

FOUR FUNERALS ARE HELD

Miss Foss' Body Taken to Old Home in Columbus, Ohio.

MISS ESTHER NASH AT HOLY SEPULCHER

Mrs. Mary E. Southard and Prof. Henry Allen Are Laid at Rest at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

In accordance with her own wishes the funeral services for Miss Anna Foss, principal of Kellom school, were of a simple character. Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Newton M. Mann, minister of Unity church, delivered a short eulogy at the home, 508 Farnam street. The services were attended by the teachers of Kellom school and a few intimate friends. Shortly after the services the body was taken to the Burlington station by G. W. Anderson of Denver, a nephew, and Miss Catherine Foss of Omaha, a sister. Mr. Anderson and Miss Foss accompanied the body to Columbus, O., where the burial and final rites will be held Friday afternoon. Columbus was the old home of Miss Foss. In honor of the memory of Miss Foss the flag was raised at half mast at the schools Wednesday and the Kellom school dismissed for the afternoon. There were no pallbearers.

At 3:30 Friday afternoon a public memorial service for Miss Foss will be held at First Congregational church, where the public school teachers and general public will attend. At that service the principals of the city will adopt resolutions of condolence.

Funeral of Miss Nash. The funeral services of Miss Esther Nash were held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m., from St. Cecilia's Catholic church, on Fortieth near Burt street, and were largely attended, the church being filled to overflowing with sympathizing friends. Father D. J. Harrington was the chief officiating priest, with Father J. W. Benson as master of ceremonies. Father Bernard Sinne as sub-deacon, Father James Dobson, assistant to Father Stenson; Father A. M. Colaneri, celebrant.

The impressive ceremony of solemn requiem high mass was celebrated, Bishop Scannell presiding, with Father M. P. Dowling and Father P. P. McCarthy as assistants to the bishop. Father John Jennette also assisted in the ceremonies. The requiem was sung by H. Burkley, assisted by the choir of Sacred Heart in the responses. The sermon was preached by Bishop Scannell. He spoke of the high Christian character of Miss Nash.

Following the address of Bishop Scannell the ceremony of announcing the casket was observed, Bishop Scannell performing the ceremony. Mrs. Welpton then sang "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," after which the clergy retired and the ceremonies inside the church ended.

Present at the ceremonies and seated near the casket were twenty young women, classmates of Miss Nash at Sacred Heart school. These girls were attired in white, with veils, each carrying a cluster of Easter lilies. Upon the conclusion of the ceremonies the twenty young girls formed in two lines outside from the church door to the hearse and the casket was carried out between them. The pallbearers were: Eddie Creighton, Ed Baird, Frank Keogh, Paul Gallagher, Thomas Davis, Barton Millard, Richard Coad and Lee McShane.

As the pallbearers passed through the open ranks of the twenty young girls with the casket containing the body of Miss Nash the great throng of friends outside reverently bared their heads, remaining uncovered until the casket was placed in the hearse. Interment was made in Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

Venerable Mother at Rest. The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary S. Southard took place Wednesday afternoon, from the home of her son, Charles P. Southard, 150 North Seventeenth street, with a large number of friends present. The services were conducted by Rev. T. J. Mackay, rector of All Saints' church. The pallbearers were: J. T. Beckman, H. A. Doud, William Keller, Albert Krug, George M. Nattiger and Charles L. Saunders. Among those present from abroad to attend the funeral are: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Southard of Denver. On account of the illness of Miss Clara Southard the interment services at Forest Lawn cemetery were private.

DE UNGER HELD TO ANSWER

Man Charged with Misappropriating Money of Another Bound Over for Trial.

S. Victor DeUnger, who was brought back from Des Moines by Detective Ferris on a charge of larceny as a bailee, was arraigned in police court Wednesday morning by Attorney Fitch. DeUnger pleaded not guilty and agreed to waive the preliminary examination. He was bound to the district court in the sum of $1,000.

DeUnger was charged with appropriating to his own use $750 given him by R. B. Cameron, with whom DeUnger formed a partnership as the Midland Publishing company. Cameron alleged he gave DeUnger $750 to be used as a guarantee with a publishing firm which was to get out a book on Omaha for Cameron and DeUnger. DeUnger is said to have absconded with the money. DeUnger and his wife were arrested on a train at Des Moines last week. The wife was released. DeUnger fought the extradition but lost his suit. He will not talk of the affair.

Remainder to Be Wiped Out at Present Term of Court.

DOYLE'S CONVICTION MARKS THE FIFTH of the Five Disposed of One Brings Death Penalty and One Life, Other Sentences Yet to Come.

The conviction of John Doyle of the murder of John Kelly Tuesday afternoon marks the close of the fifth of the twelve murder cases now pending in this country. This is an unusually large number, but the cases are being disposed of rapidly and County Attorney Blinn hopes to be through with most of them before the close of this term of court. These with the large number of holdup and burglary cases, have cluttered the criminal docket, and it has practically been determined if necessary two or three of the judges will be asked to take up criminal cases near the end of the term.

Of those charged with murder Jay O'Hearn and Leo Angus of the quartet of Taunton murderers have been disposed of, the former getting the death penalty and the latter a life sentence under a plea of guilty. Leslie Allen, a colored man charged with killing Lee Jarrett, was found guilty and has been sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary. William Bartee, another colored man recently was convicted of murder in the second degree and has not been sentenced yet. In both his case and that of Doyle the jury recommended clemency.

The murder cases still to try are those of Nelson and Warren, co-defendants with O'Hearn and Angus. Cal Wain, Harrison Clark and Clarence Gathright, charged with killing Street Car Conductor Edward Flurry; Leo Osborne, charged with shooting his father in a quarrel between his father and mother; Frank Noonan, charged with stabbing Charles Larson of South Omaha, and James Diggs, charged with the murder of Frank Wheeler.
