the fire that has swept the city. Great collections of invaluable records came to the pitiful end of making food for the flames.

No accurate estimate can be made of the monetary worth of the books destroyed, but it is believed that their market value was in excess of $100,000. The public library was the eighth largest institution of its kind in the United States. Librarian George W. Clark said: "In the main library in the eastern wing of the city hall we had 130,000 books. This was a total loss, the structure housing the volume being shattered by earthquakes and swept by fire."

"When our branch collections are brought together," he continued, "we will have a good working library of reference books and a fine collection of standard literature. We have $750,000 that Andrew Carnegie gave us, which sum is still intact, and in 10 days, now available. We have the square block of land bounded by Van Ness, Hayes, Franklin and Fell streets, which was bought with bond issue money, and we have $1,000,000 of money available for a new library building."

"Our great disaster will result in hurrying this work of construction, and doubtless the building of the new home for San Francisco's books will begin in the near future. Meanwhile the various branches of the library that escaped the fire are open for the return and deposit of books. Next week the trustees will meet to devise a method of circulation."

Sutro Library Gone.
The Mechanics' Institute library and the Mercantile library combined a few weeks ago. Their collections had not yet been brought together, but both library structures, the former on First street below Kearney, and the latter on Butler street above Kearney, were buried. In the two collections were 100,000 volumes, and all were lost. The Sutro library of 200,000 volumes collected by the late Adolph Sutro, was destroyed. These books were stored in the Montgomery barracks and in a basement of immense value, as it contained some of the rarest books in the United States, building on Battery street. The collection of the library of the Society of Pioneers, in their building on Fourth street, is gone. One of its priceless features was the typewritten reminiscences of pioneers of home in twelve volumes. The Bohemian club lost its library of 5,000 volumes, many of them autograph copies from noted authors. The French library of 10,000 books, which was in the Spring Valley building, is no more. The P.N.E.U. library contained 10,000 volumes to the pyre. The flames took the costly library in the Crocker mansion. Nothing remains of the 35,000 volumes of the San Francisco law library. The supreme court lost its library of 10,000 volumes and the fine collections of Appellate Judge Harrison and of Dr. Taylor, dean of the Hastings Law college, are in ashes. A few private law libraries escaped the flames, notable among these being the collections of former Judge Slack and Superior Judge Carroll Cook, which were in their residences in the unburned district.

Only One Library Intact.
To sum up, of all the big libraries in San Francisco one alone is intact, but luckily that one is of great value. The Bancroft library, containing an immense collection of historical works, was stored at Twenty-sixth and Valencia streets and is undamaged. This collection was purchased some time ago by the University of California and doubtless will be taken to Berkeley for the use of the students as soon as possible.

Mayor Schmitt today received many communications which had been delayed, from every quarter of the globe, expressing sympathy for the people. Among these were words of comfort and good will from Australian cities, Dublin's mayor and other Irish officials throughout Ireland; from New Zealand, from Baron Kanaoka, at Tokyo, who sympathizes with the American people. From Englishmen in China, India, South Africa and many far off points, where the news of San Francisco's catastrophe is known came words of sympathy.

Problems for Legislature.
"There is nothing left but courage and grit," said Charles E. Curry, secretary of state, but there is plenty of that to again make San Francisco what it has been and always will be—the largest and most important city on the Pacific coast. Those who believe that San Francisco will not be rapidly rebuilt and on a greater and grander scale don't know the spirit of the west. San Francisco will remain the principal gateway through which commerce and trade to the orient will flow."

Speaking of an extra session of the legislature, Secretary Curry said: "No one who has seen San Francisco as it now stands, after the terrible devastation by two of nature's greatest forces, would quibble a moment about an extra session. While I cannot speak authoritatively for the governor, I know that he is in favor of calling a special session to enact special legislation, and I believe Governor Pardee will call an extra session. The loss of records and the state taxation in the affected districts need special legislation to meet the occasion. These laws can later be repealed."

Banks in Good Shape.
All of San Francisco's forty-four banks, thirty-two commercial and twelve savings, will be located within a small area of the burned district. Inspection has revealed the fact that the vaults in every instance remain intact, but, with probably two or three exceptions, the fine bank buildings were utterly destroyed.

According to the statements filed by these banks with the bank commission on January 1 last, the value of the buildings aggregated $4,000,000. Add to this the value of the premises occupied by the ten national banks, $27,300, and the aggregate is $4,027,300. Two-thirds of this valuation represents the land value of the banking area, and, therefore, is not lost, so the net loss to the banks is about $2,300,000, a sum which in no way impairs their financial standing. The buildings and fixtures are partly insured and this will cut down the loss to a less figure, but how much cannot be stated with any degree of definiteness at this time.

Plenty of Cash in Sight.
The money on hand in the thirty-two commercial banks at the time was $150,504, while the savings banks have coin in hand to the amount of $3,300,504. Add to this the $10,000,000 in specie in the vaults of the ten national banks and there is an aggregate of $20,351,008 in coin immediately available.

The amount of money due the three classes of banks from other banks and banks was $7,357,000, of which, however, only $15,000,000 due from outside banks can be figured on, the balance being due from other San Francisco banks. This brings the total money within its reach up to more than $45,000,000.

ONLY ONE PAPER SUSPENDS

Post Temporarily Out of Business and Advertisers Resume Work.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—It takes more than an earthquake and a conflagration to put the San Francisco newspapers out of business. With a resourcefulness that cannot be admired, they surmounted all difficulties today and there is little in their appearance that would indicate the strain and stress under which they have labored in order to present the news to the public.

Only one of them has suspended. The Evening Post, being unable to acquire a plant in the vicinity of the city, has retired from the field for sixty days. All others are issuing as usual.

It must be remembered that at 5:15 on the morning of the earthquake, April 25, power and water failed in every newspaper office in San Francisco. Still, in the hope that as the day grew these agencies would be provided, the gathering of news went on as usual. When the conflagration made it apparent that all plans, without exception, would be destroyed, the Bulletin put a work force in its composing rooms and a handful was hand-set and some hundreds of copies run off on the proof press, giving the salient features of the day's news.

The morning papers, the Call, Chronicle and Examiner, retired to Oakland, on the other side of the bay, and there on Thursday morning issued a joint paper from the office of the Oakland Tribune. On Friday morning they split forces again. The Examiner, retaining the use of the Tribune plant and the Call and Chronicle issuing from their respective offices in San Francisco.

Another body identified was that of Bertha Fabian, formerly of 1126 Howard street. She was killed by falling walls.

European Syndicate to Invest.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—The Examiner says that a European syndicate is ready to invest $10,000,000 in San Francisco realty. The determination to place this sum in real estate in the city has been decided since the great disaster. The intention of the foreign corporation has been known to H. E. Law, one of the owners of San Francisco property. The head of the syndicate called to him of its desire to get hold of sites and buildings. The anxiety of the European investors to secure real estate is taken as evidence of the confidence of the world in the future of the new San Francisco.

Chinese Well Cared For.
WASHINGTON, April 28.—Advices received at the Chinese legation in this city from the Chinese consul general in San Francisco indicate that every attention is being shown the Chinese refugees and troops are giving them adequate protection.

The reports from our officials are very gratifying. Mr. Chentung Liang Cheng, the Chinese minister, said today, "and we are very grateful for the attention which our people are receiving."

Kansas City Benefit a Success.
KANSAS CITY, April 28.—A big San Francisco benefit performance was given at Convention hall last night by members of the ten different theatrical attractions now playing in Kansas City. Every theater in the city was closed and added the benefit. The show was attended by 5,000 persons and $5,000 was added to the city's general relief fund.

Chief of Gendarmes Killed.
LIEBIL, Russia, April 28.—Lieutenant Colonel Pugal, chief of the gendarmarie at Cholim, was murdered last night. The assassin escaped.

Alleged Swindlers May Go Free as Result of Earthquake.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—Detective Gibson of the local police force said yesterday that the fire practically destroyed every bit of evidence against Jacob and Herman Eppinger, accused of swindling banks out of $78,000 by borrowing money on fictitious wheat certificates. The second trial of Jacob Eppinger was set for Wednesday forenoon, April 18, the date of the earthquake. In speaking of the loss of the important documents in this noted criminal proceeding, Detective Gibson said: "It is my opinion that the destruction of all the evidence secured by the state against the Eppingers will make it impossible to convict the defendants. At the first trial of Jacob Eppinger the jury disagreed. It looks now as if the Eppingers would go free."

Edward T. Devine Says Best Men Are Making Relief.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 28.—Dr. Edward T. Devine of New York, representative of the National Red Cross in the relief work in San Francisco, having gathered four days' experience with conditions prevailing here, at the request of the Associated Press, yesterday made the following statement on his observations:

When I left New York Thursday, April 18, we knew only that there had been a serious disaster, but in fact more than half of the disaster occurred after I started. All sorts of rumors reached us en route as to the loss of life, looting, shooting, panic and death. We heard little or nothing of the relief work until we reached San Francisco. The large gift of the task is to coordinate the official and voluntary relief, to make it as far as possible, to prevent it from being a chaotic mass of efforts, and to secure the most efficient use of the funds and the organization of the Red Cross. This committee under the chairmanship of James D. Phelan, comprises twenty of the best citizens of the community and has entire charge of the distribution of the relief. Direction has been made to all to send all funds to the order of Mr. Phelan. The most important step was to arrange for the systematic reception and distribution of supplies. Fortunately, the splendid organization of the United States army is eminently fitted to cope with this difficulty.
