ematic labor, and you have a place where the community is protected from the criminal and more important still you have given the prisoner a chance to re-Iorm

"How much the first cost of such a building will be I do not know. But I do know that Omaha is in the midst of the most substantial and lasting progress, that the year upon which we have just entered will mark the greatest stride towards the building of a metropolis that this community has ever known. I know before the maturity of bonds issued this year for a workhouse that the institution will be outgrown and inadequate to the needs of the city, whether we expend $25,000 or $50,000

OMAHA AGAIN SECOND IN CORN Recovers Old Position as Next to Biggest Primary Market

in World.

Omahs has regained its old place as the econd primary corn market of the world. This is shown by the January report of the Department of Commerce and Labor, received Saturday at the office of the Omaha Grain exchange.

The table of corn movement shows Omaha second to Chicago and ahead of Kansus City by 500,000 bushels. Qmaha started out at the head of the list last year and held the lead until December, when export rates on corn went into effect, Kansas City then forged to second place. Receipts of corn at Omaha and Council Bluffs for January were 3,677,000 bushels, against 2,685,000 bushels in 1905. Receipts of wheat were 321,100 bushels, against 195,000 uahels last year.

The following table shows the position of Omaha and its closest competitors in the corn trade:

Draid Hill Improvers.

Draid Hill Improvenent club will miset Monday evening at its hall. Thirtieth and Spaulding streets, for important busi-sees. 'I has been requested that these living between Twenty-seventh and Thirty-skth streets and Bristol street and Ames avenue, attend with a view of becoming members, if not already enrolled. One of the matters to come before the club Monday evening will be the North Omaha Protective association, which was organized by the club. Other matters of general in-invest will be the workhouse, question of having two talephone systems in Omaha and poor mail survice in north part of the oity.

Postal Conduits Are Down.

Postal Conduits Are Down. The Postal Telegraph company has all its cables in the conduits and a brick terminal room is being constructed in the basement of the building. The poles will be dawn in about three weeks, or as soon as connections can all be made. Consider-able work also is being done on the call messenger service and this will soon be perfected. The Postal will place a large clock on a gole in front of the Parnam street office, which will be illuminated at messet.
