We urge every woman in Omaha to view our magnifisent showing of spring millinery while the display is in its most brilliant stage. Many delightful style innovations shown for the first time on Saturday.

Our greatest endeavor this year has been to show the favorite reigning modes in the less expensive hats. Both the graceful shapes of the expensive hats and the smart trimming effects may be had in hats of moderate price—and every Brandeis hat has a touch of individual style of its own; our special price.....

The Small Sailor gains more popularity every day.

Exclusive Model Hats, $10

These models were artfully designed by the leading milliners of America-the hansome Vierge La Brun, the dressy Louis XIV. hats, the dashing Cromwell effects and the stunning hats of the picturesque Watteau period.

Branpeis' showing of hats is broad enough to include every authentic style of Paris and New York designs. It is the only correct and satisfying gallery of millinery art available to women in this section.

=Stylish Street Hats, $2.50=

The little sailors, worn at a saucy tilt and full of smart style predominate among these little suit hats.

Flowers form the key note of millinery garniture for spring, and the varieties favored by fashion are more brilliant than ever. Every Brandeis Hat Has that Touch of Dashing Metropolitan Style Only Provisions of General Statute Held to He Superseded by Section of Charter Under Which the Beard is Acting.

The Board of Fire and Police Commis ioners of South Omaha took up the question of the publication of notices of application of liquor licenses at its session last night and came to the decision that they would be guided by the provisions of section 132 of the city charter in the matter. They expressed their opinion in the follow-

Judging from the latest decision of the supreme court in respect to the Dodge primary law, in the case of Adair against Doroxel, we believe it is within the effect of the statutes contained in the charter, and in the special section cited, for the same to repeal by implication the conflicting sections of any former law—in this case the Slocumb law. We are further determined that the board will have to be guided by the express provisions of section 12 of the charter, to the effect that notices of application for liquor licensos must be published in a local paper of the city having a daily circulation of not less than 200 and which has been in existence for fifty-two consecutive weeks. The board further declares that they will not be able to consider the application of any parties whose notice was otherwise published.

This will have the effect of giving the publication of the licenses to the Daily Judging from the latest decision of the

One of the most popular young Bohemian-American business men in this city is the republican councilmanic candidate from the Second ward, Frank Dworak, Mr. Dworsk has lived here all his life, working himself up by frugality and industry until isiness of his own in the Second ward. He only consented to enter politics at the urgent request of his countrymen, who wish to be represented in the council by a business man of their nationality. Mr. Dworak's record in business and private life is an enviable one and his public record needs no apology. That these excellent citizens of ours should be represented and that Mr. Dworak is peculiarly fitted to represent them creditably is conceded by all. German-Americans Angry.

There is no use trying to conceal the indignation of the German-American democrats, who have been foremost in the annual endeavor for democratic success in this city. The German-American democrats are not saying much, but their attitude in the campaign is well known to be unfriendly to the democratic ticket. Their candidate for mayor at the primaries was not, in their judgment, treated fairly, and the fact that he was a prominent citizen of excellent standing, with an official record for efficiency and honesty, should have insured him better treatment. This is the opinion of the German-American democrats. Some of them make no statements one way or the other, but others frankly oppose Hoctor and men of the Hoctor stripe. They say that Hoctor's record during the fifteen years in office ought to convince any man, woman or child that not much could be ex-

In the Edinburgh University three human lungs lie side by side. One is of an Eskimo and is snow white. In life, this would be ruddy with rich blood. Another is that of a coal-miner and is black. The other is of a town dweller and is a dirty slate gray, as are the lungs of most city residents. That's why consumption thrives in cities.

One reason why Scott's Emulsion does so much to keep down consumption is because it helps to keep the lungs clean and supplies them with rich, red blood. It makes the lungs germ-resisting. If the body is run down and health is at a low ebb Scott's Emulsion will build it up quickly and permanently.

Mrs. Grush charges she sent Thompson to the bakery some distance away, letting him take a horse and buggy, her husband's overcoat and $1.15 in money at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. When he had not returned three hours later she became suspicious and notified the police, who located the man. They found he had spent nearly all the mey in drink, leaving the horse and buggs, at a livery barn. He had met a friend in his wanderings and the two conceived the idea of selling the rig. GREAT NEED OF MORE POLICE

Fact Emphasized by Comparing Omaha Statistics with Those of Other Cities.

"Figures do not lie," remarked Chief of Police Donahue Friday morning, when he made comparisons between the last annual reports of the Omaha and Atlanta (Ga.) police departments. The Atlanta report was received Friday morning and immediately was examined by the chief, who was prompted to state that the more he compares the police statistics of Omaha compares the police statistics of Omaha tennis player.

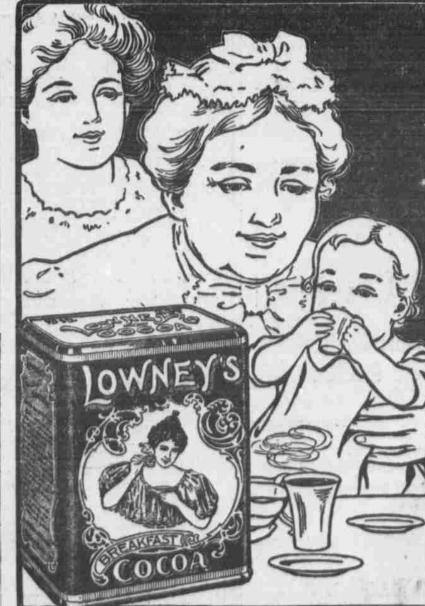

needs of a larger police department here The figures of other cities are not used alone as a criterion by the chief, but merely to strengthen his own contention that the department here is inadequate to the needs. Some of the comparative statistics cuiled from the Omaha and Atlanta reports of last year show the following disparities:

$110,086,41 $178,558,63 It will be seen that while Atlanta has three-fourths Omaha's population, the southern city has nearly three times as many patrolmen and an annual appropriation of more than 50 per cent more than that of Omaha. Reports of other cities show nearly as
