Hanks of Otos and Hall of Lancaster Talked of as Likely Candidates for the Democratic Nomination.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, May 26.-(Special.)-The state-ment issued to the public this morning by George W. Berge, announcing his candidacy for the democratic nomination for governor has caused considerable discussion among Lincoln democrats and Mr. Berge may get ready tor a fight. During the last few days a number of democrats from out in the state have been here and they have expressed themselves as favoring a man like H. H. Hanks of Otos county for the job. These democrats say Hanks belongs to no faction of the party and is clean and able and therefore they believe he would make a good race.

On the other hand, democrats in Lincoin tuday are rubbing it in on Berge. They seem to think that he has forever killed himself by his announcement. One promisent democrat said today:

"Berge says he is a candidate before the people's independent party convention and the democratic convention. No. populist convention has been called, and if it is called the pops couldn't muster more than pietion and if nothing serious happens it dozen or two delegates. Then Berge will be ready to turn over to the county shows entirely too much egotism in his board next week. No doubt but there will statement. It is all T and the people have be hundreds of people from here down confidence in 'me.' The announcement of there when the big dam at the south end in Berge probably will bring out a number of dynamited. Last night, while the watchother candidates. gram.)-A rather sensational divorce suit was disposed of by Judge Kelligar in the district court last evening when he set aside the decree in the case of Thomas Sample against Sump O. Sample, at present a resident of South Boston. In 1905 Sample secured a divorce from his wife without personal service being made upon her. In a few weeks he married Mrs. Grace Rackley of this city, who had a short time before secured a divorce from her husband.

Mrs. Sample No. 1, learning of the marriage, filed a petition to have the divorce decree set aside. Judge Kelligar sustained the petion and application and issued an order that Thomas Sample pay a certain amount at stated times for the support of his former wife and children. By the judgment of the court the marriage relations between Thomas Sample and wife No. 2 must cease. The principals in the affair are well-known residents of Beatrice.

Mr. Galusha at once called up Superintendent Greene and reported the receipt of the letter. Dr. Greene made an examination of Bayles and pronounced him sane and not a fit subject for the asylum. Mr. Galusha communicated with the county clerk of Webster county and had the old man sent to the Soldiers' home. It was reported here that family trouble caused the old man to be sent to the hospital.

Mortensen Will Not Accept. If the members of the State Normal board think they have selected a secretary who will stand hitched in the person of one State Treasurer Peter Mortensen they are hadly mistaken. Even though the big majority of the board, Ludden, Majors and Gregg, voted as a unit for the treasurer, thus firmly establishing peace on the board, Mr. Mortensen will not accept the honor. Superintendent McBrien still insists he has quit the job, but just who will finally have to take if is a question which may be settled at the next meeting to be held at Kearney. The doctors and county officers represented one side, the lawyers and bankers the other. Mayor George held down third for the bankers, and succeeded in multing several balls in a very able manner: while Mesers Kuho, Van Antwerp and Rev. John Chamberlain, of the Metho-dist church, did some artistic twirling in the pitcher's box, ably supported by Frank Skillman and Dr. Bartholomew. When Umpire Gadd called the game at the end of the fifth inning, allowing thirty minutes for supper, the score stood: 5 to 9, in favor of the bankers.
