Style

Never played so large a part in corsets as this season. There are many kinds of corsets that fit, but fitting is not sufficient. A model must do more. It must create, as it were, a base to accord with the gown style that is the prevailing mode. In our search for choice and accurate models for this season we made our largest selection from WARNER'S REPROOF LINE. They indicated correctness in every detail, and we stock them in satisfaction to our customers. Aside from their style quality they are as unusual as they are reliable for wear, are guaranteed—the maker stands back of us in this—rustproof, and have attached the splendid "Security" Fine rubber button hose supporters. $1.00 to $2.50 per pair.

Paris Police Raid Homes of Labor Leaders, Royalists and Anarchists.

LOOK FOR EVIDENCES OF PLOT

Papers Seized Tend to Prove that Bonapartists Financed Recent Revolutionary Strike Movements.

PARIS, April 27.—The widespread labor agitation took a dramatic turn today when the police executed a series of wholesale searches designed to unearth an extensive plot against the public security. The searches included the offices of branches of the labor federation and homes of the labor leaders, prominent royalists and Bonapartists and also a number of anarchists. The suspects among the royalists and Bonapartists included the heads of several aristocratic families, among them Count Durand Baron de Buregard, Count De La Reaie, General Baron De Taradei, M. Baconier, president of the royalist advance guard; M. Thouvenel, an intimate friend of Prince Louis Napoleon, and Major Penillout, formerly commander of the imperial guard, while the laborites who were subjected to search included the conspicuous heads of the movement planned for May 1.

The ostensible purpose of the search was to discover if encouragement had been given to rioting in the mining district in the north, but the authorities expected at the same time to uncover the entire plan of the present labor agitation, including any menacing features of the demonstration which is to take place May 1. The searches were operated simultaneously early in the morning. The results in many cases were negative. There is, however, official authority for the statement that documents were found which proved that royalists and Bonapartists intrigued with the labor leaders and liberally financed the revolutionary strike movements. The labor federation has refused to hand over its books to the police.

The search caused a sensation in labor and royalist circles. The former they denounced as a device to discredit the labor movement. The opposition press also attacks the searches as an electioneering move. In the meantime the public has become more tranquil regarding the possible events of May 1, owing to the completeness of the military and police preparations. The city is rapidly filling with troops, embracing thirty-nine battalions and forty-eight squadrons drawn from the various army corps.

Complete quiet in the strike centers tends to reassure the public. The Temps editorially points out the absurdity of people hastily leaving the city or laying in stocks of provisions, and says the government has taken every necessary precaution. Revolutionary movements, the article says, never succeeded when heralded in advance.

LIBERALS WIN MORE SEATS

Constitutional Democrats in Russia Score Another Victory at the Polls.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 28.—$40 a. m.—Returns from yesterday's elections are slow coming in, but the proportion of constitutional democrats chosen continues overwhelming. Up to 2 o'clock this morning reports had been received from sixty-three of the 190 constituencies out of which the Octoberists carried only three, the constitutional democrats and their Polish allies forty-six and the social democrats two, the remaining twelve being classified as independents, most probably in sympathy with the constitutional democrats. With the exception of St. Petersburg and Moscow the representatives elected are of no prominence, the best known being Prince Volkoff, Octoberist, Ryssan and Bishop Baron Ropes of Vilna. The radical members-elect are now waiting for the convocation of the national Parliament to express the distrust of the government. A resolution worded in the sharpest terms is being circulated and largely signed by constitutional democrats, expressing lack of confidence in the government, both with Count Witte and the emperor.

placed under arrest and is confined in the city jail while the police are conducting a thorough investigation. It is believed by the officials that the old soldier was cajoled into the resort and drugged. Before the body could be disposed of the police raided the place and at once placed the inmates of the house under arrest. Money which Lynn was supposed to have on him at the time of his disappearance is missing.

Indianapolis Players Indicted. INDIANAPOLIS, April 27.—The players and managers composing the Indianapolis and Minneapolis American association baseball teams were indicted today by a special session of the grand jury for playing a game of base ball here last Sunday. Captains will be served on the Indianapolis players tomorrow and service on the Minneapolis men will be had when they come to this city for the next series of games. Charles Lunschaupt, one of the Indianapolis managers, was tried in the police court today for promoting last Sunday's game, but was acquitted.

McCANN CHANGES HIS HOME PORT

Former Naval Officer Leaves Creditors to Mourning. SIOUX FALLS, S. D., April 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Something of a sensation was created here late this afternoon when it became known that Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCann, who for some time conducted the Central hotel, had fled for parts unknown, leaving a number of creditors' claims against the fugitives aggregate from $1,000 to $1,200. It has been learned they left the city at 11 o'clock on a passenger train on the Omaha railway, with Sioux City or the Twin Cities as their probable destination. A charge of abandonment will be lodged against McCann and the sheriff's office is trying to locate him. McCann was formerly an officer in the United States navy. About two years ago he was in Sioux Falls with a naval rating and fell in with a married woman of this city. She some months ago secured a divorce from her husband and McCann abandoned the navy, married her and located here.

that the institution so established would be valuable. The commission has already sent broadcast through the state printed inquiries for data. Chairman James D. Phelan reported that he had made arrangements whereby Superintendent Frank Leach of the United States mint would assume custody of all funds and would credit the amounts received from all sources to the relief and Red Cross funds, honoring drafts against it. Chairman Phelan announced that he had turned over $50,000 to F. S. Stratton of the Oakland relief committee and $2,500 to Rev. P. C. York of the Central Catholic relief committee of Oakland. This left available for immediate use $518,000. While not included in the announcements, it was announced that the Canadian Bank of Commerce had contributed $50,000 to the relief fund and that the American Steel company had made a donation of $10,000. In the executive council the finance committee decided that the report of the earthquake committee should be referred to some scientific institution, which would doubtless supply the funds necessary to defray the expenses. Quarters for Wholesalers. At the meeting of the general committee Thomas McGee announced that wholesalers in large number were settling in Oakland and that there was great danger that this settlement might be permanent. Those applying for locations there were obliged to take leases extending throughout five years. The mayor said this movement must be stopped at all hazards and that every facility must be afforded wholesalers to open temporary quarters in San Francisco. The only limitation placed by the authorities was that the buildings should not be more than one story in height. The erection of permanent buildings must await the forming of the new building laws. The mayor appointed W. S. Babcock, capitalist, chairman of the special committee on wholesalers, with power to select his associates, and directed him to proceed without delay. Many Retail Stores Open. Ex-Chief of Police Wittman of the committee on resumption of business, said there were now some 300 retail stores of various descriptions in operation in San Francisco. The matter of obtaining stocks for these stores was still a serious one. Traffic Freight Manager Sproule of the Southern Pacific had informed him that 1,250 loaded cars now stood in the yards of the Southern Pacific, but he was also informed that the unwillingness of some of the warehouses to open their doors for the delivery of goods was due to fears of further military confiscations. Mayor Schmidt informed him that General Greely has issued an order today that there should be no further confiscation under any circumstances. Mr. Dillman of the water committee reported little change in the water situation. He said the committee now had plumbers at work shutting off the house connections and this had been accomplished in some 400 blocks, leaving one faucet running on each of the four faces of the block. When this had been accomplished it would be possible to force the water through the mains to the reservoirs on the higher levels, when there would be some protection against fire. Wind Adds to Discomfort. A chill wind was blowing this morning and the difficulty of preparing warm food added to the distress of the homeless, especially those foundering in the mud in the low bottoms. In Lafayette and Hamilton squares comparatively few tents have been issued to those camped there, but the ground is high and the drainage good. Where the rain penetrated the improvised tents of blankets, quilts and other like material, the soldiers took the women and children into the houses in the vicinity. In many instances they gave up their own tents to shelter the suffering. Many tents have been provided at Jefferson square since the last rain, where several thousands are camped. A few who were not adequately sheltered were taken into the large automobile garages in the vicinity of the ocean church. In several instances people in houses refused to admit women and children in distress from the cold and rain and the militia unceremoniously broke down the doors with the butts of their rifles. Several thousand tents are enroute here and it is expected that within a few days fully 150,000 refugees will be comfortably housed. Over one hundred and fifty stores were opened for business yesterday, but before night numerous complaints were received that storekeepers had raised prices to prohibitive figures. Captain Rittenhouse of the United States marines, commanding the district from Bush to Oak and Fillmore to Division streets, called at the Central police station last night and requested that detectives be detailed to investigate some of the complaints made to him that exorbitant prices were being charged in certain quarters. Fourteen Square Miles Burned. City Engineer Woodward has an official map made of the burned district. The map shows that the area burned by the fire is a small fraction less than fourteen square miles. At the temporary office of the tax collector the officials are bewailing the fact that they are yet unable to get at their records, for if they could do so they could collect large sums in taxes. Yesterday considerably more than $100 was collected in small sums and $50,000 could have been collected if the books had been on hand. E. J. Leberton wanted to pay over $4,000, and Ashton and Gardner, real estate agents, announced their desire and ability to pay about $25,000 of taxes, but as the books were not available the exact amount due could not be determined. Household Effects Burned. The knowledge that has come to the people of the possibility of saving household effects through burial under tornadoes was put to good use during the big fire. The back yards of Russian hill residents were freely used as burial ground for all kinds of household goods, even costly vases, silverware and bric-a-brac being placed in holes dug for this purpose. The chief clerk of the International hotel, who lived in a house on the corner of Callejo and Leavenworth streets, saved the larger part of the furniture of two floors in this way. Digging into the sloping bank at the rear of his residence a hole was made ten feet square and into this was placed trunks, bedding and household effects. The building was completely swept away, and yet when the goods were dug up the mattresses and similar inflammable belongings were free from the small of fire. A foot of earth over the buried goods proved ample protection for the most destructible goods and many dollars worth of family possessions were saved in this manner. Supplies Stolen. The alleged systematic theft of several tons of Red Cross supplies has been disclosed yesterday by Police Commissioner O'Grady and Detective Mathewson. Jacobs is said to have made a confession implicating several confederates and revealed the place where he had hidden the loot. Jacobs is a teamster who volunteered his services to haul supplies from the water front to the various relief depots. His offer was accepted and it was while hauling Red Cross supplies that he is alleged to have done the looting during the first few days of the relief, when it was not organized as it is now. Under the present system of handling supplies this would be practically impossible. About two tons of the stolen goods have been recovered and it is expected that Jacobs' pals will soon be under arrest. The water front is as busy as ever today. From the Pacific Mail dock to Meigs' wharf the docks and wharves looked as they did before the fire. The work of the customs and quartermaster offices has not been interrupted for a day. The transport Sherman arrived here yesterday. After passing quarantine it went up to Tolson street and docked at the army dock as usual, and her passengers from Manila and Honolulu landed there. Three More Shocks at Salinas. LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 27.—A long distance telephone message to this city from a correspondent of the Associated Press at Salinas, 120 miles south of San Francisco, at 10:30 o'clock this morning, states that three more very heavy earthquake shocks were felt there last night, one at 8 o'clock, another at 9:30 and the last at 10 o'clock this morning. The shocks lasted about four seconds each, but so far as known did no damage. The news could not be reported from Salinas earlier because of lack of all communication. The damage to Salinas is reported to have been sunk ten or twelve feet all along its course for miles. Nearly all the bridges across the river have been condemned and will have to be rebuilt. A later telephone message today, received by the Evening Express, says that earthquake shocks have been felt there daily since the first disaster, April 18, but that no further damage was done. FIFTEEN THOUSAND IN SHOW TENT Enormous Crowd at Bernhardt Benefit Performance in Chicago. Eugene Duval, assistant general western agent of the Milwaukee, has returned from Chicago, where he says the interest in the San Francisco sufferers is just as keen as it is in Omaha and other points along the line of the transcontinental roads, where the people are being fed. "I never saw such a crowd of people in one place in my life as I turned out to the Sarah Bernhardt performance, which was given for the benefit of the relief funds in Chicago," said Mr. Duval. "The performance was given in a huge tent on the lake front, and I think over 15,000 people must have tried to get into that tent, which seemed to be nearly a block long, and which the people nearly tore down in their efforts to spend their money for the benefit of the sufferers."

Fifteen-Year-Old Girl Disappears. Frances Williams, aged 15 years, left her work at a counter at the Boston store Thursday afternoon, saying her father had come for her, and when she did not return she did not return from work, as usual. Her father, W. Williams, who lives at 2401 Miami street, went in search of his daughter in the evening when she did not return from work, as usual, and, learning what had happened, notified the police. Williams said he has frequently become alarmed because of his girl's incorrigibility and requested a careful search for her that she might be cared for.
