The campaign began with rally day services, lasting almost all day Sunday. Success beyond expectation crowned the first efforts and the campaign will be prosecuted with vigor until every cent is

The name of the church will be changed from South Tenth Street Methodist church to Dietz Memorial church, and as such will be dedicated next Sunday.

The services yesterday began at 9 o'clock, when the church members gathered to welcome visitors. From 9:30 to 10 there was a time of hymn singing, prayer and scripture reading, the latter by Rev. William Gorst, presiding elder of the district. A prayer was made by Rev. David Marquette, one of the fathers of Methodism in Nebraska and pastor of the South Tenth Street Methodist church in the days of its infancy. The sermon was by Rev. Thomas Nicholson, A. M., LL. D., president of the Wesleyan university of South Dakota, at Mitchell.

Sells Stock in Church. Joseph W. Powell of Buffalo, N. Y., known from ocean to ocean as "the most remarkable layman in Methodism," had charge of the services and delivered an address morning, afternoon and evening. He has a voice and a manner that persuades people to reach deep in their pockets and bring out money for the church. He did not ask for cash, however, but secured the subscriptions by a plan originated by him, and a plan unique in the history of fund raising for religious purposes.

He had stock certificates, each one of the face value of $36, and each one entitling the owner to a $36 interest in the The stock is issued at date of purchase and must be paid for within a year for the smaller amounts and eighteen months for the larger amounts. The man who takes one share in the church must save 10 cents a day to meet his obligation to the church; the man who takes ten shares must save 75 cents a day. For the children a different plan was outlined. By making it plain that every man, woman and child could own church stock by saving a few cents a day and by bringing such savings in direct contrast to needless expenditures for chewing gum, cigars, theaters and tobacco, Mr. Powe'l inspired an enthusiasm and a spirit of sacrifice which lead many to subscribe.

A service was held in the afternoon similar to the one in the morning and another in the evening.

FOREGLEAM OF HIS CORONATION

Christ's Entrance Supreme Scene in the Gospel Story.

Rev. J. E. Hummon preached a sermon suitable to the occasion at Kountze Memorial church Sunday morning. He said: "Jesus was now to show to the world so the world would know and see without a doubt that He was the King, This Palm Sunday lesson is a record of the most noted scene in gospel story. It is a sunburst in the life of the Son of God, a typical coronation, the foregleam of that which is to come when the Son of God will be enthroned by the voice of the universe. It was an interesting time to the disciples, but with all the pomp and enthuslasm they did not understand the full import of this movement. They did not seem to have guessed that it was the appointed time when Jesus should make His entrance into the Holy City.

"But when He came into the city the greatest excitement prevailed and the multitude bowed its head and received Him

Work for Contractors

The opportunity is now offered to any contractor with ten or more teams and grading outfit to make some money on the new line of the CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY between PIERRE and RAPID CITY, S. D. The work has been going on continuously since last November and the results prove that here is a chance for men of experience to do a greater amount of work in a short time than is often presented.

Bettlers are flocking into the country by the hundreds and it is well known that if settlers find the situation stiractive it is a good place for a railroad contractor. There is work here for all kinds of outfits in pieces to suit and at satisfactory prices, if you look after it while on the market.

"I would to God that those perishing souls to whom Jesus comes every day receive Him with the enthusiasm that met Him in Jerusalem so many years ago. We are all interested and often enthused over politics, but suppose we take some of this CHRISTIANITY AND DEMOCRACY IN ORIENT enthusiasm and apply it to religion. One of the services of religion is to inspire a courageous and large enthusiasm. Our Christianity should excite devotion, but people seem very much afraid of exubecause in their religious life. What the churches need most today is enthusiasm. I am not advocating mere emotional excitement, but the enthusiasm founded on Easter day free of debt. > PALM SUNDAY IN ALL CHURCHES Christ's Triumphal Entry Into Jerusalem Central Thought of Day. Waving palm branches and decorations of potted palms were prominent in Omaha churches yesterday in observance of Palm Sunday. The day was marked more in the musical programs than in the sermon topics, and in nearly all of the programs "The Palms," by Faure, was sung, either as a solo or as an anthem. The other music was also in commemoration of Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem. A pouring rain at church time kept many from the forenoon services, but the skies partly cleared before the close. Many of the Catholic and Episcopal worshipers carried palm leaves as a token of the Special Palm Sunday music was provided by the vested choir at St. Mary's Avenue Congregational church. The processional hymn was "Ride On, Ride On in Majesty, The principal anthem was "The Palms," arranged for a tenor solo and choir by Mr. Kelly, the solo part being sung by Mr. Jessen. The other music was appropriate to the spirit of the day. The church was decorated with potted palms grouped around the pulpit.

Rev. Lucius O. Baird took as his topic the words of Christ to Peter and Andrew: "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men." In part he said:

"Christ took Andrew and Peter just as they were and that is what it means to be a Christian. It means to take a man just where he stands—the farmer at his for the perpetuity of the crown. These to the level-headed majority, who, so to woman in her home. Living is a problem man as he is; on the other is a man as he argy. There existed an educational class fore, that since nine-tenths of this soought to be. Christ comes to him as he is. The artist declared he would rather have it said of him that he was improving than anything else. The call to the disciple is not a call to a dead level existence. When it comes one steps out of the humdrum existence and into an eternal becoming.

"Christ demands two things-sincerity and loyalty. He requires an absolutely sincere way of looking at life as at Himself. Christ hated a hypocrite. If there are scathing words in this last week they were directed against the barren fig tree. That tree was a hypocrite. No tree had a right burden, to have fig leaves on it unless there were figs underneath.

"The second question He asks is: 'Are you loyal? Are you willing to follow Me through everything? He demands a loyalty that will enable a man to put aside his surrounding life entirely."

Hialmar Cassel, a Swedish engineer who visited this country during the St. Louis fair, has written a book on "American Business Methods." In one chapter he asks the question, "Is the superiority of American industry based on better machinery?" This, he thinks, is not the case, though he hids American tools and machines superior to those of Europe. The reason for the superiority lies, in the author's opinion, in the better organization of offices and factories, the methodical supervision of every detail, the constant watchfulness that no single branch of a business fall behind and last, but not least, the minute division of labor. WHOSE SAY-SO IS BEST?

With nearly all medicines put up for tion cures the worst cases of female sale through druggists, one has to take weakness, prolapsus, anti-version and the maker's say-so alone and exclusively retro-version and corrects irregularities, as to their curative value. Of course such testimony is not that of a disinter ested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and there-fore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their owners' and makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines. The writings of these have been for the various medical journals and for publi-cation in standard medical books for pro-fessional reading and instruction, and tession'd reading and instruction, and hence are the more valuable as they relate to Dr. Pierce's medicines, since the writers did not know that they were endorsing and recommending articles that enter into the composition of these medicines and had no personal interest whatever therein.
