

For and About Women Folks

New Style in Wall Paper. It is now possible to imitate for a nominal sum the wall coverings and decorations of the earlier days which rich Americans duplicate at a cost of large sums.

been solicited for her comfort and her safeguarding, Illinois has lagged in the rear. The problems are all the more serious because they affect not only the interests of today, but have vital connection with the citizenship of tomorrow.

A pale green wall with panels outlined with darker green and gold, a yellow wall outlined with brown, green and gold and old rose outlined with white and gold were among the most artistic combinations.

A plea against nagging. "My dear child, do not pity's sake hold your shoulders back. I do declare! How often have I—"

Among the most attractive of the newer nursery effects is a double frieze, anywhere from thirty to forty inches wide, the lower edge of which is finished with a shallow shelf of enamelled wood.

It is useless to tell a girl to hold herself up, and immediately follow the admonition by querulous criticism or unfavorable comparison with others.

"Everybody Works but Father." In a recent address Miss Mary McDowell used as an illustration the words of the song "Everybody Works but Father," and stated that, unfortunately, the facts warranted that line, although the reason for the idleness was different from that given in the song.

"I hope," said the woman who was ordering a pair of slippers made of flowered silk, "that you will tell your workman to wash his hands before he begins to make these up."

Dietary of Human Ostriches. Fearing that some one will kill him if he does not commit suicide, Karl Knudsen, a patient in the insane department at Bayview, a suburb of Baltimore, tried to end his life a few days ago by eating a large quantity of junk.

In Line With His Father. During Lieutenant Grant's "pieb" year at West Point about the time of the mid-year examinations his father, Major General, then brigadier general, Frederick Dent Grant, became a little anxious about the stand his son was taking and wrote to the superintendent of the academy, a classmate of his, to ask his honest opinion as to whether his son would pass the mid-year examination.

In the Shadow of Fame. Richard D. Thomson of Edinburgh the other day told an audience that, when a schoolboy, he frequently saw Sir Walter Scott. Once, when on a fishing expedition, Sir Walter's carriage came along and stopped, and Mr. Scott, of Raeburn, told Sir Walter who Mr. Thomson was. Sir Walter spoke to him, patted him on the shoulder, and hoped that he would be a good boy and a credit to his ancestors.
