---Misled By a Sign.

A businesslike farmer wandered into the women's exchange in Portland Ore., one day recently, having carefully examined the exterior of the establishment and read the sign many times. He scanned the neat restaurant and the men and women who sal at the tables at luncheon, carefully noted the showcases filled with handlwork and fancy articles, and seemed suddenly to make up his mind on his course of action. Striding up to the young woman who presided at the cake and bread counter, he stated his business.

"I came in here to see if I could get a wife. Do you keep women here who want in affinity, soul communion and the like,
