AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Large Amount of Improvement in Sight for Coming Year.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE PARTIES TO BE BUSY

Improvement Clubs Also Planning for Work Which Will Add Materially to the Beauty of the City.

It is apparent to any observer in South Omaha that the rushing season of public and private activity is well on. Before the end of the week everything will be on the move. Tuesday Parks, Johnson & Parks, paving contractors, began to brood up the old asphalt pavement on Twenty-fourth street, beginning near N street. By last night four blocks of the paving on the east half of the street had been torn up. The repaving will begin as soon as possible, but it will be necessary that the paving inspectors be appointed before the work can begin. Mayor Hector has not made public his appointments yet.

The street railway company is pushing the work of laying heavy rails on Missouri avenue and putting in the concrete ballast. The new rails have been laid between Twentieth and Thirteenth, on one side. Considerable grading will have to be done on the street before the paving can be undertaken there. Dan Hannon, the grading contractor, has been busy for the past two weeks and the work ahead will keep him busy all summer.

The city engineer is busy on specifications for the grading of Twenty-second street, from S to Y and in like manner for O street, from Twenty-second to Twentieth. The latter will be a $14,000 contract. There is a large embankment to be removed to bring the street to grade.

Among private enterprises there is one of considerable note. W. J. Ullick, a prominent banker of Denison, Ia., has ordered the excavations, which were begun yesterday, for the erection of fourteen strictly modern dwellings, at Thirtieth and Q streets. Mr. Ullick has owned two entire blocks in that locality since the time of the real estate boom of years ago. It is his object to make his property yield him some tangible returns. Above $21,000 will be expended in the project. It is believed here will be no difficulty in getting tenants for all the available houses of the city are striven for.

H. M. Christie reports that he consummated three deals yesterday which represent $1,000. These were all in improved properties. The other real estate men are active.

The National Parking company has torn down all the small buildings in the space north of the main building and lying between them and the viaduct on O street. It is likely that the ground so cleared will be occupied by a commodious office building at the front or east side of the triangle. Back of this there will be a runway for cattle. The work on the latter has been commenced. The foundations of the new power plant at the extreme west side of the old Hammond property are approaching completion.

Big Sewer Contract. The bond ordinance authorizing the issue of $50,000 has been legally published and in the course of a few days an advertisement of the sale of the bonds will appear. Specifications for the sewer have been completed by Andrew Rosewater, so that as soon as the bond issue is floated the contracts can be let and the work begun.

The Union Stock Yards company has received several car loads of paving blocks for the repair and extension of their paved alleys and pens.

City Treasurer E. L. Howe issued the following statement of the finances of the city, which show them to be in the best shape in the entire history of the city. The cash on hand April 1 is $24,406.06. The collections during the month of March were $30,012.54; disbursements during the same time, $21,127.73. The amount in the treasury the first of March was $25,523.14. The increase during the month of April was $3,882.21.

Improvement Club Election. The Northeastern Improvement club held its annual meeting in the high school building Tuesday and elected officers with the following result: President, E. L. Howe; vice president, A. J. Caughey; secretary, L. C. Mattatall; treasurer, A. L. Lott; board of directors, W. B. Cheek, Ed Munshaw, T. B. Scott.

Steps were taken to get in touch with the Omaha improvement clubs so that North Twenty-third street, which is to be a boulevard, may be extended from A street to the Central Boulevard in Omaha. This will connect the South Omaha boulevard with the greater system of Omaha. A move was set on foot, now that Twenty-third street has been provided for, to accomplish the same for Twenty-second street. Matters of parking, paving and gutting were discussed at some length, and several committees were appointed to look after the details.

There will be an important meeting of the Highland Park Improvement club Thursday evening at the Lincoln school. The grading of F street from Twenty-sixth to the Union Pacific right-of-way is to be begun at once. The laying of permanent sidewalks from A to J street, which was ordered by the council last winter, is to be taken up. The people are anxious to see the work begun. It is also the intention of the club to urge the Park board to construct some kind of a walk around Highland park. The present paths are worthless in bad weather. There is a great need of other paths at once if not gravel or cinders of greater permanence. The committee appointed to promote the grading and boulevarding of F street and of Twenty-fifth street north of F to the city limits specially urge the people who are property owners on these streets to be present at this meeting.

Minstrels a Success. The Magic City Minstrel troupe presented its original minstrel show Monday evening at the Ancient Order of United Workmen temple. The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Knights and Ladies of Security, Magic City council No. 25. To say the presentation was successful was putting it mild. The temple was well filled by a good-natured crowd, judging from their expressions of approval.

Car Inspection Association. The annual meeting of the South Omaha Joint Car Inspection association was held yesterday afternoon in the office of the Union Stock Yards company. All of the roads were represented. George Thompson of the Union Pacific railroad presided. Numerous reports from the various officers and committees were read and acted upon. The affairs of the association and the work that has been accomplished during the last year were discussed and have been very satisfactory, as the above mentioned reports showed. After these reports were approved the officer proceeded to the election of the officers for the ensuing year. George Thompson, the former president, was elected for another year. J. H. Brady of the Union Stock Yards company was chosen secretary and W. H. Cressley was made chief joint inspector.

Magie City Gossip. A boy was born to Jesse Bruselle, Thirty-first and W streets, April 10. A. A. Shultz, Twenty-sixth and J streets, has a new daughter.

Himan Levy is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Levy, at Excelsior Springs, Mo. Ed H. Deard of Chicago is visiting his friends in this city during the week.

TREASURY MERGER DELAYED

Fink Will Assume Charge of Consolidated Office Thursday Morning.

NO MARKED CLERICAL CHANGES NOW

Cathers Subsides, So Decision of Supreme Court May Really Go Into Effect and Offices Be United.

Because of the close attention demanded of County Treasurer Fink on the Board of Primary Election Canvassers and for other reasons, City Treasurer Hennings did not transfer the city treasury department to him Tuesday afternoon, as had been planned. Instead the transaction will be completed Thursday morning at 8 o'clock as now scheduled. John T. Cathers, who brought the suit to annul the consolidation provisions of the charter, has waived all rights to file motions for a new trial and the decision of the supreme court has been certified to Treasurer Fink and the city legal department.

"For the present, few if any changes will be made in the force now employed in the city treasurer's office," said Mr. Fink. "It will take some little time to dovetail the two offices together and have the business carried on properly. I am in hopes the entire treasury department will be transferred from the overcrowded courthouse to the city hall. It would be much more convenient in every way, but I think additional room will have to be provided at the city hall. This matter is up to the county commissioners and city council."

"I shall receipt for whatever I receive from the treasurer upon my own inspection. The city controller will be present but no special auditor will be employed to check the books."

City Treasurer Hennings retains his title and salary until May 21, when his term expires. Though he is noncommittal on the subject it is thought he will not resign. He is supposed to have future business connections in view, but is not ready to make a statement about them.

CARMEN NOT FULLY PLEASSED

Some Think New Employees Should Get Same Raise in Wages as Old Ones.

The announcement by the directors of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company of an increase in pay to a majority of the carmen has met with hearty approval from the men who have been in service for a long period and who get the larger increase. The new men, who get practically no increase in pay, are not so well pleased. Some of the union men maintain all should be paid alike, that a man who is working relief and runs a car for an older man, while the other is off for lunch, is worth just as much to the company as the older man. The company on the other hand claims they are not worth as much, for the conductors are not satisfied over the sentence imposed on Harrison Clark after his trial for the shooting of Conductor Flary C. C. McKinley of the South Omaha Young Men's Christian association, formerly living at 220 N street, has moved to a new location at 420 North Twenty-fourth street.

The sophomores of the Omaha High school defeated the seniors and for the arrests were in Omaha attending the track trial.

James H. Connor of Dubuque, Ia., and Fred Longfellow, both of them officials of the Milwaukee railroad, were in this city yesterday attending the meeting of the Joint Car Inspection association.

WARREN'S TRIAL COMES NEXT

O'Hearn's Accomplice in Lauster Murder May Be Called Thursday Morning.

The trial of Joe Warren, charged with being an accomplice of Jay O'Hearn in the murder of Nels Lauster, is scheduled to begin before Judge Suits Thursday morning. County Attorney Sibaugh wants to begin the trial at that time, but it is understood Warren's attorneys desire a delay, but Judge Sibaugh is not inclined to grant them any longer time. If the case is taken up it may necessitate the calling of a special venire, as nearly the entire panel was exhausted in the Clark case owing to the prejudice of the jurors against capital punishment.

DAHLMAN VISITS CITY HALL

Democratic Nominee for Mayor Looks Around the Building He Would Like to Occupy.

The significance of James C. Dahlman's visit to the city hall Wednesday morning was a leading topic of discussion in political circles during the day. The democratic majority nominee spent several hours in the building in private conference with appointive officers. He said jokingly he was getting the lay of the land, and perhaps getting in touch with some of 'his future officers.' The evil-minded ones attributed Mr. Dahlman's visit to a desire to drive deals with republican office holders for support, while pious persons considered he was probably stocking up on municipal history and data to be exploded during the campaign. The latter view was the one most accredited.

GOOD PROMISES FOR CASH

Substantial Pledges to Y. W. C. A. and Some Large Donations Increase Building Fund.

Wednesday's canvass for the Young Women's Christian association building fund was more prolific of promises than cash, but as the promises came from some of the larger business firms the women expect much the last of the week. Some of the largest recent donations are $500 from the Omaha Gas company, $250 from the Omaha Elevator company, $200 from C. F. Schwager and $100 from W. Ernest Johnson, republican nominee for city controller.
