Mayor-Elect Seeks Lodge Where He Can Ponder in Quiet.

PIE NOW THE BIG TASK

Probability that Some Republicans Will Be Retained in Their Posttions Under the Incoming Democratic Administration.

James C. Dahlman, mayor-elect, wil leave the city today to be gone a week recuperating from the physical and mental wear and tear of his triumphal campaign. Besides this, he hopes to be free from the petitions of officemeekers and people thirsty for favors of all sorts and kinds. He will try to keep his whereabouts secret, but has given it out that after a week he will be on deck again prepared to stack the new deal at the city hall. Appointments to positions will be considered while Mr. Dahlman is away or after he returns, it is announced, and his closest advisers say that nothing of this nature is now determined upon.

The mayor-elect remained at home Wednesday until after lunch, when he sauntered down Farnam street, to be interrupted every few feet by congratulations upon his success. During most of the afternoon he was closeted with local party leaders, who said that no appointments would be decided upon or announced until after the next mayor had returned from Excelsior Springs.

Questions as to who will get the hunks of pie that are to be distributed were paramount on the street, but received little satisfaction in replics. The chief Dahlman Reutenants swore upon their honor that nothing had been doing but talk up to date, and asserted the mayorelect would take his own time and choice in making up his mind about whom he wanted to help him run the town for the next three years.

May Divide the Offices. A statement that Mr. Dahlman made several times within the last several weeks has given certain republicans siderable hope. It was to the effect that the new mayor would cut the spoils and turn over a share to republicans whose votes helped him win. Intimation was too, that some republicans who didn't help him win would probably be retained on merit and as further evidence that the democrats would not "hog it all" or try to batter down the tarpaulin too tight on the city hall.

Reports that seem to have some reason in them were prevalent that City Engineer Rosewater, who has served many years continuously in the position under various administrations, and City Electrician Michnelsen, whose original appointment was on a faux pas between the mayor's office and the council, would likely hold their jobs. Dunish-Americans who were prominent in helping elect Dahlman have got busy for Michaelsen, while City Engineer Rosewater has many friends among the democrats who are pleading for his retention on the ground of fitness and ability not approached by any likely candidate from their own Lynch and Hartley to Stay. At least two republicans in the city hall think they have cinches on their jobs. These are Gas Inspector Lynch and City Abstracter Wood Hartley. Both were right in the middle of the Dahlman end of the campaign and neither is worrying about where their bread and butter will come from for the next three years.

Ex-Deputy Sheriff Tom Flynn or Dave Rowden will land the street commissionership, it is supposed, and a foremanship in the asphalt repairs department is slated for Joe Butler, brother of the city clerkelect, if not something better. Bill Me-Combs, secretary of the democratic city committee, has an eye on the $100 clerkship in the street department now pegged downby Colonel Coburn. J. J. Mahoney, editor of the "Indicator" and prominent fore-caster, is arranging for a berth in the city clerk's office. It is understood the forces of Building Inspector Withnell and Comptroller Lobeck will remain just as they are. Herdman Rendy to Quit.

There is considerable speculation as to who the new city attorney, H. E. Burnam, will name for his assistant. The present incumbent, W. H. Herdman, months ago said he was through with political jobs when his term expired, and his attitude during the campaign just closed precludes his preferment, unless Burnam has decided views about the matter. Herdman mays he has had two excellent offers, on from a raliroad and one from a prominent legal firm, during the last year, but had planned to embark in the law practice with his brother.

The action of Inspector of Weights and Measures Mahammitt, the only colored office holder at the city hall, in supporting Dahlman in his newspaper is expected to be rewarded. The important berth of health commissioner has not been much discussed, but several democratic physicians have been mentioned in this connec Bedford or Funkhouser. The presidency of the new council is understood to lie between Jeff W. Bedford of the Twelfth ward and M. F. Funkhouser of the Eleventh, with the odds or Bedford.

Neither man has started any perceptible campaign for the honor, but their friends have taken up matters in their behalf. The Dahlman crowd prefers Bedford over Funkhouser and assert they are fairly conident of his selection.

Reports that Tom Lee was to be kept as city prosecutor were denied emphatically by Dahlman's lieutenants. Lee, it had been said, was to be rewarded for his work in the Third ward Tuesday. City Clerk-elect Butler had fifteen applications for places in his office filed with him verbally Tuesday night within a few hours after the polls closed. John Grant Pegg, a colored man, who was once messenger in the office of Mayor Moores, is an active candidate for the position of inspector of weights and measures. Pegg carries testimonials from democratic leaders saying he did good work for their

LIGHTS FOR FEDERAL SQUARE City Electrician Wishes to Dispel the Darkness that Prevails

City Electrician Michaelsep will ask the government, through the local authorities, to establish and maintain two or more arc lamps on North Sixteenth street, in front of the federal building. With brilliantly lighted stores on either side; the federal hunding block presents a chunk of darkness evenings not at all attractive to the business interests on North Sixteenth street. During the last year local merchants have made great strides in lighting by electric signs and otherwise and the retail thoroughfares now present a festive appearance up to 11 and 12 o'clock. It ts desired to have the arc lamps requested lighted at least until midnight.
