ANTI-PASS BILL DEADLOCK

Senate Can See No Reason for Tacking Emergency Clause on Measure.

OTHER AMENDMENTS ARE CONCURRED IN

House Votes Down the Bill to Redistrict State for Congressional Purposes, but Votes for Change In Legislative Districts.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, March 31 .- (Special.)-The senate today refused to concur in the house amendment to the anti-pass bill putting on the bill came over from the house with the amendments it was discovered that there was a defect and no record to show on the bill that the publication clause had been adopted by the house. The secretary was instructed to take the bill back, and this was soon remedied. Senator Hughes then secured unanimous consent to take up the bill at once. It soon developed that there was no opposition to including federal office holders, but there was objection to the publication clause on the theory that it would not give the railroads time to adjust matters. It was as prohibited from riding on passes. When ranged the following program: roads time to adjust matters. It was stated by Senator Jumison that the whole legislation was foolish and he was opposed to it, but especially, he said, there should be no publication clause putting it into would be impossible to make arrangements in the short time allowed unless the bill went into effect July 4 on the constitutional Senate Proceedings.

The senate today passed the bill approprivate asylums where insane are kept, appropriating $2,000 for the salary of one and go over in a body, person and creating a hall for the preservation of old public documents, the bill to city institutes; the resolution for a con-

Redistrict State. In accordance with the provisions of the biennial election law the house today passed the bill redistricting the representative district of the state so that each county will have at least one representative. According to the provisions of the bill there will be 108 representatives in the next house instead of 100 as at present. The counties of Lee, Des Moines, Pottawattamie, Polk, Scott, Clinton, Woodbury, Dubuque and Linn will each have two representatives and all the other ninety counties of the state will each have one representative. Would Be Attorney General. Major Charles Mackenzie, advocate general of the Grand Army of the Republic, today filed his papers with the county auditor as a candidate for attorney general of Iowa for the Polk county primaries.

Boys Assault Teacher. CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., March 31 .- (Special.)-While walking along the street here one of the teachers was attacked by four high school boys who took him into an alley and shaved off his moustache. It is said that the boys had a grievance against the teacher because of the way he treated Woleshensky has been in the employ of them at school and used this method to the Smelting works for over twenty-five "get even" with him. The teacher is very indignant over the affair. He says, however, that he will not prosecute the boys, but will have the matter taken up by the school board and attempt to have them expelled from school. The boys are members of some very prominent families and they will secure attorneys to fight the case and attempt to keep the boys in school.

BARTEE GETS FIFTEEN YEARS Colored Man When Sentenced to Penttentiary Says He Has Witness "Up Above."

William Bartee, colored, who was convicted of the murder of Henry Brown, colored, February 4, was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary yesterday afternoon by Judge Sutton. The jury found him guilty of murder in the second degree and recommended lenlency.

Before sentence was passed Bartee made a short statement to the court, declaring he had acted only in self-defense. Judge Sutton reminded him that five or six witnesses had testified that he had been the

"I've got a witness up above," Bartee answered, "that will test that question in days to come."

Judge Sutton said the recommendation of the jury for leniency had caused him to shorten the sentence at least five years. A motion for a new trial was argued and overruled before Bartee was sentenced.

The Omaha jobbers have not made the full advance because of stock on hand bought at lower prices, but they promise an advance before long. Gaivanized iron is not very plentiful and there is bound to be a shortage unless the mills can turn out a larger supply than at present. Prices in gaivanized iron are unchanged but very firm. Jobbers have been very busy filling orders.

The position of sugar is unchanged from last week. Coffee is steady and unchanged. New Orleans and eastern dealers have recently made large purchases of rice, advancing the market light to ice per pound, another advance being predicted for the near future.

There is very little change to report in the line of tomatoes or corn for immediate delivery. Corn for future has been attracting quite a little attention, but not many of the canners care to sell on the basis of prices recently established by one or two of the larger packers. Window glass has advanced another 10 per cent, and as the demand is heavy it is believed that furthes advances will be made in the near future. Plate glass is steady but unchanged. Sales of both lines are large. Turpentine is quoted at 77c, lead at the old prices, and linseed oil at 38c for raw and 41c for builed. Trade has been very good in these lines.

The drug business has been fairly satisfactory during the week. There have been a few fluctuations, but none of very great importance. Manufacturers of codeine reduced their prices 15c per ounce. Cuttle fish bone has advanced and is now held at from 24c to 28c, as to quality. Quinine is in moderate demand. No change in price. Optum is quiet, awaiting developments of the new crop. American saffron is very firm at from $1.50 to $1.75. Lower prices are named for forward delivery, as the new crop is expected to arrive early next month. Powdered white arsenic continues firm in price owing to scarcity. It is quoted in kegs at 74-fise. Needle antimony is higher and is quoted at from 15c to 18c. Flax seed is a trifle easier. There is an exceptionally large demand for ground oil cake for stock feeding purposes. This article is being sold at from $2 to $20 per ton. Crude rubber is in a very strong position and prices are turned uppard. All manufactured rubber goods will probably be higher. No change of importance in essential oils. Oil of cloves, employed the permit are very firm in price. Oil sassafinas is also a trifle higher.
