

SAVE SOULS FIRST MISSION

Salvation of Others Prime Duty of Christians, Says Rev. A. J. Turkle.

FORMER PASTOR OF KOUNTZE MEMORIAL

Education and Development of Natures Secondary, He Says, to Christ's Injunction to Preach the Gospel.

"Our mission here is to save souls. Some think we are here to educate and develop our natures, but I want to tell you there is another existence where the spiritual nature will have time to grow and develop indefinitely, while there is only one existence, and a short one, to save souls."

This spoke Rev. Alfonso J. Turkle, former pastor of Kountze Memorial Lutheran church, at the Kountze church Sunday morning. Dr. Turkle's sermon was an earnest, three words, "Christ is the world, even as you have seen it in the world, even as I have sent them into the world."

What was the work of Christ, which after His death His disciples were commissioned to do, and which has been transmitted through them to us? asked Dr. Turkle. That work was essentially the revelation of God and the redemption of man. Christ came into the world that He might make God known to men in all the glory of His divine nature.

Christ, says, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." Christ says, "Make known to all men the all-loving Father and the sanctifying spirit." That is what Christ did and what He expects us to do. To carry on His work, we must have something of His spirit, must get into His way of thinking, must have something of the passion of His heart, must feel something of His love.

"Sacrifice is necessary. There was great virtue in the life of Christ, but He came to die, and the full significance of His mission on earth is merged in the cross. This vicarious sacrifice runs through all life; fathers sell their own strength to save their sons, mothers pluck the roses from their cheeks and set them in the faces of their children, the rock decays for the moss, the moss dies for the trees and trees give way to corn, and the corn gives its life and strength to man. To save souls for God even by sacrifice is the least we can do for Him who honored us higher than the angels by giving His commission to us."

CHARACTER OF MEN'S MOVEMENT Outline of Work Given by Rev. R. A. McBride.

Rev. R. A. McBride of the Central United Presbyterian church Sunday morning spoke of the men's movement in the denomination. He said: "The movement is not exactly peculiar to the United Presbyterian church. A similar movement is on foot in the Presbyterian church and many other large denominations. Nor is the movement new, for there have been men's clubs, leagues, etc., in many congregations and denominations for years."

"The men's organization is the outgrowth of Sabbath school work and young people's work. In the later years men defined in this work are forced to drop it because they are no longer young. There remains no specific work assigned them and trained to work along the lines of organization they find themselves with nothing to do. Naturally and logically the men have looked about for some organization whereby they might carry on a work of service for the Lord."

"The men's league is not another organization in the church. It is simply an arrangement by which the men in the church are enabled to render service. The men's league proposes to help every man to find and then to perform a definite task. There are many objections to the league. We are told churches already are overorganized—that many pastors and layworkers find all their time taken up in keeping the wheels of the machinery going."

"After a careful study of the church needs I am prepared to say most emphatically that in my judgment the church is not overorganized."

"I venture to say the church is inefficiently organized. The church never will be efficiently organized until every individual in it is conscious of responsibility in some definite task. At present it is too often true that the burden of the church work falls upon a small percentage of the members."

MULATTO WHITE MAN'S HEIR

St. Joseph Woman Claims Fortune as Daughter of Prominent Jobber.

MOTHER IS MRS. LULU WILSON OF OMAHA

Latter Supports Her Daughter as to Her Parentage and Right to Fifty Thousand Dollars Left by Father.

Mrs. Lulu Wilson, a colored woman past the meridian of life, living in a dismal little hotel at the rear of 1500 Burr street—Ramcat alley—is fighting conspicuously in a remarkable suit in which Mrs. Nannie G. Darrall, the woman's daughter, of St. Joseph, seeks to break the will of Joseph S. Roberts, white, who was a prominent jobber and bachelor of Buchanan county, Missouri. If the plaintiff wins her suit she will secure half of the estate, which is valued at $100,000.

Mrs. Darrall claims she is the illegitimate child of Roberts, which contention is borne out in a sworn deposition given by Mrs. Wilson before George C. Thompson, notary, room 10, Robertson block, March 3, in the presence of St. Joseph lawyers representing the estate and Mrs. Darrall.

Roberts died at St. Joseph six months ago and left his property to his brothers and sisters. The property is located at Newcastle, Ky., and St. Joseph, Mo. The estate is represented by Culver & Phillips, while the plaintiff is represented by J. G. Parkinson and James W. Mytton, all St. Joseph lawyers.

Mrs. Darrall brings suit. When the estate was to be settled, Mrs. Darrall immediately brought suit for $25,000, contending the Roberts property, her half his property, March 3 lawyers for both sides came to Omaha and secured Mrs. Wilson's deposition in Mr. Thompson's office. That deposition is now on file in St. Joseph and is to be supplied here on June 2, at Mr. Thompson's office, in pursuance of an order of Judge Mosman at St. Joseph last Saturday. On Saturday Judge Mosman also ordered that Anna Martin and Emma Gaines of Newcastle, Ky., sisters of Mr. Roberts, be made party defendants, to assist Frank N. Devores, executor, in defense of the will.

In relation to the deposition taken in his office in March, Mr. Thompson yesterday afternoon said: "Mrs. Wilson was questioned for several hours by the attorneys. The woman said she met Roberts at a hotel in a town near St. Joseph, where he was working. She had forgotten the name of the place. She said she was 16 years of age and Roberts was then traveling out of St. Joseph, stopping at frequent intervals at the hotel. The woman declared she became intimate with Roberts and when she told him of her condition he sent her to a doctor in Iowa, where the child, now Mrs. Darrall, was born. The woman's deposition further states Roberts provided for herself and child for years until she moved to Pawnee, Neb., when, according to the deposition, Roberts ceased his remittances on her ground Mrs. Wilson had moved out of Iowa and therefore was out of the jurisdiction of the courts."

Woman Brings Roberts to Time. Further regarding Mrs. Wilson's deposition Mr. Thompson said: "The woman said that when the girl was 10 years old and she was at Pawnee she wrote Roberts a letter in which she told him of the man she wanted support and she would bring action. She then told of Roberts' hasty trip to Pawnee and described how Roberts picked the girl up in his arms, kissed her and then begged her never to say anything regarding their relations, promising her his remittances on her ground Mrs. Wilson took her and the girl to St. Joseph and secured a house for them. In time the girl married a man named Darrall and Mrs. Darrall has claimed Roberts took care of her and husband to the time of his death."

The amplification of Mrs. Wilson's deposition to be taken in Omaha June 2 will be on the grounds that her statements regarding writing a letter to Roberts from Pawnee to St. Joseph and of an alleged contract made between the girl and Roberts at Pawnee in 1889 may be impeached as it is alleged Mrs. Wilson cannot read or spell. In contradiction of that, Notary Thompson of Omaha has Mrs. Wilson's signatures taken in duplicate at the time of the deposition. Mr. Thompson says he knows the woman can at least write her own name. At the time of the taking of the deposition here the woman was aided by Attorney Phillips for the state whether she could spell "read," which was promptly objected to by one of the lawyers for Mrs. Darrall, so the woman did not even try to spell the word.

Claims Roberts Left Deeds. "After the deposition was taken Attorney James W. Mytton told me Mrs. Darrall had actually left deeds for Mrs. Darrall and Mr. Mytton to deliver to the executor, but she wanted to override the wishes of the deceased by trying to cut Mrs. Darrall out of the estate," said Mr. Thompson yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Wilson was seen at her home in Ramcat alley. The woman promptly acknowledged she was the woman named Mrs. Lulu Wilson in the case, but would not commit herself in detail. She said she had made all her statements in the deposition, which had gone to St. Joseph, Mo. She emphatically refused to say whether she could read, write or spell and appeared more occupied with a chaldron of bean soup than with her daughter's suit.

It was reported from St. Joseph yesterday that to meet any opposition regarding her ability to read, write and spell the woman is to be put through a rigid curriculum between now and June 2, when another chapter of the famous case will be closed in Omaha.

Mrs. Wilson is 46 years of age and a nee of the dark type. Her daughter is a mulatto and about 25 years of age. Roberts died a bachelor.

IN GOD'S GREAT OUT-OF-DOORS Omaha People Take Advantage of Pretty Weather Sunday to Enjoy Nature.

Sunday was an excellent day for outdoor amusements and not only did the ball team draw the largest crowd of the season, but the parks as well. Manawa will not open its gates to the public until next Sunday and Courtland beach will probably remain closed all season. Krug park did all the business Sunday and the Walnut Hill cars were taxed to handle those bent on a little fresh air and recreation. These were well entertained by the new sights which Manawa Cole has provided and by the Royal Canadian band, which has been strengthened for this engagement by the addition of some world-renowned soloists.

A few thousand went to Riverview park where Concessionaire Connolly has everything in readiness for the reception of the public. This is a favorite resort for picnic parties and the Park board orders especially to those. The menagerie has wintered well and all the little monkeys were more than pleased to see so many smiling children.

The car line to Florence also did a rushing business. This suburb is always an attraction in summer with its splendid woodland strolls and the waterworks station.

FIGHTING THE FLAMES COMES

Talbot's Big Organization Will Give Omaha Four Days of Novel Entertainment.

An event of unusual importance for the summer season is promised in the forthcoming visit of the most novel of all out-of-door amusement enterprises, Talbot's "Fighting the Flames," which will give its initial presentation here on Wednesday night, May 23, and continue until Saturday night, May 26. This combination of circus and drama, combined with an exhibition of the workings of a great fire department, will furnish a series of exhibitions for the benefit of the police and fire relief fund. The engagement is limited to a night performance on Wednesday and matinee and night performances on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Excursions have been arranged over every transportation line running in and operating in the vicinity of this city and a schedule of prices and time so reasonable has been made that everyone should take advantage of them. Big reservations of seats have been made by people in Omaha and it looks like the members of the two departments will receive a substantial, in fact, munificent sum to apply to their relief fund.

Those who have seen this representation of Louis Park, Coney Island, N. Y., will be astounded to learn that the road show is infinitely larger and contains many new and costly features not shown in its great prototype.

Talbot's "Fighting the Flames" is a new and original combination of drama, vaudeville and circus. It carries a full working department of fire fighters and fire savers, sufficiently large to supply protection to property and life in a town of 20,000 people; requires a company of 100 people and 200 horses to enact it; is presented on a stage 60 long by eighty feet deep, set with scenery seventy feet high and builds a vast amusement city in order to house its players and seat the enormous crowds it attracts.

A stupendous enterprise owns its own train of sixty-two cars by which it is transported from town to town. A novel street parade, nearly a mile in length, will be given on Thursday at 1:30 p. m.

DIAMONDS—Edith, 18th & Harney sts. Ankle Broken by Fall. William Coulman, aged 54 years, a laborer, until a few days ago employed on the new Union Pacific station at South Omaha, fell down while wandering about at the north side of Jefferson square at 1:30 o'clock Sunday evening and suffered a Pott's fracture of the right ankle. The police were notified and the injured man was taken first to Clarkson hospital, but admittance being denied because of lack of room, he was taken to the police station and later to St. Joseph's hospital. Coulman's injury, according to his own statement, was the direct result of a loosening of the lid on the Sabbath. "I'll tell you the truth," he said to the police, "I got to drinking and became unsteady on my feet, so I fell down."

Redmond Almost Loses Ear. Abe Redmond, 3718 Jackson street, colored, applied to the police late Sunday night for medical attention, showing a nearly severed ear which he wished to have fastened on more securely. When questioned as to how he came so near to losing the member, he said some black man had thrown a brick at him, the missile taking effect on the right ear. "I was just passing along the street at thirteen and Chicago, peaceful and quiet," he said, "when some nigger shied a brick or something at me. I don't know what was or why he did it, but I'd know him if I saw him again." Redmond was attended by a police surgeon to retain the lobe.

RICHARDS-COMSTOCK AGAIN

New Proceedings to Be Taken Against the Big Castleman.

GRAND JURY WILL INSERT ITS PROBE

Several Important Witnesses Come to Omaha from Northwest Nebraska to Testify in These Matters.

The federal grand jury is expected to take up this morning further investigation into the Richards-Comstock land fencing cases.

It was the conviction of this pair of defendants that caused the removal of United States Marshal Mathews and District Attorney Baxter by the president of the United States. At the time it was said that other proceedings would be taken against them.

The trains from the northwestern part of the state yesterday morning and evening brought in witnesses to be examined by the grand jury. From Alliance came J. B. Kennedy, E. J. Dettlein, J. G. Moore, C. P. Green, J. W. Newell, Mrs. Margaret Davis, Margaret Haggerty, E. Stewart, J. H. Cantlin, Thomas O'Keefe, land commissioner at Alliance; C. H. Murphy and W. O. Barnes. Other witnesses are from Ellsworth, Chadron, Crawford and other towns up that way.

DOCTORS FOR MEN

HONEST, CAPABLE AND RELIABLE

Knowsledge specialty work is called for and demanded; notably as when the sufferer's life or health is endangered. It is then the best treatment medical science affords should be sought for. Private diseases and weaknesses, which are so prevalent among men, are their worst enemies. They produce starting weakness, cause debilitating drains and great physical and mental torture. They eventually destroy sexual instincts, cause agonizing urinary troubles and rob men of priceless manhood and strength. Neglect or improper treatment have been the means of blighting the most radiant hopes, rendering marriage unhappy and business a failure.

Many sufferers from this class of troubles are buying ready-made remedies at drug stores, and then wonder why they don't get well. Others experiment with "Free Treatment" and "Quick Cure" schemes, and in the end find their disease much aggravated. Do you not now realize that the only way you can hope to get cured is to receive the individual attention of specialists of recognized ability and experience, such as we are? The physicians connected with the State Medical Institute are eminently qualified to advise, direct and treat such cases as come within our specialty, and when you avail yourself of our services you are assured of honest, skillful and successful treatment.

We cure safely and thoroughly: Stricture, Varicocele, Emissions, Nervo-Sexual Debility, Impotency, Blood Poison (Syphilis), Rectal, Kidney and Urinary Diseases and all diseases and weaknesses of men due to evil habits, excesses, self-abuse or the result of specific or private diseases. FREE CONSULTATION AND EXAMINATION. Office hours: 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. Sundays, 10 to 1 only.
