PNEUMATIC MALT CONCERN

Big Plant Will Soon Be Established in Omaha by Local Men.

HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND PAID UP

Site to Not Yet Selected, but Market is Certain and Building Will Be Accomplished Without Delay.

The Gate City Malt company has been organized, with a capital of $100,000, fully paid up. The officers are: Elmer E. Bryson, president and general manager; P. J. Peterson, vice president; F. J. Moriarty of South Omaha, secretary and treasurer. These, with H. Vance Lane and J. B. Blanchard, constitute the board of directors. In many houses, machinery and elevator an investment of almost the entire capital will be involved. An up-to-date pneumatic malt house will be built, the plans for which already have been practically decided upon, after an inspection by Mr. Bryson of a number of modern malt houses. It will be a duplicate of a malt house recently built in Wisconsin by a Chicago company, which also drafted the plans and furnished the machinery. It will have a capacity of 300,000 bushels a year. There is a market in Omaha for 250,000 bushels of malt a year and the outside field is unlimited. No site has been selected. The bargain must be of the best quality and the average in Nebraska is small. As only 200,000 bushels came to the Omaha market last year from Nebraska and Iowa together, it follows that the company will have to get more Iowa malt, and must locate where railroad facilities will make Iowa most accessible. Proposals have been made to the company by two Iowa lines and these are being considered. The establishment of the concern means much to the grain exchange, and it was with much pleasure that Secretary McVann signalled his first day of duty at the exchange by announcing the project. He said he had seen a list of stockholders, which is not to be made public at present, and it contains the names of some of the strongest men of financial ability in Omaha.

The subscriptions are in large units—$5,000, $10,000 and $20,000. Mr. Bryson and Mr. Peterson have for some time operated the Gate City Malt company at Second and Fifth streets, but the concern is small and has never been incorporated. The results attained have convinced Mr. Bryson that success can be achieved on a large scale.

METHODIST HOSPITAL PLANS

Contract Delayed by Nonarrival of the Specifications from the Chicago Designers. No contracts have yet been let for the erection of the Methodist hospital on Cumming street, for the reason that there has been considerable delay in getting plans and specifications for a heating and ventilating plant. The plans and a part of the specifications, which were prepared by a Chicago firm, have arrived, and it is thought the remaining portion will be here in a few days. As soon as it arrives the board of trustees will meet for the purpose of asking bids and the building will be begun as soon after as possible. The laying of the cornerstones may be arranged for May 31 or 52. In view of the proposed Methodist union annual banquet on one of those dates, if the banquet is postponed, as it may be, there will be no object in having the cornerstones services at that time.

IMPOSTERS AMONG VICTIMS

Two Men with Messes Accept Free Transportation and Everything Else is Right. That people have been riding on free transportation who were not entitled to it has been known to the railroads all the time, but they did not stop to discriminate until lately. Now they are making it hard for impostors to get through. Monday an instance of this kind came to light at Union station. One young fellow had been anxious to get a ticket free to St. Paul. He had been quizzed and finally let it out that he had $35. He bought his ticket. A defaulter named C. Nelson of St. Paul, had been making a good deal of noise because he could not get his trunk through on the ticket which would be provided by the relief committee. Finally he got in line with those wishing to go to St. Paul and began to talk loud about not leaving his trunk. Superintendent Morris of the Associated Charities told him they had a system of doing that work and if he was not satisfied he would have to wait until some other method could be evolved. Mr. Nelson got insulted and reached down in his pocket, pulled out a roll of bills that would have choked an ox and shook them in George West's face. He bought a ticket and again returned shaking the ticket and the money in Mr. Morris' face. He had been sitting around the tent all day and had received some clothing and when, because of his obstreperousness, Mr. Morris suggested he be arrested for obtaining supplies under false pretenses he immediately lost himself. Strange Adventure
