JOHN I. MARTIN IN CROWD

Veteran St. Louis Politician Holds an Audience with Mayor Dahlgren.

HORDES PRESS EXECUTIVE FOR JOBS

Democratic Sergeant-at-Arms Says Some Nice Things of Omaha, Bryan and Our Own Jim.

Mayor Dahlgren's callers Friday morning were so numerous the doors of the executive chamber had to be locked about 10:45 and the congestion gradually thinned out. The throngs were made up of people of every kind and condition and both sexes. The great majority came on the obvious business of urging appointments for themselves or friends. The mayor's absence from the city for a day and a half was said to excite the job-hunters to more vigorous attack. Any day the regiments formed with determination and exhausted the time of the executive and the seating and standing capacity of his rooms.

Activity on the part of the mayor, assisted by his office force enabled the re-opening of the doors after a short respite.

John I. Martin of St. Louis. Among the callers was Colonel John I. Martin of St. Louis, known to the nation as sergeant-at-arms of all the Democratic national conventions of the last decade and of the future indefinitely. Colonel Martin began his career as chief police officer of national conventions when Tilden was nominated and has maintained it ever since. He is still sergeant-at-arms to the Democratic national executive committee and as such will wield the mace at the next convention.

Colonel Martin is active in the practice of law in St. Louis and has been out to Hastings and other Nebraska towns in connection with his business. Returning home he planned to visit a daughter in Chicago, to visit his old friend, R. L. Metcalfe of the Commoner at Lincoln and personally to congratulate Jim Dahlgren, whom he has known for the last twenty years, in connection with the Omaha city election. In spite of the mob besieging the mayor the colonel got to him and the two had an enjoyable little visit. The colonel's opinion of the mayor is very high and he is not backward in expressing it.

Mayor Who is on the Square.

"You've got a mayor who is on the square," declared Colonel Martin. "I have observed him in politics as national committee man from this state for many years. No man on the committee has more personal friends among its members than Jim Dahlgren. He has executive ability, is an orator, is honest and his word is better than the proverbial bond."

"Bryan? Well, in Nebraska I haven't talked Bryan, but the German farmers and others whom I rubbed up against talked Bryan to me. Some had voted against him before. Now they say they want to get out and work to make him president. There is no question but he is stronger with the nation than ever before. If he has made mistakes they have been of the head and not of the heart. His wonderfully maintained leadership of the party for ten years is proof of his greatness."

Know Bryan as a Boy.

"I knew Bryan when he was a boy in college. I knew his father when the latter was a judge of the circuit court at Salem, Ill. The elder Bryan, too, was a fine character. He was a man who would sit up all night poring over law books and documents rather than wrong a man in the slightest. He was a man who got by getting down on his knees and praying to the Almighty for help, quietly and unostentatiously, yet in a way that no one who witnessed the scene could help being impressed by."

"I would like to bid for the next Democratic national convention. Of course Chicago will go after it hard. I see no good reason why Omaha should not have it if you could provide a structure capable of caring for 20,000 to 30,000 persons. The manner in which Omaha took care of the visitors to the Transcontinental exposition shows the city can handle the crowds—that is by opening private homes. Recalling the Omaha exposition, I want to say that in my judgment no single factor in the west contributed so much to the success of the 'triumph world's fair as it did. The triumph of Omaha was the aid and help of St. Louis. Then you sent train loads to us daily during our fair and St. Louis appreciates all these things, too."

STAPLES AND DENNIS TRIAL

Old Case Over False Imprisonment Resulting from Bank Failure Comes Up.

The trial of the case of A. Staples against Charles H. Dennis and others for false arrest and imprisonment will be resumed before Judge Mungler in the United States circuit court Saturday morning.

The case is one growing out of the Chamberlain bank failure at Tecumseh four or five years ago, wherein it is charged that Cody came into the possession of a note of the Chamberlain bank fraudulently. Cody was arrested and put in jail at Tecumseh, but was shortly after released. He immediately brought suit against the officials of Johnson county for false arrest and imprisonment and the cases after various delays was brought to the United States court because Cody was a resident of Michigan.

The remainder of the petit jury has been excused until Monday, June 4.

June 15 it is expected, the district court docket will be taken up and cases set for trial. These trials will be largely of the cases now pending under indictments from the November, 1905, and previous grand juries.

The cases noted for trial on the docket number sixty-one. A considerable number of them has been disposed of and others may be noted. At least forty of them will come to trial during the present term of court. These do not include the indictments returned by the present grand jury and it is to be questioned whether all of the land cases will be tried at this term, although the government is ready to proceed to trial. The delay, if any, will be caused by the defendants. The present term may close about July 10 and an adjourned term be called for September, when it is thought the land fencing cases may be reached.

District Attorney Goss and Special District Attorney Rush may go to St. Paul, week after next, to argue against the appeal in the Krause brothers case. In the circuit court of appeals, should the cases now pending before the grand jury extend into week after next, Mr. Rush may not go.

MOTOR CAR EXCITES THE EAST

McKeen's Seventh Product Attracts Great Attention All Along the Route.

Motor car No. 7, the last vehicle to be turned out by Superintendent McKeen of the Union Pacific, which left Omaha a week ago Friday for its trip to New York, arrived at Jersey City Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. The trip of 1,490 miles, was made in six days, running by daylight only, which was an average of over 250 miles a day for twelve hours running time. The car was wired to Mr. McKeen that the car excited great attention all along the route and that a splendid trip was made, the last day's journey being 325 miles, which was made in a little over twelve hours. The car was stopped each night and was inspected by thousands. The car will make exhibition runs out of New York.

"DESERVING OF PRAISE."

Berg, Swanson & Co.'s Phenomenal Success as Outfitters for Men and Boys.

One of Omaha's leading clothing stores worthy of mention and congratulations is that of Berg & Swanson, who are located at the northeast corner of Fifteenth and Douglas streets. Four years ago when this firm started in business together they occupied a storeroom 42x12 feet, covering one floor and in the same location, known as the dead corner to trade. Today they possess space 62x12 feet and occupy the first and second floors.

This beautiful retail store is devoted exclusively to the sale of clothing, furnishings and hats, it having one of the most modern clothing salerooms in the city. Every convenience is to be obtained when you enter this store, from the large well-lighted and ventilated rooms to the new addition of eight large electric fans, which have just been added for the comfort of their patrons as well as for their salesmen. Four very fine show cases have also been added, which are placed on the outside of the building. The one at the entrance is the largest of its kind in the United States and is known as the octagon style. It contains forty-eight electric lights and is very handsome. Berg & Swanson have spared no money in purchasing stock, therefore keep the best and up-to-date of everything, marked at lowest prices and giving their patrons the benefit of any underpriced purchases. One is always glad to buy in this store, as they are given the best kind of treatment. The salesmen are very courteous and are given instructions to exchange or refund money if goods are not satisfactory, making it in every way pleasant for one to do shopping in their store. By their conscientious working and ever willing disposition to look after the welfare of their customers Berg & Swanson have made themselves very popular and consequently have built up a business which this city is proud to own and which financially is increasing each day.

LIMB WASTED WITH ECZEMA

Obliged to Lie With Limbs Higher Than Head—Suffered Untold Agonies and Could Not Walk—Doctor Said It Was the Worst Case he Ever Saw.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"I received your letter asking for information about using the Cuticura Remedies. I used them for eczema. The doctor said it was the worst case he ever saw. It was on both limbs, from the knees to the ankles. We tried everything the doctors knew of, but the Cuticura Remedies did the most good. I am obliged to you for my limbs higher than my head, for the pain was so terrible I could not walk. I suffered untold agonies. One limb wasted away a great deal smaller than the other, there was so much discharge from it. I found the Cuticura Remedies very soothing, and I still keep them in the house. I am very thankful to say that I am cured, and you can publish this statement if you wish. I found the Cuticura Remedies all that you say they are. I hope that you may be spared many years to make the Cuticura Remedies for the benefit of persons suffering from the torture of skin diseases, such as I had. I remain, yours respectfully, Mrs. Golding, Box 8, Ayr, Canada, June 6, 1905."

CURED OF CHAPPED HANDS

"I have used the Cuticura Soap for chapped hands, which I had been troubled with for about three years. I suffered intense pain and itching. I used nearly two cakes of the Cuticura Soap, and my hands were completely cured and have never troubled me since. I also used the Cuticura Remedies for the blood at the same time. I can recommend the Cuticura Remedies to others suffering the same. Chas. Young, Plattville, Ontario, Canada, Sept. 29, 1905."

LITTLE BOY IS FOUND DRUNK

Nine-Year-Old Lad Discovered by Sister on Street Unconscious from Whisky.

Abraham Rosenthal, a 9-year-old boy who lives with his mother at 108 South Eleventh street, within the shadow of the police station, is to be investigated by the juvenile court because he went on a marvelous drunk last Sunday. Abraham, stationing himself in an alley where he had secreted a bottle of whisky, invited Susa Tannab, another Jewish boy, 11 years old, to participate in the orgy. Susa was satisfied with one drink, but Abraham surrounded something like a half-pint of the firewater. Results were immediate and disastrous. His little sister on her way home from Sunday school at the City Mission found him lying on the sidewalk totally lost to the things of this world and all others. She was trying to get him home when Miss McGee of the Mission came along and discovered Abraham's shocking condition. The boy was taken home and proceeded to do battle with a grim monster called Death. Assisted by physicians the boy won.

Superintendent Ellison of the Nebraska humane society investigated and was told by Abraham's mother that the boy was an incorrigible liar. He has been employed to run errands at the Millard hotel pharmacy and asserted that "a man" had supplied him with the whisky. The superintendent found no trace of the "man," but learned that Abraham had been seen poking around the cellar of the drug store. It is supposed he stole the whisky.

Susa deserted his companion in crime early, but he, too, has been apprehended. He will be arraigned on a delinquency charge, but Abraham will have to answer to accusations of being both incorrigible and delinquent.

OPENING OF CROW AGENCY

Discussion as to Whether Whole Reservation of Million Acres is Involved.

The Associated Press dispatches carry the information that the Crow agency is to be thrown open to settlers at once. Registration may be made at Billings or Sheridan from June 15 to June 25 and the drawings take place July 2. It is not known whether the whole reservation of 1,090,000 acres is to be opened at this time or whether only 25,000 acres of the Huntley project along the Yellowstone, which is now all ready for irrigation will be opened at this time. Nearly all the land in the Crow reservation is susceptible of irrigation, the water to be brought from the Big Horn canon of the Big Horn river. This, however, will be the work of several years and the appropriation has not been made from the money set apart by the government. Many people probably will go to Billings, as some of the finest lessons in irrigation are to be seen at that place.

This opening, according to the present schedule, will take precedence to the Shoshone or Wind River reservation, which will be opened August 15.

JUDSON PLEASED WITH TRIP

President of Commercial Club Says the Invasion of Kansas Has Been Profitable.

President F. W. Judson of the Commercial club left the trade excursion party Thursday night and returned to Omaha. He said the club met with the warmest sort of a reception all along the route and the members felt they had accomplished much in the interests of Omaha's trade. Instead of soliciting business, as the Kansas City and Lincoln people did, the Omaha men thought it best to make friendly calls and leave the rest to their travelling men. Mr. Judson was particularly struck at the good feeling toward Omaha shown by the towns in

PLAN OF VETERINARIAN LAW

Purpose is Not Particular Fight on Persons Without Certain Diplomas, Says Ellison.

"The arrest of A. L. Van Gordon, charged with violating the veterinarian's law by using the words 'veterinary and dental surgeon' without a diploma from a college or certificate from the state veterinary board, is not for the purpose of trying to put out of business all persons without diplomas or certificates who are so practicing," said Superintendent Ellison of the Nebraska humane society. "The law passed by the last legislature is not broad enough for that. It limits the right of veterinarians to use the word in describing themselves, but does not restrict anyone from applying himself to the care and treatment of sick or disabled horses. The suit in this instance is a friendly one and is for the purpose of testing the law."

"In my opinion the law should be broader and should exclude from practice all persons not college graduates or who have passed an examination before the state board."
