NEW PASTOR'S FIRST SERMON

Rev. Byron H. Stauffer, D. D., Greeted Cordially at Pirst Methodist.

PREACHES ON JESUS CHRIST AS KING

Monarch de Facto as Well as de Jure, Who Conquered Every Foe, Not Even Excepting Denth.

A large congregation greeted Rev. Byron H. Stauffer, D. D., yesterday morning a his first appearance in the pulpit of the First Methodist church as the successor of Rev. E. Combie Smith. Dr. Stauffer referred at the close of the sermon to the change in pastors and expressed the hope the new relationship would prove profitable. He requested all the members of the congregation to make themselves day morning, in which he said; known to him and at the close of the service he shook hands with a large number of people who formed in line in front of the pulpit.

Dr. Stauffer took as his text Revelation xix:10, "And He hath on His vesture and on His thigh a name written 'King of Kings and Lord of Lords.' In part he

A king is usually a king because he is the son of his father. This is the least complimentary thing we can say about him. Then there are kings who are kings because they are named by a decree of a monarch. If there is no other reason except this one why Christ is king I should give it to you just the same. The sonship of Christ is the cornerstone of Methodism today. But I like to read of kings who have better reasons for being king than that they were the sons of kings. Those who made their own kingdom; they attract our attention more than those who have been born princes. I also like to read of Jesus Christ who made his own kingdom. I like to think of Jesus as my king because He fought the awful battle with old King Death, your enemy and mine. My Savior came down and fought a battle with sin and He won and in the garden of Gethsemans He fought with self and won and in the court of Pilate he fought with argument and won and on the cross He fought with temptation and won and finally in the tomb of Joseph right to my obetsance and I crown Him my king.

But a king without a kingdom is a joke. A king must not only be king de jure, but he must be king de facto. The last test king of kings, maintained His title to His Crown? Would any country which is not lighted by Him be fit to live in? His kingdom is attested by millions of children and existence, but by taking such action and worshipers, by thousands of diplomats. nurses and deaconesses who are teachers for the kingdom of Jesus Christ, If you are not satisfied with this I could name over the many countries that do Him homage. Everywhere the cause of Christ is stretching out and as people are living better they are doing Him homage more and more. Every time a man or woman is made better, every time a child is touched Christ is crowned king."

WHAT WILL YOU DO WITH LIFE? Text of R. B. A. McBride to Graduating Cinas.

"The harvest is picntiful and the laborers are few" was the text of a sermon on the subject of "What Will You Do With Your Life," delivered by Rev. R. B. A. McBride, pastor of the Central United Presbyterian church, Sunday morning, the sermon having special reference to those ing and going forth into the world, a sermon apropos of the closing of the school year.

"This is the season of commencement when all sorts of schools are sending forth the young men and young women with diplomas of different kinds. This is the season when young men and young women are asking themselves what they shall do. Some are asking this of life. Every human being follows a perquestion too soon, some who had better go on for some time in training and prep- ard of life, and if he is not taking Christ gration for Hfe's work. I plead not so much for a choosing of what lead you adversary, a course which means sure dewill follow in life, but that you look on the question in the right light, in the right attitude, in the fear of the Lord, asking God where you can live the noblest

DUTY DONE ROAD TO HAPPINESS Sure Boute to Arrive at Peace of Mind.

Says Dr. Mann. "He that findeth his life will lose it and he who loseth his life for My sake will find," were the words from Matthew used as a text for his discourse by Rev. Newton M. Mann at Unity church Sun-

"We are brought again to that curious fact which meets us so often in our religious meditations, that we reach the objects of our desire not by a direct, but by a circuitous route. We desire to be happy, but the pursuit of happiness as an end is attended with most unhappy results. The pleasure seeker is the one of whom it can best be said the longer he seeks the less he finds.

'The way to be happy is to do well one's part in life, to seek health of body and mind and favorable conditions for the satisfaction of high desires and aspirations; in short to aim at duty and development, and take happiness as the incidental bonus that nature accords for Even development may justly be objected to as a proximate aim, since we reach development only through the upon that order and the Modern Woodmen pursuit of the means of development. The pline, but he gets it, not by studying discipline or by learning to read and write and cipher. He arrives at the goal at last without having had any of the time much idea where he was going to.

"So, to live happily in the present and in the future is something to be desired; but to aim directly at this is generally to miss it-to set one's heart on any mere prolongation of a comfortable existence is most ignoble. History offers few less park was thronged with visitors before the edifying spectacles than that of the aged Ponce de Leon setting out, after having inaugurated Spanish misrule in the West He fought with death and won. That was a direct pursuit of immortality; all such pursuits must end like that in nothing better than ghostly visions, shallow and vacuous imaginings, which leave in we have to make is, Has Jesus Christ, their train a doubt whether immortality is worth having.

"Life present and future is to be had not by seeking ways and means to prolong seeking such objects as shall make existence of some consequence."

NEW MEMBERS ENTER NEW CHURCH Old and Young Unite with Kountse

Memorial Lutheran. The new Kountze Memorial edifice was the scene yesterday for the first time of the ceremony of the reception of members into the church. Twenty-five adults took the vows which united them to the church and received the right hand of fellowship The number was thus unusually large for the reason that all who in the last few months have decided to become church members have preferred to wait until the consecration of the new building, and help make the first week of its history a memorable one. Four infants received the rites of baptism. Seventy-five boys and girls, the largest class in the history of the church, were best stayer in a half-mile confirmed. It is customary to hold the confirmation services once each year, on Palm Sunday, but this year the event was postponed until the completion of the new Seventy-Five Employes of Brandels Enjoy Fine Outing at Sarpy MIII.

Seventy-five employes of J. L. Brandeis & ions forgot the blandishments of the bargain squares and banished the cares of special sales yesterday at their annual stag picnic at Sarpy Mills. The affair was conducted under the name of the Brandels Athletic club, an organization that shows signs of life only at these annual intervals. A band wagon and two decorated carry alls left the Brandels store shortly After o'clock in the morning, with a bugler signaling the advance and a Dixle band of colored musicians keyed up to a point of musical abandon.

A double-header base ball game of intense interest was played. In the first game the 'Fashionable Suits' beat the "Bonnet Silks" by a score of 8 to 7. In the second contest, the "Brandels Specials" trimmed the "Florsheim Shoes" to the tune of 8 to 7.

The hurdle race was won by Harry Plumbeck, while Jack Evans won the 100-yard dash in something over 0:10 flat. The chief novelty was a horse race with Phil Aarons. Hugh Delaney, Roy Wells and Bob Figley astride mettlesome vaterans from the livery barn. Bob Figley's charger proved the

Inspection Will Be Made Closer Since So Much Adulteration is Found.

"All the creameries have received communications from the government, which make it certain that butter will be inspected this year more closely than ever before," said Manager Hooper of the local house of the Fairmont Creamery company

"Although I do not know of any adulterated butter having been shipped from Nebraska I have no doubt it has been shipped and am not surprised to read that some of it has been seized by the authorities in New York. I look for more seizures before the summer is over.

"In most cases the adulteration consists in having more than 16 per cent of water in the butter. All the larger creameries now have chemists to test the butter to see that the moisture does not run over this percentage, but some of the smaller concerns which cannot afford to pay a chemist will be constantly in danger. It is difficult indeed, especially in warm weather, to keep excessive moisture from the but-yesterday. County Attorney Slabaugh said he had not given the proposal to have an operation performed much thought and he could not say whether he would give his consenor not. It is considered doubtful if Mrs. Hayes will submit to an operation in case she is forced to go on trial. She gave her consent in the first place only because she wanted to be released from custody and, it is understood, was promised immunity from prosecution if she would return the jewel.

County Attorney Slabaugh was disposed to insist on a trial yesterday.
