

GREAT UNEASINESS IN PARIS

People Not Reassured by Elaborate Military Preparations to Preserve Order.

BOMB EXPLODED UNDER RAILROAD BRIDGE

Attempt to Destroy Structure Used by Troops in Reaching Capital—Striking Jewelers Dispersed.

PARIS, April 28.—The government has completed preparations for dealing with the May day situation and is confident that the day will pass without serious disorder, but at the same time the public, which is not in the least reassured by the elaborate military concentration, is showing great uneasiness.

This has been accentuated by the explosion of a bomb Friday night under the important railroad bridge at Argenteuil, in the suburbs of Paris, which links the capital with Havre and by an attempt this evening of a band of 100 striking jewelers to petrify the popular center of the Place de l'Opera for the purpose of making a demonstration before the great jewelry establishments in the Rue de La Paix.

The activity of the police in making more searches and seizures, although designed to insure the public safety, also has had the result of increasing public apprehension, many persons believing that such extraordinary efforts indicate the seriousness of the situation.

Many Leaving City.—Government, military and police officials give the most positive assurances that order will be maintained and the cabinet heads accept these statements, but the nervous element of the city is hastily preparing for eventualities, some persons leaving town and taking their valuables with them and others laying in stores for an emergency.

The sensational press increases the unrest by publishing alarming reports of anarchist designs, while the serious press gives prominence to the military concentration and the police plans, all which leads the public to apprehend that something is about to happen.

Attempt to Destroy Bridge.—The explosion of the bomb under the Argenteuil bridge is the first event act in what the revolutionists term "direct action." The bridge is a massive structure crossing the Seine, and outside the St. Lazare station and hundreds of trains cross it daily. The military reinforcements that have been brought to Paris crossed the river on this bridge.

The bomb used was cylindrical in shape with a slow fuse. The deafening explosion was heard for five miles. It shattered windows in Argenteuil and weakened the sleeping town. The railroad was torn up and the solidity of the structure resisted the force of the explosion.

Striking Jewelers Dispersed.—The appearance of the striking jewelers in the fashionable shopping center this evening caused considerable excitement. The strikers proceeded in a body from the labor exchange to the Rue de la Paix, the richest street in the world.

The wholesale searches continue to arouse excited discussion. Some royalist suspects discuss connection with a plot, while others assert that the wealthy Count Durand de Beauregard is the tool of the visionary plotters.

The temporary military camps show great activity. Six military kitchens have been installed in the Champs de Mars, and extensive lighting and watering plants have been perfected.

The military governor of Paris this morning began the requisitioning of quarters in the neighborhood of the military school and tomorrow the requisitions will extend to the neighborhood of the Labor exchange, as the regular barracks are inadequate.

The actual state of the labor movement is unchanged. An appeal issued by the labor confederation today closes with a suggestion that the soldiers' conscience should forbid them firing upon workmen.

WESTERN GOLF ASSOCIATION DATES

Board of Directors Switches Time for Its Competitions.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Western Golf association held before the start of the Olympic cup competition and the start of another championship were changed from July 2 to July 15.

The Olympic cup will be played on teams of four from any golf association in the world, and will be played on September 3 and the amateur championship during the five following days.

It will be seen that the dates so fixed are subsequent to those adopted by the United States Golf association for its annual championship, which is to be played at Englewood, New Jersey, on July 19 to 24.

While the Western Golf association was most anxious to follow the established precedent and fix the dates for its annual event prior to those of the national, it was absolutely debarrd from so doing by reason of the unusually early dates selected for the latter event.

season and the absence in college of many of the younger contingent.

It is confidently believed that the dates now selected will meet with the approval of a large majority of western golfers.

Automobile Sparks. One thing especially which the American Automobile association intends to fight for this year is the restriction by several states of a license granted in any other state.

And cross words at the Jackson tournament. The only smooth feature about race meets in Florida seems to be the beach, which is only the smile and the irritating. Maybe the rearing-up habit of the waves has a sympathetic effect upon promoters and contestants.

Appearances favor the idea that the race for the Vanderbilt cup, and not the Grand Prix of France, will be the premier international contest hereafter. There is every assurance that France, Germany, Italy, Belgium and England will enter the American event this year, while thus far the chief entries for the Grand Prix are those of French cars.

Great Arrow, will drive the only American car venturing to bear the foreign maker at home. Although the Herkomer contest is at the same distance as the Glidden tour, 1,000 miles, it is through a more mountainous country.

Mr. Pierce drove an Arrow of 28-horse power, but he will take one of 60-horse power to Europe. This departure is notable because, owing to the foreign conviction abroad that no American car has ever won a long distance race, because of the Great Arrow always having been pre-eminently an American car for American conditions, that any honor it may win will be a triumph for the industry of this country.

Men who would not place their orders for high grade cars at the show, saying they guessed they could get a car when they wanted one if they came around with the cash, are now bustling about offering premiums for an early delivery.

So many women who know how to handle automobiles now go out alone or with women companions, that the tip-grafters of the garages and road houses are becoming disgruntled. They count on a smaller tip from a woman than from a man and they are seldom disappointed. In this same connection it may be mentioned that a frugal-minded Yankee and a member of a big club, is known who always lets his wife take the wheel when about to stop anywhere, while he plays passenger in the tonneau. The wife hands out a small tip and the club member, who is a shrewd fellow, thrifty husband reckons up his savings while acting irresponsible and disinterested.

Another year or two may witness a big increase in the number of steam cars, for there is any number of makers, who are in the licensed fold, are already preparing to make steamers in case of the courts sustaining the Selden patent.

OMAHA HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Clinton Mauritzius, chairman; Ruth Bell and Joseph Dorward were appointed a committee on commencement invitations.

The officers of the High School Register are to be elected on the 23rd Wednesday in May. Sharp competition exists between the numerous candidates.

A gratifying communication was received by Principal E. Watsonhouse from President Churchill King of Oberlin college, Oberlin, O., to the effect that three of the Omaha contingent of last year's class of the Omaha High school led the freshmen class in scholarship. They were, in the order of their excellence, Miss Laura Steverson, Miss Adelaide Clark and Mr. Raymond Hayward.

Owing to the fact that the Field and Country clubs have their openings on May 5 it has been deemed advisable to postpone the senior fair one week. The fair will therefore take place on May 12.

A farce was presented by the Elaine society on Friday last, entitled "A Surprise." Many amusing episodes were presented by the participants, to the evident delight of those present.

The Demosthenian Debating society gave a short debate on "Resolved, That the comic supplements to the daily newspapers are as a whole detrimental to the public."

A Handbuch defended the affirmative against R. Webster on the negative. The program rendered by the Priscilla Aiden society had for its central theme "May Day." Irma Weideman read an essay on the "Origin of May Day." Verna Hayes told a story entitled "Retina." May Day Queens were the title of a recitation by Agnes Russell. Ruth Sherwood in closing read an original poem entitled "May Basket." Before adjournment the society lovingly remembered Margaret Williams, who is seriously ill, by sending her a floral tribute.

The Francis Willard program consisted of these numbers: A recitation, "School Days," was given by Clara Nielsen. Edna Wilke and Anna Johnson, on the affirmative, and Ella Zabel and Nellie Mitchell, on the negative, debated the question, "Resolved, That high school girls wear uniforms." A dialogue, "Finished Education," was given by Lillian Carlson and Odette Jackson. The society newspaper, the Crescent, was read in closing by Edna West and Lillian Carlson.

The Margaret Fuller society's program was: A vocal solo, "Massachusetts of the Year," by Edith Carson. Mildred Foster recited "Rock-a-Bye Baby." An essay on "National Flowers" was read by Ione Bellamy. Roy Gould recited "If Daddy Had Plenty of Money." A story entitled "Carry Bosson's Good Luck" was read by Alice McCullough. Ross Gould recited "Flowers."

"To the Spring" was rendered on the piano by Elizabeth Anderson. "Lady Sweet" was recited by Edith Carson. In closing Ruth McBride sang a vocal solo entitled "Sleep Little Rose Bud."

The most elaborate program given Friday afternoon was that of the Hawthorne society. It was the annual open program of the society. Lori Fuller sang "A Song of Sunshine," by H. Bruning, and generously responded to the piano with "The Dew Drop." Alfred Lehman. An original poem, "The Hawthorne Fane," was read by Lucy Dietrick. A piano solo, "The Dew Drop," Alfred Powell read the "Dream of Fair Women." Hiram Scoville rendered a violin solo. The most attractive part of the entire program was the tableaux presented in the "Dream of Fair Women." The costuming was exceedingly appropriate.

THE SAME MISTAKE THAT THOUSANDS MAKE.

To neglect backache, which is very often the only outward sign that nature gives of serious trouble in the kidneys, is to give free reign to serious disorders that may end in dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease.

Yet this neglect of backache is very common. Many people think the pain a simple muscular trouble. They do not seem to know that backache is the most common symptom of kidney complaint.

The kidneys (filters of the blood) lie just beneath the small of the back, on either side of the spine. As soon as there is any inflammation or congestion in the kidneys you notice a feeling of uneasiness in the back, then that dull, throbbing pain, changing to sharp twinges when any sudden strain is brought upon the back. It is hard to straighten after stooping; you feel lame in the morning.

The urine shows early signs of the disorder. It is pale and thin, or thick, discolored and ill-smelling. Passages are too frequent, day and night, or scanty and very painful. A whitish, stringy substance, or a sandy, brickish sediment settles at the bottom of the vessel.

There will be no danger at any time, however, if you begin using Doan's Kidney Pills as soon as you notice backache or any irregularity of the urine. This medicine is a compound of pure roots and herbs that act directly on the kidneys, curing, healing and strengthening them. It cures the cause, and backache, headache, languor disappear. Home testimony guarantees every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.

OMAHA TESTIMONY. Mrs. Augusta Bohman of 1913 Oak street, Omaha, Neb., says: "It is a pleasure for me to re-endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. What I stated seven years ago about them curing me of kidney trouble was not only true, but today I can vouch that not a symptom of this complaint has returned. I have remained cured. A cold which I contracted and which settled in my kidneys brought on backache. As years went on the attacks became more frequent and more severe. I was in had condition when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. The fact that they rid me of this trouble, as well as all signs of kidney complaint, and that I have never had a return of the symptom since, considering my advanced age, 70 years, I think, the very best proof of the value of Doan's Kidney Pills."
