

THAYER AND THE PAWNEES

Cool Bravery of the General Which Averted a Bloody War.

HIS MEETING WITH SKARA-LE-SHARA

Shakes Noted Christian's Hand Before Lines of Opposing Forces and Peace is Quickly Agreed To.

FREMONT, Neb., April 8.—(Special.)—The death of John M. Thayer recalls to the old settlers of this vicinity an incident little thought of at the time which displayed the cool bravery of the man and resulted perhaps in entirely changing the early history of this part of the state as far as relations to the Indians were concerned.

venience was suffered from their military privities. They had a great deal of trouble in getting their provisions, and their provisions were not of the best quality.

Forty Respond to Call to Arms. "After three weeks of enforced exile from their town they started out on their usual summer hunt, but instead of going south-west to the Republican valley went up the Elkhorn. They were joined by the Omahas and the Indian cavalry that passed through our town was the biggest and most imposing of any of its kind I ever saw."

could must go and fight the Pawnees. We left that afternoon forty strong, about all the men in the company, with a miscellaneous outfit of horses, mules, wagons, muskets, rifles, etc. Captain R. W. Hazen, whose widow was buried here last week, and General Daves were in command.

Indians Cause Some Guessing. "We went on up the Elkhorn and came up with the Indians near a stream now known as Battle creek. The active command was given to Lieutenant Robinson and plans were laid for an attack at sunrise. We broke camp at 3 in the morning and at sunrise met the enemy. They were early risers, also having got wind of our approach and were already three miles up the river."

command in the lead. The Indians cut through all the superior baggage and took the horse and mule and "big" wagon along the river bank. "This charge" covered about three miles and was a sort of Bull Run on the part of the Indians.

Thayer Meets Skara-le-Shara. "Just at this moment while we were waiting to know what to do, old Skara-le-Shara, whom we Fremontians well knew, appeared in the camp. He was dressed in full suit, made except for a breech cloth, and naked except for a breech cloth, and he was not more than fifty yards away when Marshall West and the sergeant began shooting at him, but failed to hit him. Thayer rode out alone between the two opposing forces. It seemed to us a foolhardy act, but was one of cool bravery and resulted, I believe, in changing what might have been a bloody battle into a peaceful one."

CHANCE TO WIPE OUT DEBT

Treasurer Mortensen Thinks It Can Be Done in Four Years.

LEGISLATURE MUST BE ECONOMICAL

Sheldon Bill Will Accomplish Nothing if Appropriations Are Permitted to Pile Up—Charges Against Asylum Investigated.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 8.—(Special.)—State Treasurer Mortensen is of the opinion the state debt can be paid off within four years. Mortensen desires to impress upon the people the necessity of electing good business men to the legislature and to elect a good, careful business man as governor.

VOLIVA PREPARES FOR DOWIE

Dowie Defends Himself.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 8.—Dr. Dowie and his party left tonight shortly before 8 o'clock for St. Louis. The train was delayed at San Antonio and this was taken advantage of by the local Zionists, who arranged for a meeting at which Dr. Dowie was to speak.

When Dowie entered the hall the audience arose and sang a hymn of praise. He walked down the center aisle, bowing and uttering "God be with thee." For ten minutes Dowie and the audience prayed together to banish the devil from Zion. Then Dowie told his story to the expectant people. His entire address was centered about the subjects of polygamy and the conduct of his wife. The audience was with him in all that he said, even when he bitterly disparaged Mrs. Dowie. A dramatic incident occurred after Dowie had been speaking about twenty minutes, when Mrs. Emma Rapp and her husband arose and faced the speaker. The audience craned their necks forward in tense expectation.

LIBERALS ARE TRIUMPHANT

Success in Russia is Beyond Anything They Had Hoped For.

NOT ONE REACTIONARY HAS BEEN CHOSEN

Result indicates Constitution Most Be Proclaimed or the Assembly Dissolved as Soon as It Meets.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 8.—The electoral college in twenty-eight out of the thirty-one provinces in European Russia today elected 138 members to the national parliament—about one-third of its entire membership—and returns received up to midnight indicate that the widest hopes of the liberals have been realized. The constitutional democrats and other progressive parties practically everywhere, having gained a tremendous victory over the Conservatives and other conservative parties. As far as ascertainable, not a single reactionary candidate pulled through and nowhere did even the Conservatives score a triumph. The victories obtained by the radicals clinch the character of the victory. From the Volga to the frontier of Poland and from the still ice-bound coast of Archangel to the Black Sea, the story is substantially the same.

Rise Liars, And Salute Your Queen Ho, All Ye Faithful Followers of Ananias GIVE EAR!

A Young Girl Said to a Cooking School Teacher in New York: "If You Make One Statement as False as That, All You Have Said About Foods is Absolutely Unreliable."

This burst of true American girl indignation was caused by the teacher saying that Grape-Nuts, the popular pre-digested food, was made of stale bread shipped in and sweetened.

THIRD PASTURE Now we come to a frisky lot, the "Labor Union" editors. You know down in Texas a weed called "Loco" is sometimes eaten by a steer and produces a derangement of the brain that makes the steer "batty" or crazy.

the bottom of the dish. Then this milk charged with Post Sugar is fed to the infants, producing the most satisfactory results, for the baby has food that it can digest quickly and will go off to sleep well fed and contented.

FIRST PASTURE Cooking school teachers—this includes "lecturers" who have applied to us for a weekly pay if they would say "something nice" about Grape-Nuts and Postum, and when we have declined to hire them to do this they get waspy and show their true colors.

Now let all these choice specimens take notice: We will deposit $1.00 or $50.00 to be covered by a like amount from them, or any one of them, and if there was even one ounce of old bread or any other ingredient different than our selected wheat and barley with a little salt and yeast used in the making of Grape-Nuts, we will lose this money.

The basis of nomenclature of this preparation is evidently an American pleasantry, since "Grape-Nuts" is derived solely from cereals. The preparatory process undoubtedly converts the food constituents into a much more digestible condition than in the remarkable solubility of this preparation, no less than one-half of it being pure cold water. The soluble part contains chiefly dextrin and no starch. In appearance Grape-Nuts resembles fried bread.

SECOND PASTURE Editors of "Trade" papers known as "grocers' papers." Remember, we don't put the brand on all, by any means. Only those that require it. These members of the tribe have demanded that we carry advertising in their papers and when we do not consider it advisable they institute a campaign of vituperation and slander, printing from Postum to time manufactured slurs on Postum or Grape-Nuts.

Remember that previous to the barley having been ground it was passed through about 100 hours of soaking in water, then placed on warm floors and slightly sprouted, developing its diastase in the barley, which changes the starch in the grain into a form of sugar.

Death Record. BEVERLY, Mass., April 8.—The funeral of Edwin C. Swift of Swift and Company, the Chicago firm, who died Thursday at the Quincy house in Boston of pneumonia, was held at Beverly farms today. The honorary pallbearers were fifty in number, representing the various industries with which Mr. Swift was connected.

When the young lady in New York put the "iron on" to this "teacher" and branded her right, we sent $1.00 to the girl for her pluck and bravery.

Our pure food factories are open at all times to visitors, and thousands pass through each month, inspecting every department and every process. Our factories are so clean that one could, with good result, eat a meal from the floors.

Portland, Ore., April 8.—Benjamin Wislar Morris, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church for the new diocese of Oregon, died at his home in Portland, Ore., at 12 o'clock this morning. Bishop Morris was born at Wellsborough, Pa., May 30, 1819, and was pastor and rector of churches at Sunbury, Pa.; Manak, Pa.; and Germantown, Pa., from 1845 to 1858, when he came to Oregon and became bishop of Oregon and Washington.

Should we untie them because they beat soft and low? Or should we put the iron on, so that people will know the brand? Let's keep them in this pasture, anyhow.

John Schwartz. EMBERSH, Neb., April 8.—(Special.)—John Schwartz, for many years superintendent of bridges on the Nebraska division of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway, died yesterday after being confined to his bed for nearly eight months. He was 76 years of age.

There's a Reason for Grape-Nuts and Postum

This Post Sugar is the most digestible food known for human use. It is so perfect in its adaptability that mothers with very young infants will pour a little warm milk over two or three spoonfuls of Grape-Nuts, thus washing the sugar off from the granules and carrying it with the milk to

There is an old saying among business men that there is no chance to train a fool, but there is no room for a liar, for you never can tell where you are, and we hereby serve notice on all the members of this ancient tribe of Ananias that they may follow their calling in other lines, but when they put forth their lies about Grape-Nuts and Postum we propose to give them an opportunity to answer to the proper authorities.
