CONFERENCE OF METHODIST WORKERS

Bishops Vincent and Oldham in Attendance and Many Distinguished Workers Take Part in the Proceedings.

The opening session of the missionary conference at the First Methodist Episcopal church Tuesday evening was greeted with the very large audience and in the most remarkable assembly of its type which has yet convened in Omaha. It is the eighth of a series of twelve delegated conventions being held under the auspices of the Methodist church.

At Tuesday night's meeting, Bishop Hartsell, who has just returned from an extensive tour of Africa, presided. The quiet hour of devotional exercises was conducted by Bishop Vincent of Indianapolis.

The opening address was by Dr. H. L. E. Leaning, missionary at Iph, one of the federated Malay states. His address was confined to personal experiences in the missionary field of Borneo, chiefly among the head hunters of north Borneo.

His first visit to that field in which he worked alone, was among a completely strange people whose language he had to learn. He finally succeeded in overcoming their aversion to foreigners. This was some fifteen years ago, the doctor remaining among them for several years.

The favorite delicacy of the people was snakes, which they fattened in huge jars for their own consumption.

Human heads chief treasure. In one of the chief's houses he counted 20 human heads which the doctor valued as his principal treasures. He said:

It was my first intention to penetrate the interior of a mountain range of hills, the top of which was covered with swamps and impenetrable jungles caused me to abandon that intention and I obtained permission from the chief to build my house in sight of his own on a small plain at the foot of a hill, the top of which was covered with swamps and impenetrable jungles.

Each speaker is assigned so many minutes as to allow the greatest number of interest and details concerning the work in different sections of the country.

In the evening the address will be delivered by Bishop Hartsell and his theme will be Africa and the work of God among its people.

Features of the Convention. The most interesting feature of this convention is a missionary exhibit of interesting samples of work by the natives of different countries. The exhibit is a basement of the church, and all are cordially welcome to see it, and at such points as the exhibit is being shown, there will be women or men who will explain the meaning of the exhibits.

These curios have been gathered from foreign lands and are typical of the customs and manners of all the people with whom the missionaries come in contact. They are bronzes, idols, photographs, maps, all the latest missionary tracts, leaflets published by the Methodist church, and are carefully classified and mounted on cardboard. About 40 Bibles and other religious books published in many foreign languages show varied in the work of the Christian missions.

On the walls are displayed scrolls, banners, etc., indicative of religious customs, and maps and charts filled with missionary information, all prepared in different languages.

Other Workers on Program. Other workers who will appear on the Omaha program from day to day are: Rev. David S. Spencer, who has been a missionary in Japan for the past twenty years, now on furlough. Dr. Spencer is at present presiding elder of the Tokio district.

Rev. Frederick H. Wright of Rome, Italy, who has for many years been a leading figure in Methodist mission work in Italy; Rev. Wilbur C. Swearer, for several years in the mission field and editor of the Corsican Christian Advocate; also Rev. Jesse I. McLaughlin, who is one of the pioneer missionary workers in the Philippines and at present editor of the Philippine Christian Advocate; Rev. Don W. Nichols, who was for seventeen years a missionary in central China and now stationed at Kiating, Nanchang and Nanking.

Dr. F. D. Gamewell, who saved the besieged missionaries at Peking in 1900 during the Boxer uprising, is here and is in charge of the exhibit, which is one of the most prominent and important features of the convention. This exhibit extends over all the floor space of the parlors of the First church and will be open every day to visitors whether they are members of the convention or not. Idols, curios, maps, charts, periodicals and an endless variety of other matters in an exhibition and will be explained by experts to all who care to study the exhibit.

SOFT COAL MINERS AT WORK

Eighteen Thousand Men Back in the Pits at Pittsburg.

INDEPENDENT OPERATORS STAND OUT

Owners Employ Twelve Thousand Men Say They Will Not Sign Scale—Situation in Other States.

PITTSBURG, April 3.—With the exception of one or two points outside of the Pittsburg district the strained situation between operators and miners in the soft coal fields of Pennsylvania is hourly growing more pacific. Following the signing of the scale yesterday demanded by the miners the mines of the operators who signed the scale resumed their operations today, although in many instances with reduced forces.

The independent operators were in session until almost midnight. Representatives of twenty operators were present, representing an annual output of 20,000,000 tons. A permanent organization was formed and after the meeting the following official statement was given out:

At a meeting of the independent operators held tonight the position taken at the previous meeting was reaffirmed and no action was taken on the proposed scale of the 1905 scale. The probable outcome of these meetings will be the formation of an independent coal operators' association of western Pennsylvania district. Those present were absolutely unanimous against signing the 1905 scale.

It is announced that the independents would not work their mines nonunion, which means an entire suspension of their operation.

It is learned tonight that the entire nonunion field of the Allegheny valley would continue work without interjection. This is in what is known as the Freeport vein.

Dolan Starts Trouble. Interest in the labor situation in the Pittsburg district today was centered in the district convention in this city and the attempt of Patrick Dolan to regain control of the convention. The convention met to hear the report of the tellers, the reading of which consumed the entire day. The result was not announced until late in the evening, a dispute as to some of the voting envelopes. It was semi-officially stated, however, that Frank Feehan was elected president; John Hurley, Arnold City, secretary-treasurer. National executive board members were stated to be: W. H. C. Krasner, J. Kratzer, James Sheehan, William Booth, A. L. Davis, George Black, S. A. White, Paul Flynn, E. P. Hanaway and James Waulhorn.

During the session of the convention Dolan appeared in the hall and attempted to preside over the convention, announcing that he was the only legal chairman of the meeting. The convention was in a turmoil when Dolan's counsel appeared and an attempt was made to eject him from the hall. He notified the convention that they had no legal right to remove Dolan and then left the hall. A committee of ten was appointed to carry out a resolution to this end and as the committee approached Dolan he quietly left the hall. It is expected that Dolan will appear here tomorrow to adjudge the delegates in contempt of court.

Strike Conditions at Irwin. From other districts it is announced that few mines are operating with full forces, the same conditions prevailing as in the Pittsburg district. However, the miners nearest to an actual strike prevail. The men are being urged to stand fast and told that the operators will eventually concede the demands. At a delegate convention today a scale committee fixed a scale which calls for an advance of five cents more than the scale for pick mining, and the operators were invited to a conference on April 12. The works have been picketed in the meantime and the strikers are in an ugly mood over the appearance of armed deputies.

At Clearfield, where the annual convention of the district is being held, the operators announced today that they would meet the scale committee until tomorrow. It was reported tonight that the scale would be signed and it is expected that work will be resumed in this district within the week.

In the Johnstown district work is practically at a standstill. No trouble has occurred at the Berwind-White works, although a number of armed guards are on duty. No attempt was made to interfere with the strikers. It is reported tonight that the company is bringing in non-union men and evicting union miners from company houses.

A big mass meeting was held at South Fork today and it was resolved to refrain from returning to work until after the Clearfield convention takes action.

SOUTHWESTERN MINES TO RESUME

Arkansas and Indian Territory Operators Agree to Sign.

KANSAS CITY, April 3.—Negotiations are in progress in the various mining districts of the southwest that are expected to result in resumption of work by a large number of men within a few days. The officers of the mine workers of the district, including western Arkansas and Indian Territory, have received overtures from operators with a view to signing the scale. There is no meeting of the district until tomorrow, and there will be no conference with the miners until after the meeting, there will be no conference with the miners until after the meeting, there will be no conference with the miners until after the meeting.

COMPLETE SUSPENSION IN OHIO

District Officers Authorized to Sign 1905 Scale.

COLUMBUS, O., April 3.—The executive board of the Ohio Mine Workers today decided to permit the miners to sign contracts with any operators who are willing to pay the 1905 scale. The various subdistrict organizations will prepare agreements based on the 1905 scale, adjusted to meet changes in conditions since the scale was drafted, which will be presented to those operators who are willing to sign contracts. Meetings of the miners of the subdistricts will be held for the purpose of these mines will be about eighteen in all of these meetings. The first will be held at Athens next Friday and will comprise the miners of the Hocking valley. The wages paid in the Hocking valley have for years been the basis for all state agreements, and for this reason the scale for these mines will be adjusted first. The operators of the Hocking valley will meet at Athens next Monday and a joint conference will be held. The position which the operators take in that conference will have much to do with determining the action of the operators in the other districts outside.

Men Who Have Offices in Exchange

Petition to Have Peddlers and Solicitors Barred from Building.

A large delegation of the South Omaha commission men will leave Monday afternoon in a special car to attend the session of the Western South Dakota Stock Growers' association, which are to be held at Rapid City next week. The full number which can be accommodated has already been promised to go and all the arrangements have been made. They will have their headquarters during the stay at the Harney hotel. It is expected that the delegation will be one of great benefit to this market for the reason that such a wide district of the country will be represented. There are to be many novel features by way of entertainment, and the most realistic being a wild west battle between the Indians and the freighters, such as often occurred in early days. The spectators are all to be located on a high plain from which they can watch the whole plain below where the battle is fought.

New Polish Lodge

A new lodge, the Polish Catholic Knights, was organized last Sunday afternoon. There was a large number of young men who entered as charter members. It is expected that in the near future the lodge members will be furnished with a full regalia and will hold meetings regularly.

The following officers were elected: President, Frank L. Madura; vice president, Joseph Labak; recording secretary, John Zymula; corresponding secretary, Jacob Sempek; treasurer, Joseph Vodek; trustees, W. Gagnon and L. Zabanski; sergeant-at-arms, Frank Filipowicz; captain of the drill team, William J. Lawczyk.

Move Against Solicitors

A petition was presented to the board of directors of the Live Stock exchange yesterday afternoon asking that the exchange be closed to the solicitors of the Stock Yards company to require that all peddlers, solicitors and professional grafters be required to secure a permit from the company before they should be allowed to canvass the buildings or grounds. It is hoped that this will abate the rapidly growing nuisance of this sort. Of late there has been scarcely a day when there are not from six to twenty annoying and persistent solicitors going from office to office in the Exchange building. Most of them have a line of the most worthless articles to dispose of. Many are beggars pure and simple. The commission men are exceedingly tired of the annoyance.

Improvements at Hammond Plant

A new flag pole was raised on top of the National Packing company's building, formerly the Hammond plant. The improvements to the building itself have been progressing in a satisfactory manner. The walls on the sides of the building have been raised half a story to bring the slope of the roofs to one angle. The retimbering and refooring of the interior is progressing rapidly, though there is much to be done yet. The foundations of the walls of the power house are nearing completion.

attempts in any part of the region to operate the collieries.

Reports from Scranton are to the effect that the Delaware and Hudson and the Erie companies are making preparations to resume as soon as possible. A number of these companies are engaged in the mines of this region and are doing so with a view to resuming work as soon as possible.

Several minor disturbances occurred during the day near Wilkesbarre. The companies of the state police again patrolled the roads in the vicinity of the collieries and reported that good order prevailed.

Systematic steps were taken today by the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company to learn definitely where hard coal is needed for immediate consumption and in what quantities. The company has created for itself an information bureau which will be continued during the cessation of mining operations. The coal agents of the company will furnish the executive offices with daily coal need schedules.

An official of the company outlined the condition as follows:

The seven big anthracite companies have in stock nearly 10,000,000 tons of coal. This means that it is available for distribution ample coal to supply all actual needs now and for several months to come. The companies agree that it will be given out at prices which have obtained during the war and are determined to prevent speculation, as there is no justification for an advance in retail prices.

This arrangement is said to be unsatisfactory to the state police and today at a meeting of the Philadelphia & Reading a committee was appointed to confer with the big coal companies.

"Hermann the Great" is proving one of the most interesting and delightful plays in magic that has ever been seen at the Orpheum. The average spectator is left in a bewildered mood by the famous juggler, who tells them "the closer you watch, the less you know." Every detail of his occult art is carried out cleverly. The stage settings are elaborate and well timed to add an atmosphere of the occult to the illusions and legerdemain. On Thursday a matinee will be given.
