the books of City Assessor Hardin, the city council, sitting as a Board of Review, last night completed its work so far as raising any of the assessments is concerned. After mature deliberation and much discussion the councilmen decided the assessments of one dealer in second hand furniture, one grocer and one pawnbroker were too low and ordered their assessments raised, as follows: I. Cherniss, grocer, 513 South Main street, assessment raised from $700 to $1,500; A. Gilinsky, dealer in second hand urniture, 209 South Main street, assessment raised from $500 to $700; H. Laidius, pawnbroker, 542 West Broadway, assessment ruised from $300 to $500. These increases, should they stand, will raise the revenue of the city exactly $27.30.

The board adjourned to next Friday night, at which time any person dissatisfied with the assessment made against him by Mr. Hardin will have an opportunity to protest either in person or by an attorney. The poard, having approved the assessment books of the assessor last night with the assessment, but still has the power to decrease.

During the discussion last night Councilman Wallace called attention to the fact that a number of men of reputed means did not appear to have reported any moneys and credits.

"If I was to put down all the men whom thought had money, I would need three books as large as the one I have. It is not always safe to act on what you think. We all were under the impression that Officer & Pusey had a bank full of money, but we were evidently mistaken. If men who have moneys and credits which they have falled to list then the tax ferret can get in his work," was City Assessor Hardin's reply to the councilman from the Third ward.

White & Co. of New the laws, said Mr. Worthington, then he should be expelled. Mr. Worthington pointed out that Mr. Smoot's life had been blameless and that he is a law abider in every sense of the word.

> Plural Marriages Condemned. It was contended by Mr. Worthington that plural marriages are no longer performed with the sanction of the Mormon church. He said that Utah had been "raked and scraped" and the plural marriages brought to light since the manifesto would not amount to one a year, and that these offenders are now virtually fugitives from justice. Taking up Mr. Smoot's confession that he believed in divine revelations, Mr. Worthington compared this belief with services in other churches, where divine guidance is sought, and argued that Mr. Smoot's belief is the same as that of followers of other creeds. Senator Knox and some other members of the committee interrogated Mr. Worthington concerning the alleged necessity of nembers of the Mormon church of obtain ing church consent to become candidates for public office. Mr. Worthington read from the church rule, as laid down in the Moses Thatcher case, and construed this to mean that if a high church official desires to become a candidate for public office it is necessary for him to resign his church office or be excused from duties in connection with the church position if union it conflicts with duties to the public.

Facts Were Known.

It was argued by Mr. Worthington that verything that has been charged against the Mormon church in the way of activity in politics and business was known when Utah was admitted as a state and that one of the first senators from Utah was Frank J. Cannon, who was a Mormon and more subject to criticism than Mr. Smoot can be, and yet no protest was made against DENVER, April 13 .- Chief Justice Gabbert of the state supreme court vestorday of next week. It is said the date for a nied a supplemental opinion in the Moyer case. It is generally conceded that this new opinion will take precedence over the former majority opinion as the latest expression of the court. The chief justice declared that the governor of the state has the power to suspend habeas corpus at his discretion and that the courts cannot review the action. The body of the new opinion is taken up with excerpts from an opinion of Justice Johnson in a case in the Philippine islands in which the power of the governor general to suspend the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus during a state of insurrection in the province of Batangas was upheld. The chief justice finds the case analogous to the situation presented in Colo rado during the labor troubles and draws conclusions in which the incarceration of Moyer by the military is upheld.
