At the executive session held before the council meeting. which lasted an hour, Councilman Olson stated that he would refuse to vote for the passage of the ordinance under suspension of the rules, insisting that the measure was one which should be finally passed upon by the incoming city council. Arguments were in vain, Councilman Olson remained obdurate and declined to go on record as favor ing the passage of the ordinance. He also was not at all worried about going on rec ord as being opposed to its passage.

After more or less trouble Councilman Weaver was reached by telephone and he at once signified his willingness to save the day and fill out the needed quorum. When word came that the councilman from the Fourth ward would put in an appearance Councilman Olson decided he had important business elsewhere, donned his overcoat and hat and slipped away from the city hall.

With the arrival of Councilman Weaver just as the clock struck 9, Mayor Macrae called the council to order and the ordinance raising the salary of the city clerk from $1,090 to $1,300 a year, that of the chief of police from $100 to $125 per month, that of the night captain from $70 to $75 a month, that of the chief of the fire denartment from $80 to $85 a month and the pay of the members of the police and fire departments from $65 to $70 a month was promptly passed under suspension of the rules and everything was again se
