RHEUMATISM TROUBLESOME PAINS AND ACHES

While Rheumatism is usually worse in Winter because of the cold and RANGERS STEADILY IMPROVING dampness of a changing atmosphere, it is by no means a Winter disease entirely. Persons in whose blood the uric acid, which produces the disease, has collected, feel its troublesome pains and aches all the year round. The cause of Rheumatism is a sour, acid condition of the blood, brought about by the accumulation in the system of refuse matter, which the natural avenues of bodily waste have failed to carry off. This refuse matter coming in contact with the different acids of the body, forms uric acid which is absorbed by the blood and distributed to all parts of the body, and Rheumatism gets possession of the system. Rheumatic persons are almost constant sufferers; the nagging pains in joints and muscles, are ever present under the most favorable climatic conditions, while exposure to dampness or an attack of indigestion will often bring on the severer symptoms even in warm, pleasant weather. Liniments, plasters, lotions, etc., relieve the pain and give the sufferer temporary comfort, but are in no sense curative; because Rheumatism is not a disease that can be rubbed away or drawn out with a plaster. S. S. Schaefer led off with seven and Cure worked the ivories for forty-nine in the opening inning of tonight's game. Then Schaefer gave one of his best exhibitions of all around billiards in a run of ninety-five, which was faultless until he slipped up on a single cushion bank shot. In the after inning Cure, playing with freedom and excellent judgment, added thirty-nine. At the end of the sixth linning the score was 12 to 188 in Schaefer's favor. In the eleventh inning Cure got the balls on the top right-hand corner space and ran seventy-five before stopping. Schaefer then began to nurse them to good advantage. He got thirty-two without the balls traveling more than tweive inches, but a miscue ended the run at thirty-four. which begin at Athens April 22, arrived here today.

The Americans landed soon after the Barbarossa's arrival. Some of them visited the scenes of desolution in the vicinity of Mount Vesuvius, but the majority of the athletes, accompanied by their trainers, practiced running, jumping, etc., in order to test their condition after the sea voyage. All were in good spirits and insisted that the accidents would not appreciably affect the strength of the team.

Hillman's injured knee is still slightly discolored and swollen. It was treated on board the steamer by Dr. Cataras of the New York Athletic club, delegate of the United States to the medical congress to be held at Lisbon April 19-25. The doctor massaged the injured part, which greatly assisted in limbering the joint and restoring the strength of the tendons. Mitchell suffered the most from the sea voyage, remaining in bed three days after his dislocated left shoulder had been set by the ship's surgeon. He was able to go about with the rest of the American pariy and landed here today with his arm in a sling. Although Mitchell continues hopeful of making a showing at Athens and says he certainly will try for a prize the other members of the team fear that he is badly handicapped.

Referring to the injuries sustained by Mitchell and himself Hillman said: "Only six out of thirty-two of us were struck by the wave and four of these six are again in fine trim. Only Mitchell and myself are slightly alling. My right knee is bandaged and a little stiff, but it has been greatly improved by massage treatment. I hardly think it will interfere with my running. was a notice to the newspapers that messages filed at the telegraph burent; Aqueduct will be subject to twenty minutes delay.

Not only did the jockey club strictly guard the telegraph wires, but it withheld all advance information as to non-starters, the assignment of jockeys, etc., even to those within the race enclosure. Heretofore the scratching of borses had been announced as soon as the withdrawls occurred. The withholding of this information is a severe blow to the pool room service, as without it the proprietors and bettors in such establishments must operate largely in the dark.

Various subterfuges were resorted to today to overcome the obstacles set by the jockey club, but the sending of messages to nearby points to telephone the results was the only progress the pool room interests made against the new order of things. In each instance the messenger had to repay his admission into the grounds, a $3 fee being enacted for the grandstand and enclosure.

The censorship of the telegrams forwarded from the track after the delay of twenty minutes has been placed in the hands of the detective agency which has general charge of admissions to the tracks and the safeguarding of patrons. The system adopted at Aqueduct was under the direction of the jockey club, the controlling body of the eastern turf and will prevail at all tracks in this state during the racing season.
