"The Sincerity Clothier"

T SEEMS an odd name for a clothing store, father; but since all these inves-tigations of food frauds and insurance grafting have been going on, it has set me to binking why it is that nearly every suit or overcoat that you or I have ever bought has wrinkled and shrank, and gotten all out of "It seemed to make little difference where we got it or what we paid for it, it has never seemed right." "Often the highest priced clothes we have bought have given us the same cause for

"That name-SINCERITY CLOTHES -attracted my attention ;-it sounded hon-est;-seemed to mean something."

" I went into the store to investigate, and I am pretty well satisfied that I am on the right track now."

"In answer to my questions the SINCER. ITY man explained things to me."

It seems that no matter how accurately clothes are cut, the tailors who make up the garments will make mistakes in sewing, and garments wat make metages in secting all instead of doing it over again, practically all the makers "fix up" the garments by *skrink-*ing or strateking with the Hot Flat-Iron, until the garment is shaped right."

"Naturally there is no way for us to tell, without having inside information, and, of course, all this Hot Flat-Iron work comes out again when the Coat is worn awhile, or gots and

"How is a fellow to know when a Coat is 'faked' that way ? I asked the SINCERITY

"Well !" says he, "here's one test:"

"Lay the Coat out flat on a table. If it's incerely made the collar ought to lie in a perfectly straight line along the edge and where it turns over." If it is 'deped' by the Flat Iron, the line will be nevy; and after the 'faked' Coat is worn, the Collar will, of course, stand away from the neck and lose its shape."

"The difference is, that SINCERITY CLOTHES are revised, when necessary, by good old fashioned Hand Needle-Work, in-itead of Flat-Iron 'faking,' giving the gar-nent permonent shape that requires very little pressing, if any."

"Now that sounds like good logic to me." .

"There was a great variety of patterns in SINCERITY CLOTHES, and they were the most perfect-fitting garments I ever put on, besides having the latest style-lines." "So I bought a suit, and right glad I am that I did it."

"Well, my boy, that's the way to figure things out. It's quality that tells in everything. At my age, style doesn't count so much, but I am mighty glad to know how and where I can get a Suit or Overcoat that is honestly made."

No New Clothes for Visitors. When old soldiers leave the Soldiers' Home o visit back in the places where they came from they will wear the same clothes they have been wearing if they will hold together. In other words, the State Board of Purchases and Supplies has decided not to buy any new clothes for the old soldiers when they desire to leave the home on furlough. The matter came up in a request this morning from a number of the inmates who wanted new suits to go visiting in. The board then and there made a rule that no new clothes go. This action is based on the rules governing the homes for soldiers in Illincis. In that state it is said the comrades are not allowed even to wear uniforms when they leave the homes.

Check on Brug Bills.

Because the prison physician has been areless about buying drugs for the penientiary under the emergency rule, which allow him to spend $25 a month without an order from the board, it is likely the amergency rules will be suspended and every cent spent by a superintendent of a state institution will first have to be passed upon by the board. It is asserted by the board the prices paid are too high. A bill just filed by a druggist looks so big to the mand that it ordered an investigation and the prices have been compared with the prices asked by other druggists for the same medicine, with the result that the bill will be materially cut
