In your morning newspaper. you Bee: have two editorials, one entitled "Time to Get Together" and the other "Causes of Republican Defeat." I take exceptions to many things in the latter and approve of part of the ideas suggested in the former. To me it seems very inconsistent to urge republicans to unite for the good of the party in one column and in another to blame the recent defeat to the only live republican organization in the city, when it is necessary to have the support of that organization and its friends as the first step toward union in the party. In passing permit me to say also that I question the propriety of a party newspaper taking sides with either faction before the primaries, especially when that party newspaper was forced, in taking sides, to approve and endorse the records of men who had completely lost the confidence of the people by their conduct while seventy-five representative republicans conin office. Had you refrained from attack- stitute the directing and controlling force ing the other republican candidates before the primaries your editorials could the bylaws that when a member of the not have been used by the enemy at the board of governors becomes a candidate election to create false impressions of the for an elective office he by that act loses purposes of the nominees. I am not charging the defeat of Tuesday to you, but am constrained to say that the element in it is further provided that no applicant for the party which has been yours to com, mand most of the time for nins years did ammended to the voters unless he shall bring about the result which is now the asion of this discussion. 1 was one of the original Fontanelles; 1 an proud of it, and proud of the good work done within the party by that organization. It was formed for definite purposes, one of which was to antagonize a machine financed by a boss gambler and the service corporations, which in three membership therein. city campaigns had outraged public sentiment. In other words, the Fontanelis club was the organized protest of 4,000 republicans against the Dennison machine and ts methods. It smashed that institution effectually in the only way it could be destroyed. It has also accomplished several other things-the reduction of water rates, the direct primary law and begun the agiation for cheaper gas.

The Fontanelle club has never bolted a icket or a man on a ticket after the nomnations were made, saving in the single instance where it felt that C. F. Weller's omination for water commissioner had been secured by a species of jugglery amounting to fraud. It did not charge this piece of political chicanery to Mr. Weller, but got behind Mr. Howell to rebake the frund.

When your friends were successful at the primaries, even where your party manager refused to hear contests, we railed to the entire ticket and in every single instance the so-called machine men upon the republican ticket were elected, while the Fontanello men in many instances were mifed by the other faction and in some cases were defeated. You know what efforts were put forth last fall to defeat John McDonald for sheriff and Charles Lealle for county Judge, although Brailey. Trawferd, Selomon and every other suc-

nelle support. It is, therefore, unfair, as well as unwise, at this time to be throwing bricks at the first and only strong political club ever organized in Douglas county which does to charge any Fontanelle with holting at into his letter.
