which winter-well supplied. This statement treasurers could not refute. In consequence fall dull the festive tide.

At length some social genius did suggest. Their surplus was not so large at all. The life became a thing of interest. Replete with fancy fat, and fat, and fat.

The Civic.

The Social Calendar.

MONDAY—Qui Vive Dancing club's final party. Mrs. Manley Taylor, an afternoon.

TUESDAY—Mrs. Fred Dale, the Tuesday Luncheon club. Mrs. Charles Kountze, the cooking party.

WEDNESDAY—Mrs. May Auld, a luncheon. Parish Aid luncheon.

THURSDAY—Mrs. P. A. Myers, bridge luncheon; Mrs. Max Berkenrod entertained.

FRIDAY—Omikron Alpha Pi fraternity dance.

The abundant fall of snow helped society to a diversion somewhat of the ordinary last week and all the more enjoyable because there has been practically no coasting or sleighing this winter. The bobbed, and the cutter superseded the automobile and the Boulevard and the Benson road rang with sleigh bells and the voices of many merry sleighing parties the last of the week. Aside from these very delightful larks, society has enjoyed along enjoying itself in a small way, although the week did boast of four really large and elaborate card parties. These were practically all, however, and considerably more than is in sight for this week.

Not a few women prominent in society are lending their efforts to the campaign for the building fund of the Young Women's Christian association. Several of them have pledged their time for the entire month, and a more generous Lenten work could be asked of no one. The interest of these women has had a material influence with many who might not otherwise have given so substantial assistance.

If the regiment is not ordered away it will be intact here any day of the spring rifle practice and field maneuvers, which will be held in the Crow Creek reserve in the early summer.

cial agents at $1,000 each and two special agents at $1,200 each.

Section 4—That the secretary of the Interior is hereby directed to furnish sufficient quarters for the work of this bureau at an annual rental not to exceed $2,000.

Section 5—That this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

It is important that club women should be familiar with this measure, as the committee is depending upon them to be of material assistance in educating public sentiment to the necessity for such a bureau.

The current topics department of the Woman's club will hold its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon of this week at 2 o'clock.

At a recent meeting of the Union Label League resolutions were passed embodying appreciation and commendation of the efforts of the woman's club to stimulate public interest and attention to the evils in the industrial system, such as child labor and the sweat shop system.

ROAD WITH TWO TIME CHANGES

Illinois Central Has Same System from Chicago to New Orleans.

On only one railroad operating out of Chicago for a distance of 1,500 miles is it unnecessary for trainmen or passengers to change their watches an hour one way or another. The line which requires no tinkering with watches is the Illinois Central between Chicago and New Orleans, the entire route, 22 miles, being in the same latitude.

Going from Chicago to New York, if confusion be obliterated, your watch must be set an hour ahead at Buffalo, or other place on the dividing line, and going west from Chicago you will be an hour ahead of time unless you shift your watch one hour back a couple of hundred miles west of the Missouri river. This changing of time has become such a habit with travelers that they usually lose sight of the astronomical reason, and conductors on the Illinois Central have during the present winter extracted considerable amusement out of the question. This season travel to New Orleans and Cuba from the north has been unusually heavy and thousands have gone south for the first time. Many of these people have traveled extensively and returned from Chicago and forgetting the location of the Illinois Central, continually ask conductors regarding the point where time is to be changed. Being told there is no change they then begin to figure out the reason.

The fact that there is no change in time between Chicago and New Orleans greatly facilitates the operation of this road, as conductors, engineers, trainmen, dispatchers and others are not bothered with latitude and dual dials. It also enables the company to publish an intelligible folder time card.

URQUHART BACK FROM CUBA

Manager of Packing Company Returns from Pleasant Visit to the Island.

C. K. Urquhart, manager of the Omaha Packing company, has returned from a business trip to Cuba. Mr. Urquhart having accompanied him. The trip proved a very enjoyable one, Mr. Urquhart being favorably impressed with everything that he saw and he believes that the business opportunities on the island are many. He spent a portion of his time in Havana and in traveling over the island. He also spent several days as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Page, former residents of Omaha, on their orange plantation. Mr. Page assisted by his two sons, Ralph and Bayard, is managing the Redegon and Bayard plantation, which adjoins each other, making a total of 2,000 acres all planted to oranges, lemons and grape fruit. The last of the trees were put in the ground a short time before Mr. Urquhart's arrival. This is said to be the largest citrus fruit orchard in the world under one management, and it takes an army of men to keep it in shape. Mr. Urquhart expressed himself as surprised at the rapid growth made by fruit trees in Cuba, the soil and climate evidently being perfectly adapted to their wants.

Did Not See Any Coppers.

J. L. Wells and H. P. Benson, North Eighteenth street, recently took up horse-stands near Mullen, Hooker county, and having observed in an Omaha paper the statement that Iversen and hotel men were in league with the cattlemen against the farmer, making a total of 2,000 acres all planted to oranges, lemons and grape fruit, the soil and climate evidently being perfectly adapted to their wants.

WOMAN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

The organization of the Social Service club of Omaha last week "to promote acquaintance among those engaged in social service; to further plans for co-operative effort and to disseminate knowledge of subjects within its scope through addresses and printed matter," suggests the dawn of that ideal institution proposed by Mrs. Sarah Platt Jackson, a woman's club for nobility. It has been acknowledged by the leading jurists, clergymen and other prominent men of Omaha, that this work of social service has been left too much to the women in the past and that in consequence the men are but little informed regarding some of the most important social and industrial movements that are everywhere being advocated by women's clubs and other students of sociology. Wherever it has been instituted the juvenile club has been championed, supported and largely identified with the women's clubs. The same is true to an extent of the compulsory educational traveling libraries and several other institutions that have come to be looked upon as "club work" because their existence has resulted largely from the agitation of club women. (This is not as it should be; these matters, every one, deserve the interest and co-operation of all reputable citizens. Beyond a certain point the work of women cannot be effective, and it is gratifying that such men as have identified themselves with the Social Service club have joined hands with the club women in this much needed work.)

Nebraska club women are rejoicing with their success in the passage of a child labor bill by the Iowa legislature last Tuesday. The measure did not pass without amendments, but these have not seriously crippled its effectiveness and its friends realize that much has been gained. In spite of the assertions of many prominent men in public office, that "Iowa had pointed the work of women cannot be effective, and it is gratifying that such men as have identified themselves with the Social Service club have joined hands with the club women in this much needed work."

Another strong program will be presented by the social science department of the Woman's club Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Judge W. W. Salsburgh will speak on "The Inheritance Tax," which should be of interest to all women. Colonel T. C. McCullough will present "A Defense of Col. McCullough's views on the inheritance tax." The line with the study followed by the department this year the program promises to be one of the most interesting. An important business session will precede the program at 2:30 o'clock.

The national child labor committee is urging women, the clergy and all others interested in a betterment of the conditions of children to lend their influence with their representatives in congress for the passage of a bill referred to as bill S. 262, with provisions as follows: It be enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in congress assembled: That there shall be established in the Department of the Interior a bureau to be known as the children's bureau.

Section 2—That the said bureau shall be under the direction of a chief, to be appointed by the president, and with the advice and consent of the senate, and shall receive an annual compensation of $5,000. The said bureau shall investigate and report upon all matters pertaining to child labor, the health, efficiency, character and training of children. The chief of said bureau shall, from time to time, publish the results of these investigations.

Section 3—That there shall be in said bureau, until otherwise provided by law, an assistant chief, to be appointed by the secretary of the interior, who shall receive an annual compensation of $2,000; one private secretary to the chief of the bureau, who shall receive an annual compensation of $1,500; a chief clerk, who shall receive an annual compensation of $2,000; one statistical clerk, who shall receive an annual compensation of $1,500; one clerk of class four; four clerks of class three; two clerks of class two and six clerks of class one.
