AT THE PLAY HOUSES.

The Manxman at the Krug.

Last night the Wolfe Stock company opened for the summer season at the Krug, presenting Hall Caine's "The Manxman," a dramatic version of his own novel. Mr. Caine is a trifle unfortunate in his dramatization, for he does not raise the interest in the play to the pitch attained and sustained by the book. The opportunity for increasing calamity and multiplication of incident is missing on the stage, and the atmosphere that surrounded Pete and Kate and Philip can hardly be established in the limitations of the acting version. But enough of the original is preserved to give to it a peculiar pathos and a poignant sincerity that is the marked feature of the Caine works. As Kate Cregan, in her unhappy love and unwelcome marriage, Miss Grace Huff has the best part she has yet been seen in, one that calls forth her real ability. She very nearly realizes all that is in the role, and without overacting reaches the climax with apparently some force in reserve. Her scenes with Philip and Pete are very well done. Mr. Frank G. Long plays the part of Pete Quilliam with easy confidence, reaching his effects naturally and certainly, and making the big-hearted, loving, loyal Pete a most admirable man. Mr. Robbins doesn't exhaust the possibilities of Philip Christian. Nellie Long is seen for the first time with the company, in the role of Nancy Joe, and proves herself a sprightly lass. Fred Frink and Mr. Wolfe carry the comedy with excellent results. The piece was very well received by a large audience, and the opening augurs well for the success of the engagement. "The Manxman" will be the bill for the rest of the week, with a matinee on Saturday.

Kitchen Gets Back Building.

The Kitchen Bros. Hotel company has decided back to James B. Kitchen the old Herald building, transferred by him to the company a year ago. It is a building of a twenty-two-foot front, adjoining the hotel on the west and used as an annex. Some of the stockholders objected to the purchase, with the result that it has gone back

FUNKHOUSER BACKS UP AGAIN

Having Heard from David Hill, He Changes Front on Gas Tank Ordinance.

Back, who-o-o-up! Councilman Funkhouser says he acted under false impressions concerning the gas tank ordinance; that he has made a personal examination of the matter and is now heartily opposed to the measure, which he will help to kill Tuesday night at the regular council meeting. Mr. Funkhouser says he was not aware he was breaking faith with the Druid Hill Improvement club, as he thought that organization objected merely to the construction of the tank in the north part of the city. "Mr. Brucker and myself went to the gas plant and made a personal inspection of it and the surrounding property," said the councilman from the Eleventh. "I am now convinced the construction of the reservoir would be an injustice to the surrounding property owners and I would fight it just as they are doing if I were in their places. The ordinance was handed to me by former Councilman O'Brien and endorsed by a petition of business men, and I thought it was all right. I have found out I was mistaken, and will so report."

JUST ONE HUSBAND TOO MANY

On Grounds of Having Two Spouses Woman Loses Second by Divorce.

On the ground his wife had a husband living at the time of their marriage, George Timm was granted a decree of divorce from Lenat Timm by Judge Kennedy. Mrs. Timm did not appear to defend the charge. The petition filed by Timm alleged she was the wife of James A. Canfield at the time of her marriage to Timm and that Canfield got a divorce from her in Leavenworth, Kan., over a year after the marriage. Harry Conrad was granted a decree of

SURPRISE FOR THE SETTLERS

Interesting Treat Awaits Strangers Who May Go to Shoshone Opening.

W. Armour Thompson of Thermopolis while in Omaha Friday waxed warm over the future of his coming city. "One of the greatest surprises in store for the people who go to Wyoming for the drawing of the Shoshone lands," said Mr. Thompson, "will be the sight of the famous hot springs of Thermopolis. The history of these springs is romantic. The government gained control of them through negotiations with the Shoshone Indians by treaty with their great chief, Washakie. Although an uneducated Indian, this product of the mountains was wise enough to insist upon the insertion of a clause in the contract that a portion of the waters of these hot springs should be forever free for public use. The government bought 100 square miles of this land and made it a reserve that the afflicted should share the blessings without price. "A handsome stone bath house has been built by the state for public use and as soon as the Burlington railroad extends its line from Worland south to Thermopolis, a distance of thirty-five miles, the railroads and capitalists are sure to take up these springs and make the place one of the most famous in the world. The big spring boils out of the bowels of the earth at the base of a flat-topped hill, which rises 250 feet above. It runs through channels which its own waters have cut to tumble over picturesque falls into the Big Horn river, making a fall of forty feet. The water goes over these falls at the rate of 18,000 gallons of water, heated to 135 degrees Fahrenheit, every twenty-four hours. The waters have been examined by all the medical experts in water analysis and pronounced the equal of any yet discovered."

STICKNEY HEARS IT, TOO

After Conversing with John L. Webster He Says He Heard Rosewater Talk.

A. B. Stickney, president of the Chicago Great Western, spent a few hours in Omaha Friday afternoon, stopping off on the road through. He said his visit had no special interest and that he was simply passing through. He said he understood Mr. Ives had been carrying matters in the dry goods situation, although he knew nothing new in the situation. He was scheduled to leave on the 8:30 train for St. Paul. When asked if he knew anything new, Mr. Stickney replied: "The next news I hear is the talk of Mr. Rosewater's going to the United States senate. I have heard it from a good many people since I have been in the city, and they seem to think his chances are good." Mr. Stickney had just finished talking to J. L. Webster.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Ralph W. Breckenridge returned from St. Paul Friday. Ed Wenzel of Eagle, Neb., was in Omaha on business Friday. It was reported Friday morning that Dr. J. H. Brighley seemed brighter than for several days. His son is spending much of his time at the patient's bedside at St. Joseph's hospital. Charles E. Walte, who has resigned his position as cashier of the Omaha National bank, has announced that he will go to Lincoln to become vice president and treasurer of the Hargrave Mercantile corporation, a wholesale grocery concern. Mrs. Irving P. Baxter has gone to Liverpool, N. Y., where she was summoned by a telegram announcing the serious illness of her mother. Later reports indicated the patient was growing better, but Mrs. Baxter probably will remain in the east all summer.

ORCHARD HILL IMPROVERS

Pleasant Session of Club Held at the Wagner Home.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS PUT UNDER WAY

Miss McCartney Again Endorsed for Milk Inspector and a Long-Waited Trolley Extension Outlined.

The Orchard Hill Improvement club held a meeting Thursday night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. Wagner, 382 Charles street, in which business and social pleasure were combined. This club has a large membership of women, and they were much in evidence at this meeting. Floyd Campbell, president of the club, presided, and the business proceedings, with Miss McCartney as secretary. The secretary was directed to prepare a petition to the city council for the construction of a sidewalk and suitable crossing on Franklin street between Thirtieth and Thirty-third streets, not alone for the general accommodation of the public, but for the children attending the Franklin school as well. The matter of getting the play grounds on Charles street and Thirty-eighth in proper shape for the summer with new swings and other attractions for the children was discussed, and the suggested improvements ordered made at the expense of the city by the play grounds committee. The street railway committee reported that it had received a tip from the street railway company that the Ames avenue line is to be extended to Fontanelle park, thence around by the Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, and thence connect with the Walnut Hill line, and that this work is likely to be done this summer. The committee on prize awards for the best kept lawns, recommended that owing to the lateness of the season in getting the lawns in proper shape that the money at one time appropriated for prizes for the best kept lawns be not so appropriated this season, but that it be devoted to the purchase of lawn mowers and other equipment of the playgrounds. The recommendation of the committee was adopted. The committee appointed to confer with Mayor Dahlgren relative to the recommendation of the club for the appointment of Miss McCartney as milk inspector reported that it had been unable to meet with the mayor thus far, but a letter had been sent him embodying the indorsement of the club for Miss McCartney for that position. The committee was instructed to continue its work and labor diligently for the appointment of Miss McCartney.

Agricultural Society's Plan.

G. W. Hervey, a member of the club, and also a member of the Douglas County Agricultural society, submitted a verbal report relative to the co-operation of the work of the City Improvement league with that of the Agricultural society and believed that it would prove mutually advantageous. He stated that at a recent meeting of the Agricultural society the city of Omaha had been made a precinct of the Agricultural society for county fair purposes, and advised that the city and the various improvement clubs participate in the contest for premiums. He believed that each of the clubs could secure one or more of the premiums offered. He made the further interesting statement that 75 per cent of the vine products seeds sold in the United States are produced in Douglas county, in the vicinity of Waterloo and Valley. He urged that Omaha precinct make an earnest effort to be represented by special booths at the county fair to be held in connection with the Ak-Sar-Ben carnival this fall.

Social Hour is Pleasant.

The business part of the meeting having been finished, the gathering was then turned over to Mrs. Wagner and an interesting and entertaining musical and literary program followed. Those participating in the program were Miss Gertrude Weeth, who gave a couple of piano solos; Miss Alice Johnson, who sang a song; Mrs. C. D. Hutchinson gave a recitation, followed with a tenor solo by Mr. W. H. Wilber of the World-Herald, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Wagner; song by Mrs. G. Chandler, a recitation by Mrs. Berge, a baritone solo by Hal Fink of the Daily News, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Fink, and concluding with a recitation by Master Joe Berger.

CONNELL GETS THE PLACE

Dahlgren's Nominee for Health Commissioner is Confirmed by the Balby Council.

The appointment of Dr. R. W. Connell as health commissioner was confirmed by the council at an adjourned meeting held Friday morning. Tuesday night the council turned down the appointment decisively, but in the meantime Dr. Connell and Mayor Dahlgren together succeeded in winning over a number of the councilmen. The rejection was reconsidered on the motion of Elzasser, and seven councilmen, or sufficient, voted for confirmation. Brucker, Davis, Funkhouser, Sheldon and Johnson maintained their original attitude. This makes four appointments confirmed, the others being City Electrician Michaelson, Street Commissioner Flynn and City Abstractor Hartley. Reports that City Engineer Rosewater will finally be confirmed were repeated Friday. It was said the engineer had complied with the demand to appoint democrats to the subordinate positions in his departments, provided the candidates were competent. Many minor offices remain to be disposed of and Mayor Dahlgren's troubles are by no means ended. To illustrate the mob that hungers for the public crib it is said that 108 applications have been filed for the place of license inspector. The salary is $100 a month.

The New International Encyclopaedia

Prepared and published by one of the oldest and best known publishing houses in the United States.

The Editors-in-Chief, Daniel Coit Gilman, LL. D., Harry Thurston Peck, Ph. D., L. H. D., and Frank Moore Colby, M. A., were selected as men who, from ability and connection with the greatest educational institutions, were considered peculiarly fitted for the work.

They were assisted by nearly 400 of America's most eminent scholars and specialists. The result of their labors is an Encyclopaedia, new from cover to cover, which instantly took its place ahead of all that preceded it. Educators, librarians, scientists, preachers, historians and men of letters unite in pronouncing it

The Most Complete, Comprehensive and Accurate Encyclopaedia in English

That is why the New International received the Grand Prize—the highest award—at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

That is why, though only recently completed, The New International has already been purchased by more than 2000 Universities, Colleges and Libraries, who bought it because they required the best Encyclopaedia extant. Their judgment is a safe guide for you.

A Complete, Comprehensive Library

Hundreds of special and regular contributors were employed constructing the NEW INTERNATIONAL, each one an authority in his special field; and about a million dollars was expended before the volumes came from the press. The difference between its price and the price of "bargain" works of reference between the cost of volumes and the price paid for authorship of the highest possible standing.

Beware of "bargain" works of reference! Demand the standing of the house that issues them, give their contents a crucial examination before you accept them in exchange for your money.

Two Interesting Books, Free

One is the famous 25-cent Question Book, which contains every-day questions you ought to know how to answer, but half of which you probably cannot answer off-hand. This little book is to show the usefulness and practicability of the foremost encyclopaedia in existence to day.

The other book contains pages descriptive of The New International Encyclopaedia, specimen pages, facsimile illustrations from The New International, showing the work's scope, and the easy payment plan by which one can secure this great work with a small initial payment.

It will take you less than a minute to fill in the coupon. Mail it and you will receive at once these two valuable books.
