The reading of the Allison amendments, on which senate leaders are agreed, was listened to with great interest and at its conclusion the amendments were hurried to the printing office with instructions to have them printed and returned to the senate

The language, after striking out the words 'fairly remunerative," in section 4 of the bill provides for the insertion after the "prescribed" the following:

"All orders of the commission, except rders for the payment of money, shall take effect within such reasonable time and shall continue in force for such period of time, not exceeding two years, as shall be prescribed in the order of the commission. In the same section the provision specifying when orders of the commission shall take effect is stricken out.

Then comes in the original Allison amendment providing for the bringing of suits against the commission and after the word "office" is to be inserted the following: "And if the order or requirement has een made against two or more carriers then in the district, where any one of said carriers had its principal operating office, and if the carrier has its principal operating office in the District of Columbia, then the venue shall be in the district where said carrier has its principal office and jurisdiction to hear and determine such suits is hereby vested in such courts."

Limit to Injunctions. In the same section, after the word "sults" is to be inserted "including the hearing on an application for a preliminary injunction. After the word "causes" is to be added 'provided that no injunction, interlocutory order or decree, suspending or restraining the enforcement of an order of the commission shall be granted except on hearing, after not less than five days' notice to the commission. An appeal may be taken from any interlocutory order or decree granting or continuing an injunction in any suit, but shall lie only to the supreme court of the United States. Provided further, that the appeal must be taken within thirty days of the entry of such order or de cree, and shall take precedence in the appellate court over all other causes ex-

Allison with Dolliver. Notice was served by Senator Allison on the conservative forces, headed by Senators Aldrich, Spooner, Crane, Lodge, Foraker and others, that he would not offer any amendment that was not satisfactory to his colleague, Senator Dolliver, and to Senators Cuilom and Clapp, who fought against amendments to the bill when it was pending before the con mittee on interstate commerce. The stand taken by the senior lowa senator upset the former alleged agreement. He made no secret of his belief that advantage had seen taken of his illness to attempt to force through an amendment which was offered solely as a basis for compromise and not as full agreement of the con troverted questions.
